NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Cape of Good Hope—South Coast.

IT is hereby notified that a Light Tower is being built about two hundred to three hundred yards within the pitch of a low point (Seal Point), situated one-and-three-quarter miles westward of Cape St. Francis, to be hereafter called "Cape St. Francis Lighthouse."

The Tower is a cylindrical stone structure, ninety-one feet high, with keepers' quarters attached at base, and is situated in latitude 34° 22′ 30″ south, and longitude 24° 50′ 20″ east of Greenwich.

It is intended to display a second order Holophotal Revolving White Light, flashing at intervals of twenty seconds, with focal plane one hundred and one-and-a-half feet above the base of the Tower, and one hundred and eighteen feet above the level of high water.

The light will be visible in clear weather about sixteen and three-quarters sea miles from the deck of a vessel fifteen feet above the sea. It will command the coast uninterruptedly to the westward, but will be cut off to the eastward by Cape St. Francis on the line N. 53° E. true, or would not be visible from the eastward on a bearing more southerly than S. 53° W. true.

The nearest existing lights are Cape Recife, about forty-five miles to the eastward, and Mossel Bay (Cape St. Blaize), about one hundred and thirty-three miles to the westward.

The Tower will probably be ready for the reception of the Lenticular about January 1878, and the light may probably be exhibited some time between 1st March and 30th April 1878, of which due and precise notice will be given.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on Friday, the 16th November 1877, corresponding with 2nd Aughran 1284 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of these estates will be considered as the proprietor of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2. The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3. If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4. If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estates to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

CALCUTTA POST OFFICE, the 6th November 1877.

Simla, the 1st November 1877.

NOTICE is hereby given that an arrangement has been concluded for the exchange of parcels between India and the Straits Settlement.

On and after the 1*st December* 1877, parcels can be sent to places in the Straits Settlement under the rates and conditions given for that Settlement in the following revised set of rules, which, from the above-mentioned date, will supersede those issued under the Notification by the Financial Department, No. 2887, dated 15th September 1876:—

Overland Parcel Post.

(1).—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India (including Aden) under the conditions and rates of charge mentioned below for transmission to the following countries, viz.:—

Countries.	Rate of charge per lb or fraction thereof. Prepayment compulsory.	Remarks respecting special conditions, &c., applicable to particular countries.
	Annas.
The United Kingdom ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel as far as London, any additional charge which may become due on account of British custom duty or carriage beyond London being realised from the addressee. Parcels must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which, on examination of the declaration at Bombay, may be found to exceed this value will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the P. & O. S. N. Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations (Note.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.) The attention of the public is invited to the fact that the British Post Office has no connection with the Overland Parcel Post; all arrangements out of India are made by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and enquiries proceeding from the United Kingdom should be addressed to that Company's Office, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C. The rules governing the despatch of parcels from the United Kingdom to India are, however, published in the British Postal Guide, and exhibited in every British Post Office. Persons in India ordering goods to be sent out by parcel post may refer the sender to the above means of information about the transmission of parcels.
Ceylon	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. Parcels must not contain any jewellery. The route is viâ Tuticorin for Southern India and viâ Bombay for other parts of India: see Rule (4.)
The Straits, i. e.,—		The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. The ports of destination are free ports, so that no custom duty will be chargeable thereon.
Singapore	8
Penang
Malacca		The routes are by opium steamers (Jardine, Matheson, and Apcar), monthly through Calcutta, to Singapore: by B. I. S. N. Company fortnightly through Calcutta or Madras to Singapore, Penang, and Malacca: and by P. & O. S. N. Company fortnightly through Bombay to Singapore and Penang: see rule (4.)
Germany	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. See also rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Austria-Hungary ...
Denmark	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Sweden	8	The pre-payment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Norway
Switzerland
France	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value, and that the second or duplicate declaration should contain a statement of the weight (lb. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and should, if possible, be written in the French language. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
The Netherlands (Holland.)
Belgium

(2).—Every parcel should be securely packed in a close cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended. Parcels containing valuables should be sealed.

N. B.—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the Parcel Post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string; friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax-cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended; but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3).—Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

For the parcels addressed to—

- The United Kingdom ... } Only one declaration as above described is required.
- Ceylon ... } Only one declaration as above described is required.
- Straits ... ... } Only one declaration as above described is required.
- Germany ... } Only one declaration as above described is required.
- Austria-Hungary } Only one declaration as above described is required.
- Denmark ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
- Sweden ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
- Norway ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
- Switzerland ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
- France ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolahs) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.
- The Netherlands (Holland) ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolahs) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.
- Belgium ... ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolahs) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following especimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels:—

Specimen form of declaration.

Address of Parcel

THOMAS B. SMITH,

114, Piccadilly,

LONDON.

CONTENTS—

	Value. £ s. d.
1 Piece Puttoo Cloth	2 0 0
1 Rampore Chudder	2 10 0
Total ...	4 10 0

I declare the above to be a true statement of the contents and value.

(Sd.) A. R. ROBINSON,

Amritsar.

N. B.—Declarations for parcels intended for France, the Netherlands or Belgium should, in addition to the above, contain a statement of the weight (lb and ozs. or tolahs) of the contents. This may conveniently be done by adding the words "weight—lb—ozs.' underneath the total value and the words "and weight" at the end of the statement containing the declaration.

(4).—The parcel so addressed and the separate paper or papers above referred to should then be enclosed in a substantial outer cover This outer cover should be superscribed and addressed as follows:—

If addressed to Ceylon.

Overland Parcel Post. | Postage stamp to be affixed.

To
The Post Master, Tuticorin } *
or Bombay. }

or

If addressed to the Straits.

Overland Parcel Post | Postage stamp to be affixed.

To
The Post Master,
Calcutta } or Madras } †

or

If addressed to any other country.

Overland Parcel Post. | Postage stamp to be affixed.

To
The Post Master Bombay.

* N. B.—The address should be to Tuticorin if posted in Southern India, and to Bombay if posted in other parts of India.

† N. B.—The address to Calcutta or Madras or Bombay should be according to the locality of posting.

The outer cover must contain one parcel only: if more than one parcel be sent by the same sender, such parcel should be sent separately.

(5).—The parcel so made up must be fully pre-paid by means of postage stamps at the rate of 8 annas per lb (40 tolahs) or fraction of a lb., care being taken that the stamps adhere firmly to the cover

(6).—The parcel so made up must not exceed 50 lbs. (25 seers) in weight, or 2 feet in length by 1 foot in breadth or depth. It will be received at any Post Office at the hours fixed for the receipt of ordinary banghy parcels, the usual receipt being given to the sender without reference to the mode of packing prescribed in the case of inland parcels for which receipts are claimed.

(7).—On arrival at the Indian sea port of address, the Post Master will take off the outer covering, and forward the inside parcel and the accompanying declaration or declarations to the country of inside address.

(8).—It is forbidden to send in these parcels opium or any liquid or any substance or material of a dangerous damaging, or offensive kind.

(9).—In the case of parcels for or from Germany or Austria-Hungary and the foreign countries served through Germany, compensation will be given by the responsible Post Office to the sender for loss or damage sustained in transit (cases of sea risk or of vis major or of the own negligence of the sender in respect of packing or otherwise excepted). Such compensation will in no case exceed 1½ rupee for each lb. weight or fraction thereof in respect of parcels forwarded from India, and 3 marks or 1½ florins for each 500 grammes or fraction thereof in respect of parcels from Germany or Austria-Hungary. Should the sender desire it, the compensation will be paid to the addressee instead of to himself.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1876.

The Annual Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1876.

The Report for the previous year, with the orders of Government passed upon it.

THE number of lunatic asylums in Bengal was increased during the year by the opening of the Hazareebagh Asylum on the 26th May. Up to this time complaints had been constantly made of the overcrowded condition of the other asylums, and Sir Richard Temple took advantage of the removal of the prisoners from the district to the central jail to provide accommodation for about 250 lunatics. In according sanction to the establishment of the new asylum, the Government of India asked that due attention might be paid to the principles which should govern the reception of lunatics for maintenance and treatment at the public cost. There is reason to believe that these principles had been more or less lost sight of, and that a large number of persons had been received into asylums whose friends were perfectly well able to give them support and the requisite care, or whose condition was the temporary result of habits which rendered them unfitting objects for gratuitous medical treatment in public institutions. The attention of the district officers was prominently drawn to the subject, and instructions were issued which have had the effect of considerably reducing the number of admissions. The principle which has now taken the place of more or less indiscriminate admission is that persons suffering from the temporary results of sickness, intemperance, or debauchery, and those whom their friends ought to support, should be excluded from asylums, and that, in addition to criminal lunatics, those only should be received who are absolutely dangerous, or who, having no friends or resources, may be in the acute stage in which there is most hope of recovery from medical treatment. Enquiries were also instituted to ascertain to what extent lunatics had been received in asylums who would on this principle have been excluded. In many instances, of course, it would be a measure of extreme harshness to remove lunatics who under the present practice would have been refused admittance. All that can be done is to release those whose friends are willing to support them, and to guard against any laxity of practice in future. Some lunatics were made over to their friends during the year. Several have been similarly dealt with since the beginning of the current year, and enquiries are still in progress regarding others.

2. It has resulted from these measures that the tendency to increase of the asylum population, which on the 1st January 1870 stood at 746, and on 1st January 1876 at 1,147, has at length received a check. The number in confinement on the last day of the past year was 1,131, and, as has already been observed, several releases have since taken place and others are in contemplation. The total number of admissions was 329, and of re-admissions 37, against 384 and 34 in the previous year. The number of re-admissions, though shown as 37, was really only 26, as 11 persons re-admitted into the Hazareebagh Asylum were patients captured shortly after escape. The full effect of the Government orders is not observable in these returns, as they were not promulgated until the close of the first quarter. Of the 366 persons admitted and re-admitted, 258 were Hindoos, 92 were Mahomedans, 10 were Christians, and 6 fell under other designations. The proportion of males to females was about 4 to 1. Of the 26 bonâ-fide re-admissions 13 were cases of recurrent insanity, chiefly due to intoxication, received in the Dullunda Asylum. It may be questioned if a sufficiently strict adherence to the instructions of Government would not have led the Magistrates who passed the orders of admission in some of these cases to dispose otherwise of the insane persons in question.

3. The following table exhibits the capacity of each of the native lunatic asylums, allowing 50 superficial feet to each patient, and the number of lunatics confined in each on the last day of the year:—

	Males.		Females.		Total.
	Capacity.	Number on 31st December.	Capacity.	Number on 31st December.	Capacity.	Number on 31st December.
Dullunda	246	164	47	65	293	229
Dacca	127	168	50	34	177	202
Patna	190	149	70	60	260	209
Cuttack	32	41	11	5	43	46
Moydapore	58	38	10	12	68	50
Berhampore	175	113	55	59	230	172
Hazareebagh .	352	223	40		392	223
Grand Total	1,180	896	283	235	1,463	1,131

With the completion of the new ward under construction in Dacca the capacity of that asylum will be raised from 177 to 217. It will be observed that the actual capacity of the asylums is now much in excess of the requirements, and that it is likely to exceed them still further. There was, however, some overcrowding of females in Dullunda, Moydapore, and Berhampore, and of males in Dacca and Patna. This need not have occurred, and it can easily be obviated in future. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently directed the closing of Moydapore, a small and unhealthy asylum, which is quite close to Berhampore. It should, Mr. Eden thinks, be the policy of Government to have a few large and conveniently situated asylums rather than several small ones which have been opened from time to time as accommodation was found available. The opening of the Northern Bengal Railway and the establishment of a regular passenger steamer service between the Orissa ports and Calcutta may perhaps render it possible to reduce the number of asylums further and to concentrate the lunatics in four or five institutions, thus diminishing the expenditure on establishment.

4. The number of criminal lunatics in asylums was 232 at the beginning and 269 at the close of the year. The admissions and re-admissions numbered 85 and 6 respectively, while 31 were discharged and 23 died. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that 29 of the total number have recovered their reason, but are detained under the orders of Government. Mr. Eden has at present under consideration the question of the place in which these persons should be confined. It is obvious that the presence in asylums of criminals who have regained their faculties must be a source of much danger and difficulty in the management of these institutions. Dr. Beatson's observations on the advantages of complete seclusion of criminal lunatics appear to be judicious. This subject also is already receiving separate consideration.

5. Among the causes of insanity, excess in ganja accounted for 30·66 per cent., and excess in spirituous liquors for 4·16 per cent., of the cases treated during the year. It may be presumed that of the latter at least many cases were such as would be refused admission under the recent orders on the subject. Grief was assigned as the predisposing cause in 5·55 per cent. of the cases. Altogether 45·78 per cent. were attributed to the operation of physical, and 7·91 per cent. to that of moral causes, while in 46·33 per cent. the cause was unknown. The various types of insanity prevailed in the following proportions:—Chronic mania 38·86, chronic dementia 24·25, acute mania 20·42, melancholia 9·05, acute dementia 4·36, idiocy ·79, and imbecility and amentia ·39 per cent. The recoveries were 21·03 per cent. of the cases in acute mania, 15·15 in acute dementia, 7·31 in chronic mania, 1·45 in melancholia, and 1·08 in chronic dementia. There were no recoveries from idiocy or amentia. The proportion of complete cures was 10·61 per cent. of average strength, 8·58 per cent. of cases treated, and 35·51 per cent of admissions. The proportion of recoveries, partial and total, was 17·14 per cent of average strength, 13·86 per cent. of the total treated, and 57·36 per cent. of admissions. These results are much less favourable than those of the previous year, which gave 28·23, 21·31, and 76·07 per cent. respectively, and were also considerably below the average of the preceding quinquennial period. The various fluctuations will be noticed in the special remarks on the different asylums. No general explanation of the decrease is offered, but it is doubtless in some degree attributable to the more careful selection of lunatics for admission during a part of the year; and from this point of view it may be expected that the results of the current year will also appear less successful than those of 1875 and the year immediately preceding it Dr. Beatson points out that even last year's results compare favourably with the statistics of the public asylums of Middlesex and Surrey for the ten years ending in 1874. It appears that in these institutions the average proportion of cures was 7·56 per cent. of average strength, 22·95 per cent. of cases treated, and 30·51 per cent. of admissions. The comparison is interesting, but it does not appear to be of any practical value. The mass of the population of England, and especially of the metropolitan districts, is exposed to very different mental conditions from those which are produced by the every-day life of the native of Bengal. The stimulus to mental activity is greater and more sustained, and the strain on the faculties is more severe. It is only natural, therefore, that in the former case lunacy would assume more complex and less tractable forms than in the latter. The only useful basis of comparison is to be found in the results of different asylums in Bengal, and in the results of the same asylums in different years. Viewed according to these tests, the results of the year exhibit a wide and imperfectly explained divergence in the degree of success attained.

6. There were 1,152 admissions into hospital, or 94 per cent. of average daily strength, against a proportion of 102·4 per cent in 1875. The average daily number of sick was 8·02 per cent. of mean strength, against 7·48 in the previous year. The admissions into hospital were exceptionally numerous in Dacca and Moydapore, where they numbered 250 and 230 per cent. of males and 103 and 235 per cent. of females respectively. In Dacca the daily average proportion of sick to mean strength was 17·49 per cent. of males and 12·54 per cent. of females; in Patna it was 9·42 and 7·46 respectively; and in Hazareebagh, where only males were confined, it was 10·83. In Dullunda and Berhampore the rates were, for males 53·6 and 55·48 admissions and 3·49 and 2·47 daily average sick per cent. of mean strength, and for females 49·6 and 3·3 and 65·9 and 1·9 respectively. It is clear therefore, after every allowance is made for the mental and inferior physical condition of insane patients, that there must be some special conditions affecting the health of the lunatics in Dacca, Moydapore, and Hazareebagh. This point will be adverted to further on. It seems highly probable that the great frequency of diarrhœa and dysentery in all the asylums may be to a considerable extent due to a practice amongst the lunatics, discovered both at Dullunda and Hazareebagh, of drinking exceedingly impure water; but measures have now been adopted to exclude them from access to this impure supply at those two asylums, and similar precautions should be taken in other asylums. The average mortality in the asylums during the year was 9·7 per cent. of mean strength. This death-rate is lower than was attained in any one of the previous ten years, and it is no less than 5 per cent. below the average mortality of that period. Cuttack heads the list with 18·11 per cent., chiefly caused by diarrhœa and dysentery; Dacca and Dullunda come next with 13 and 11·3 respectively; Hazareebagh and Moydapore, in which, as has been remarked, the number of sick was large, the mortality was, curiously enough, below the average. Berhampore and Patna are the only asylums which preserve a fairly low rate both of sickness and of mortality.

7. The statement showing the receipts and expenditure of each asylum presents some very remarkable features. It is here reproduced in full.

The daily average strength of the Hazareebagh Asylum is given as 204. This, however, is only the daily average for the seven months and six days during which the asylum was open. Consequently the average cost of each patient only extends over that period, and a modification of the figures is required to find the annual average cost. The general annual averages are thus vitiated. It appears also that the sum of Rs. 10,099, entered in the statement as the total expenditure at Hazareebagh, has been taken inadvertently for the sum of Rs. 10,119, of which the particulars are given in the Superintendent's report. This error vitiates the averages calculated for Hazareebagh. The very trifling sum realized from the friends of patients cannot fail to attract attention. The inquiries which have now been set on foot will, it is hoped, effect better results in this respect, for the future. Some explanation should have been offered of the circumstances under which Dacca Asylum earned only Rs. 408 from manufactures, while the actual profits in Patna were Rs. 2,577, and in Dullunda Rs. 9,708. The statement shows no profits against Cuttack, Moydapore, and Berhampore. It appears, however, from the Superintendents' reports that the manufacture departments in those asylums earned Rs. 179, Rs. 158, and Rs. 1,330 respectively during the year; and if this be the case, the figures in the statement are incorrect. The gross average cost of maintaining each patient varies most markedly. Thus in Dullunda it is Rs. 142, in Dacca Rs. 110, in Cuttack Rs. 96, in Patna Rs. 87, in Hazareebagh at the rate of about Rs. 81, in Berhampore Rs. 80, and in Moydapore Rs. 78. The gross cost per head on account of "establishment" ranged from Rs. 70 in Dullunda and Rs. 58 in Cuttack to Rs. 39 in Berhampore and Rs. 38 in Patna. The annual average charge for "diet," which was Rs. 55 per head in Dullunda and Rs. 54 in Dacca, was only Rs. 32 in Berhampore, Rs. 31 in Cuttack, and Rs. 27 in Hazareebagh. The average charge for "contingencies" was Rs. 12-8-9 at Dullunda, or much more than double the charge at any other asylum except Hazareebagh, where the circumstances were exceptional, the asylum having initial charges to meet. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no good reason why the expenses of Dullunda, Dacca, and Cuttack should so largely exceed the average. The variation of expenditure and earnings has been made the subject of a special reference to the Surgeon-General, who has been requested to submit a full report on the subject.

Dullunda.—The admissions into this asylum numbered only 158, against 195·4, the average of the previous five years. The percentage of "cured" to the daily average strength was 22·3, against 28·3; of "improved" 9·6, against 8·3; and of "otherwise discharged" 37·8, against 7·7. Dr. Payne ascribes the fall in the percentage of recoveries to the decreased number of admissions. The increase in the percentage of lunatics discharged without improvement is to be attributed to large transfers to Hazareebagh and Berhampore. The sanitary condition of the asylum showed a marked improvement on previous years. Though cholera prevailed in the neighbourhood, only two cases occurred in the asylum, and neither of them terminated fatally. Dysentery, which was formerly very rife, was of comparatively infrequent occurrence, and only 35 cases of dysentery and diarrhœa occurred during the year, against 103 in 1875. It was discovered by Dr. Payne early in the year that the lunatics were in the habit of drinking stagnant water which had been used for the purpose of purification. The adoption of measures to prevent this was followed by a prompt disappearance of intestinal worms and a great reduction in bowel-complaints generally. Dr. Payne explains that the net profits from the asylum industry would have been much larger had not an outlay of Rs. 8,800 on buildings been defrayed from the receipts. Dr. Beatson quotes some remarks of the Deputy Surgeon-General, Dr. Cockburn, on the management of this asylum. The Lieutenant-Governor fully concurs in the testimony borne by Dr. Cockburn to the excellence of Dr. Payne's administration, but would be glad if the Superintendent could devise some means of keeping the expenditure of the institution within somewhat narrower limits.

Dacca.—The average daily strength was only 206·8, against 250 in the previous year. Admissions numbered only 65, against 109·8, the previous quinquennial average. The proportion discharged cured was 2·9 per cent. of average strength, against 13·98, and that discharged "improved" 11·60, against 4·32. The Superintendent explains the decrease under the former head by the increase under the latter. His remarks, however, are not quite clear. He states that the number discharged as "improved" includes some whom, but for the Government orders, he would have kept back for a time. It does not appear, therefore, that these persons would have under any circumstances appeared as "cured." In any case the total of the two classes is only 14·5, against 18·3. A partial explanation is probably to be found in the falling off in admissions, but this will not account for the greater part of the decrease. There was some overcrowding among the males, but this was not, in the Superintendent's opinion, prejudicial to their health. A new ward to accommodate 40 patients was approaching completion at the close of the year. Reference has already been made to the comparative unhealthiness of this asylum. It appears that in 1875 the Deputy Surgeon-General of the circle remarked on the excessive and draughty ventilation of the female wards. It is also to be remarked that a very discreditable system of peculation by subordinates, reflecting seriously on the administration of several of the late Superintendents, has recently been brought to light. The circumstances leave little doubt that the lunatics were unscrupulously deprived of their proper allowance of food. It is not remarkable, therefore, that dysentery and diarrhœa caused 42 per cent. of the mortality among the males and 37·5 per cent. of that among the females, while debility accounted for 15·7 and 25 per cent. respectively. There appears to be no reason why this asylum should continue to be unhealthy.

Patna.—The results were fairly favourable in this asylum. Admissions fell from an average of 103·6 to 80. The percentage of patients discharged "improved" was 3·5 against an average of 2; and the percentage "cured" (16·3), though less than the previous quinquennial average of 19·9, showed an improvement on the results of the two years immediately preceding. The most prominent feature in the sanitary history of the asylum during the year was the large comparative mortality from phthisis. This complaint caused 54 per cent. of the mortality among males and 60 per cent. of that among females. No explanation has been offered of this, nor is any suggested by the special circumstances of the asylum.

Cuttack.—The condition of this small and expensive asylum is unsatisfactory. It was considerably overcrowded during a part of the year, and there is no separate hospital accommodation. The combined percentages of "cured" and "improved" only amounted to 19 7, against the quinquennial average of 26·8. The death-rate was exceptionally high, amounting to 16·75 among males and to 28·57 among females. The Superintendent explains, however, that nearly all the deaths were chronic cases, and that some of the sufferers had been from three to eleven years in the asylum. A new asylum building has been designed, but its erection has been postponed for financial reasons. The present building is required for amalgamation with the jail Mr. Eden is not quite satisfied that an asylum is really necessary at Cuttack, now that regular steam communication has been established between False Point and Calcutta.

Moydapore.—There were no admissions to this asylum during the year, and consequently the statistics of recoveries are of little value for purposes of comparison. Only 5·6 per cent. of the patients were "cured" and 3·7 "improved," against averages of 21·85 and 6·29 respectively. Fever and diarrhœa were very prevalent, though they were not of a severe type. The asylum is small and unhealthy; and the Lieutenant-Governor, during his late visit to Berhampore, ordered that it should be closed, the lunatics being removed to the Berhampore Asylum.

Berhampore.—This asylum was opened in the end of 1874. There were few cures in the next year, owing, the Superintendent says, to the large number of bad cases transferred from other asylums. A large number of lunatics were transferred from Berhampore to Hazareebagh when the last-named asylum was opened; and, under special orders of Government, no criminal or dangerous lunatics were sent Circumstances have thus operated to keep down the percentages of complete and partial recoveries in this asylum to 6·6 and 4·4 respectively during the past year. The health of the lunatics was fairly good, and there were no deaths among the females.

Hazareebagh.—Here, as in Berhampore in 1875, the Superintendent complains that the great majority of the patients first transferred to the asylum were suffering from chronic forms of insanity. The percentage cured was accordingly only 1·96. Dr. Birch explains, however, that many of the lunatics who have been suffering from a long time are on the way to recovery. He attributes this favourable change in their condition to the climate of Hazareebagh. The death-rate (8·8 per cent.) was high. It appears that the mortality was largely due to the prevalence of intestinal worms arising from causes similar to those described in the Dullunda Superintendent's report. The remarks of Dr Birch on the subject, extracted in paragraph 15 of the report, might with advantage be communicated to all Civil Surgeons. It has lately been brought to the Lieutenant-Governor's notice that the disease of which he treats is very prevalent in Bengal, and in some places the use of santonine shows it to exist among a very large proportion of the native population. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with interest the description given of the internal arrangements of the asylum, and he considers that Dr. Birch is entitled to much credit for all that he has done, with a practically untrained staff, to alleviate the sufferings of the patients confided to his charge. It is reported that the overseer, though willing, wants method and knows neither Hindustani nor Bengali. It is to be apprehended that these deficiencies must to a great extent neutralize his efforts to be useful.

Bhowanipore.—This asylum is reserved for Europeans, Eurasians, and Armenians. The asylum population on the first day of the year numbered 27, and 31 patients were admitted. Nine males were discharged cured, seven males and three females were "improved" and made over to their friends or the military authorities, and five men were despatched to Europe under the Shipping Act. There were four deaths, of which two resulted from organic cerebral disease. The Lieutenant-Governor is constrained to remark that in this asylum, as in Dullunda, the cost of maintenance is very high. It appears that, inclusive of the amount paid by the friends of lunatics, the cost of each patient averaged Rs. 1,123 per annum, or nearly Rs. 100 per mensem. After deduction of these payments, the average cost is Rs. 823. There are of course many circumstances which render the support of Europeans in India exceptionally high. The Lieutenant-Governor is informed that the gross annual cost of maintaining each lunatic is only £32-15-7 in the Lunatic Department of the Perth General Prison and only £59-17 in Broadmoor Asylum. It is true that the lunatics in these asylums are all criminals, but, on the other hand, all the Bhowanipore patients who are not paupers should be maintained at the cost of their friends; while those who are paupers should be clothed and fed on a more economical scale if possible. The chief item of expenditure, however, is under the head of "establishment." The Lieutenant-Governor is well aware of the earnestness and success with which Dr. Payne manages the institutions under his charge, but desires that his attention may be invited to the possibility of reductions in the scale of expenditure. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice the high terms in which the Deputy Superintendent and Matron of the asylum are spoken of.

The report of the Surgeon-General is full and interesting.

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE

Calcutta, the 24th October 1877.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Department of Excise in the Lower Provinces for the year 1876-77.

THE report of last year showed the recovery of the excise revenue from the effects of the scarcity which had so seriously diminished the receipts of 1874-75. In 1873-74 the revenue had exceeded 58 lakhs of rupees; in the following year it decreased to about 56¼ lakhs. But as soon as the pressure of scarcity was removed, the revenue recovered itself, and the collections of 1875-76 amounted to Rs. 60,86,919—an increase of about 4½ lakhs compared with 1874-75, and a revenue largely exceeding the receipts of any former year.

2. The revenue, however, had by no means reached its limit, nor does there seem any reason to apprehend that it has yet done so. It appears from the present report that in 1876-77 the gross receipts amounted to Rs. 62,47,059, showing an increase of Rs. 1,60,140 over the returns of the preceding year. The improvement extends to all exciseable articles except rum and chandu, and is attributable partly to the general prosperity of the country and partly to better management and more careful supervision.

3. The proceeds of the excise revenue have been transferred by the Government of India to the Local Government, with effect from the 1st April 1877; the conditions of the transfer assuming that the gross receipts will amount in 1877-78 to 64 lakhs of rupees, and that the net revenue will thereafter show an annual increase of one lakh. Whatever may be realized in excess of this amount will be an addition to provincial funds. The Government of Bengal has thus a more direct and immediate interest than before in the development of this branch of the revenue; and the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that he may rely with confidence upon the Board, and upon divisional and district officers, to use their best exertions to secure the Local Government from any apprehension of loss in connection with the arrangement which has been concluded. It will be seen that the conditions require an addition to the gross revenue during the current year 1877-78 of about the same sum as the increase which accrued during the year under review. Any further increase than this which may be obtained will be available in relief of general provincial finances; while any amount by which the increase may fall short of this sum will have to be made good by the Local Government.

4. But the Lieutenant-Governor, while he desires to impress upon all officers concerned the importance of the financial aspect of the question, wishes it to be clearly understood that the Government is determined to maintain the principles upon which the Department of Excise has hitherto been administered. The necessary increase of revenue must be obtained by economical management, by stricter enforcement of the law, and by raising the duties on exciseable articles; but nothing must be done to stimulate consumption, or to place temptations to intemperance in the way of the people. The caution is, perhaps, unnecessary, as the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that the views of Government in this matter are already fully accepted and acted upon; but it may be well that it should be clearly understood that in pressing district officers to pay greater attention to the development of the Excise Revenue, the Lieutenant-Governor has in view the realization of the fullest possible amount of revenue on all exciseable articles, and not an increase of facilities for their sale, except so far as it is necessary to provide the means of obtaining duty paid spirits and drugs in places where, in the absence of a licit supply, the people provide themselves from illicit sources.

5. A measure for consolidating the existing excise laws in Bengal was passed during the year by the local Legislature; but it did not receive the assent of the Governor-General, and an amended Bill is now under preparation. A new Opium Act was passed by the Imperial Legislative Council in December 1876; but it has not come into operation, pending the issue of rules under section 8 of the Act for regulating the possession, sale, and transport of opium. A draft of these rules has been prepared by the Board, and is now under the consideration of Government. The cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture of opium are already regulated by Act XIII of 1857, which is not affected by the new law.

6. A comparison of the receipts under the several heads of excise revenue during the past two years gives the following results:—

Revenue from—	1875-76	1876-77.	Increase.	Decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Country spirits	25,10,064	26,26,399	1,16,335	.....

Miscellaneous	207	255	48	.....
Total ...	60,80,919	62,47,059	2,55,766	95,626

The charges of the department amounted to Rs. 2,96,295 in 1876-77 against Rs. 2,98,115 in the preceding year. There was a slight increase in the cost of the establishments employed, but this was more than balanced by reductions in the contingent charges. A sum of Rs. 215 was remitted on account of some shops in Noakholly which were destroyed by the cyclone. The unrealized balance of the year was Rs. 7,269, of which Rs. 6,541 have since been recovered and Rs. 761 are reported to be irrecoverable. It is satisfactory to find that the charges of the department have decreased, and that the percentage of cost shows a steady diminution. In 1874-75 the cost of collection was 5·3 per cent, in the following year it fell to 4·8, and in the year under review to 4·7. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, desires to call the attention of the Board to the high percentage which still prevails in some districts. In four districts—Bankoora, Bogra, Furreedpore, and Manbhoom—the cost of collection exceeds 10 per cent., and in Dinagepore, Noakholly, Mozufferpore, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, it is very nearly 10 per cent. The percentage is lowest in Balasore and Lohardugga, where it amounts to only 2·1 on the collections.

7. The revenue derived from country spirits is subdivided into the following heads:—

	Rs.
License fees (fixed duty system)	6,42,846
Ditto (monthly tax system)	2,94,626
Distillery fees	89,346
Still-head duty	15,98,581
Total ...	26,25,399

The receipts from license fees under the monthly tax system increased by Rs. 26,153, owing partly to higher prices being obtained for licenses, and partly to the greater extension of the outstill system, which is found to be more suitable than the distillery system to thinly populated tracts of country. The licenses granted under this system in 1876-77 were 782 against 747 in the preceding year. On the other hand, the licenses under the fixed duty system decreased from 3,645 to 3,502, and the consumption from 2,611,323 gallons to 2,397,597 gallons. The license fees under the fixed duty system and the distillery fees naturally showed a decrease, but there was a large increase of duty, owing to the rates having been raised during the year in most districts of Bengal. Altogether, the returns present the satisfactory result of an increased revenue combined with a diminished consumption and a reduction in the number of shops.

8. The report contains several recommendations for the further development of the outstill system in suitable localities, and the Lieutenant-Governor will generally be willing to rely upon the discretion of the Board in the settlement of these details, it being understood that care will be taken to limit the number of these licenses to actual requirements, and not unduly to multiply the facilities for obtaining drink. From Table I in Appendix B of the report, the Lieutenant-Governor gathers that in some outstills the tax is as low as Rs. 2 per month, a sum which seems altogether insufficient. This is a matter which should receive the early attention of the Board. No outstill should be opened unless it is an established fact that a demand for spirit exists which cannot be conveniently met by the supply of the sudder distilleries. When a distiller is only able to pay a duty of two rupees a month, it is pretty clear that no real bonâ fide demand exists. The Board should fix a minimum rate on these principles. The minimum license fee under the fixed duty system also appears capable of being increased.

9. The plan of taxing the materials used in distillation has been tried for some years in Behar, but the reports of its working are on the whole unfavourable. The rates, however, have hitherto been fixed much lower than the corresponding rates under the hydrometer system, and consequently the plan, while popular with the distillers, has not been profitable to the Government. The Lieutenant-Governor has authorized the levy of higher rates during 1878-79, and he will await the report of the results of that year before deciding whether the experiment shall be continued or not. In the district of Sarun, a system of taxing the distillers' vats according to their capacity has been tried with some success.

10. The receipts from license fees for the sale of rum were very little below those of last year, but there was a great falling off in consumption, and consequently in duty. This is attributable principally to the duty having been raised to the same rate as that levied on imported spirits, viz. Rs. 4 per gallon.

11. There was a small increase in the number of licenses for the sale of imported spirits and wines, and a corresponding increase in the amount of license fees. It should be considered whether the fees charged for retail licenses on steamers (Rs. 16 per annum) do not admit of being raised. The importations of foreign wines, spirits, and beer showed a considerable decrease, attributable partly to the unfavourable rate of exchange, and partly to the increase of duty under the new Tariff Act. This increase of duty, however, had the effect of raising the customs revenue from imported spirits from Rs. 8,73,964 to Rs. 9,83,210 in spite of diminished importations. The receipts from the duty on foreign wines declined from Rs. 3,73,068 to Rs. 3,19,070.

12. The paragraphs of the report relating to tari and pachwai call for no special remarks. Under both these heads there was an increase of revenue, owing to the issue of licenses at higher rates. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that care has been taken to reduce the number of shops on the borders of the Sonthal Pergunnahs with a view to diminish the temptations to excessive indulgence in drink among the Sonthals. From a separate report on the subject, received from the Commissioner, it appears that the efforts of the local officers to check intemperance in the Sonthal Pergunnahs have met with a considerable measure of success. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that the minimum rate of license fee for the sale of fermented tari and of pachwai is as low as Rs. 12 per annum, and it would perhaps be found possible to increase this rate.

13. The returns under the head of ganja during the last two years give the following results:—

	Number of licenses.	Consumption.			Revenue.
		Mds.	s.	c.	Rs.
1876-77	3,130	7,458	22	5	11,97,116

The year under review, therefore, shows a decrease of 4 per cent. in the number of licenses, an increase of about 1 per cent. in the quantity consumed, and an increase of 6 per cent. in the revenue. There was not, however, any real increase of consumption in the Lower Provinces, as the exports to the North-Western Provinces, which are included in the figures given above, exceeded those of the preceding year by 110 maunds. The area of land cultivated with ganja increased in 1876-77, and the average production per acre was unusually higher, owing to the favourable character of the season: the result being that the ganja crop is estimated to have amounted to 10,814 maunds, or about 4,300 maunds in excess of the previous year's produce.

14. A careful inquiry into ganja cultivation and traffic was made during the year under the orders of Government by Deputy Collector Baboo Hem Chunder Kur, and various measures for the improvement of the existing system have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, and steps are now being taken for their introduction. The duty on ganja will also be increased from the 1st April 1878. The duty on the Gurjat ganja consumed in Orissa has already been doubled from the 1st January 1877.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that while the Board's report gives the particulars of the exportation of ganja to the North-Western Provinces, and of the revenue derived therefrom, no similar particulars are given of the exportation to Assam, which is known to be very considerable. The total export from Rajshahye is stated to have been 8,456 maunds, of which 7,458 maunds were consumed in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces. It is not clear whether the balance of 998 maunds represents stocks remaining in the hands of Bengal dealers, or whether it includes the quantity exported to Assam. Apparently also the quantity stated to have been consumed includes 80 maunds of Gurjat ganja, in which case the balance to be accounted for would amount to 1,078 maunds.

16. Charas, siddhi, and majum are all preparations of the wild hemp plant. The revenue from the first and last of these is insignificant, and showed a slight increase during the year under review. The consumption of siddhi has greatly increased during the last few years. The revenue is at present derived only from license fees, except in Calcutta, where a duty of 4 annas a seer is also levied. The Lieutenant-Governor has already, in his orders on Baboo Hem Chunder Kur's Ganja Report, called the attention of the Board to the question of imposing a general duty on siddhi, and of making full inquiry regarding the preparations manufactured from the wild hemp plant. The minimum rate of license fee for the sale of these drugs, which at present is only Rs. 12, should certainly be increased. The lowest rate of fee for a license to sell ganja is Rs. 48.

17. The experiment of levying a fee on licenses for the retail sale of opium has been very successful, and the Board propose to extend it by selling these licenses by auction, a plan which has already been introduced into Calcutta and the suburbs. The revenue from opium license fees, which first appears in the returns for 1873-74, amounted in 1876-77 to Rs. 60,024. The consumption of the drug declined during the year, but the receipts showed a considerable increase, which is due partly to the more general levy of license fees, and partly to the enhancement of the selling price in several districts. In the Orissa Division the increase of price has not availed to check the growing consumption of opium, and it should be considered whether a further enhancement is not practicable. In Purneah also it might perhaps be possible to raise the price from Rs. 22 to Rs. 24. There is a slight increase in the sales of Government opium in the producing districts, and no serious cases of opium smuggling occurred during the year. Of madat and chandu, which are preparations of opium, the revenue from the former showed a small increase, while that from the latter decreased in consequence of the withdrawal of the license for the export of the drug to the Mauritius. The Board have since issued rules to regulate this export.

18. The figures which show the incidence of the excise revenue per head of population are of much interest, and an examination of them may be useful in indicating the localities which appear to require special attention and supervision. Taking the Lower Provinces as a whole, the revenue amounts in round numbers to one rupee for every ten of the population, and this proportion is maintained, or very nearly maintained, in the four divisions of which the population and the excise revenue are given in the margin. But while the Burdwan Division, with a population of about seven millions, has an excise revenue of more than six lakhs, the revenue in the Dacca Division does not amount to 5¼ lakhs, though the population exceeds nine millions, and the people generally are in better circumstances than in the districts of the Commissionership of Burdwan. In the Chittagong and Rajshahye Divisions the excise revenue per head is less than one-half of what it is in Orissa When the figures for particular districts are examined, discrepancies of a still more striking character are observed. The districts of Jessore, Burdwan, and Sarun are about equally populous, and the revenue in Burdwan and in Sarun is very nearly the same. But the revenue in Jessore is less than half the revenue in Burdwan. Cuttack and Dinagepore contain each about 1½ millions of inhabitants; but the revenue in Cuttack is Rs. 1,40,000, while in Dinagepore it is under Rs. 63,000. Pubna and Lohardugga differ very little in population; but while the revenue in the latter district is Rs. 1,62,000, in the former it is only 37,000. The three districts of Pooree, Balasore, and Hazareebagh contain each of them a little over three-quarters of a million souls; but for every five rupees of excise revenue realized in Pooree, Rs. 11 are realized in Balasore, and Rs. 12 in Hazareebagh. If we compare the populations of Maldah, Bogra, and Beerbhoom, we shall find that they differ very little, but that Maldah is rather smaller than the other two. The excise revenue, however, is, in round numbers, Rs. 32,000 in Bogra, Rs. 54,000 in Beerbhoom, and Rs. 84,000 in Maldah. The lowest rate is obtained in Noakholly, where the incidence of revenue is only one rupee to every 50 of the population.

Division	Population	Revenue.
Patna ..	13,122,743	13,73,141
Bhagulpore ..	7,289,784	7,03,491
Orissa	3 034,690	3,10,470
Chota Nagpore ...	3,419,591	3,46,454

19. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot believe that these remarkable divergencies are really due to different degrees either of abstemiousness or of poverty. There is no good reason for supposing that Pubna is more abstemious than Mymensingh, and it is probably little less prosperous. But the inhabitant of Mymensingh pays more than twice as much to the excise revenue as the Pubna ryot. Moorshedabad is perhaps a wealthier district than Jessore, but the difference is certainly not so great as to account for the fact that (in proportion to the population) the excise revenue of the former district is three times as large as that of the latter.

20. It may be true that town communities contribute more largely to excise than the agricultural classes, and this may in some measure explain the larger receipts in Behar, and in some districts of Bengal which contain a a considerable town population, as Dacca, Moorshedabad, and Cuttack. But when every allowance has been made on this account, discrepancies remain which can only, in Mr. Eden's opinion, be accounted for by supposing that in some districts the law is systematically violated with impunity.

21. The paragraphs of the report which relate to arrests and convictions for offences against the excise laws throw little light upon this question. There were prosecutions in all districts, and of 2,420 persons arrested, 2,032 (or 84 per cent.) were convicted. But apparently most of these cases were of a very trivial nature, and from several districts complaints are made of the want of activity on the part both of excise officers and of the police. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the subject should receive the earnest consideration of the Collectors of those districts in which the revenue is shown to be much below the normal average. When adjacent districts, inhabited by populations which differ little in their habits or their means of expenditure, contribute in very different degrees to the excise revenue, it is difficult to avoid the inference that illicit dealings upon an extensive scale must be a common practice. Such districts are Bankoora compared with Beerbhoom, Jessore compared with Moorshedabad, Tipperah compared with Mymensingh. The Lieutenant-Governor has lately sanctioned the employment of four special inspectors to go from district to district and examine the working of the excise department under the orders of the Divisional Commissioner, and these inspectors should be first deputed to those districts in which the excise receipts show these unexplained deficiencies.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor, while commending this view of the question to the consideration of the Board, desires to express his satisfaction with the progress which has already been made, and with the increased attention which is now paid to the administration of this branch of the public service. The excise revenue is collected with economy and punctuality; and the Government has been cordially supported by its officers in the measures it has taken to make the working of the department not only a financial success, but also a means of arresting intemperance and elevating the moral condition of the people. The Lieutenant-Governor has taken note of the commendation bestowed by the Board on the Commissioners named in the margin for their attention to excise duties, and on the district officers and others enumerated in the 189th paragraph of the report. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. A. Money for his efficient supervision of the department during the year, and to the present Officiating Member, Mr. Buckland, for the excellent report now submitted, and for many valuable suggestions on various matters connected with excise administration.

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR 1876-77.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 6th November 1877.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Patna Division for 1876-77

THE report (compiled by Mr. Molony, who took charge only after the expiry of the year of review,) is late in submission, but is both full and interesting, and is made especially valuable by having attached to it the very comprehensive and careful reports submitted by the Collectors of Mozufferpore and Durbhunga.

Mofussil tours

2. Both the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. Metcalfe, and the Commissioner, Mr. Bayley, paid frequent visits to the several districts under their charge. Collectors in Behar are seldom remiss in the matter of their cold-weather tours. But Mr. Worsley and Mr. Macdonnell have shown themselves in this respect exceptionally active, the former officer making a practice of moving into camp frequently at all times of the year, and having in 1876-77 visited on special business no fewer than 600 villages; while Mr. Macdonnell was also out both in the hot weather and rains, and made himself thoroughly acquainted with all matters connected with the district administration.

Weather and crops.

3. The year was not, on the whole, an unfavourable one as regards weather and crops. In most districts the bhadoi harvest was fair, although the rains were very late in setting in, and there was such an abundant fall in August, September, and October as to secure to the division a fair crop of winter rice and the best rubbee harvest it has known for some time. The Commissioner remarks that it is established by the experience of the year that, however short may be the rains of June and July, heavy and well distributed falls in August and September will secure in Behar a good rice crop. The fact that proper distribution is of far greater importance than the gross quantity of rainfall has been noticed in other reports.

Public health and material condition of the people

4. The public health is stated to have been generally good, save in the districts of Chumparun, Shahabad, and Gya, where cholera and fever caused exceptional mortality.

5. The material condition of the mass of the population in this division is extremely low. The wages of the labouring class are barely sufficient to furnish them with the means of supporting life. They live from hand to mouth, are always under-fed, and the slightest abnormal pressure brings them to the verge of acute distress. Mr. Worsley shows that in Tirhoot the money wages of field laborers have remained practically unchanged for the last sixty years. Although the prices of food-grains have risen, and are still apparently rising, one anna to one anna and a half per diem is still the usual wage of an able-bodied laborer. The apparent hardship of this is, however, somewhat mitigated by the fact that it is the custom of the district to pay the laborers in kind rather than in cash, and that, even when cash is paid, the laborer usually gets also his midday meal. At harvest time the laborers are remunerated by a percentage of the crop reaped—one sheaf for every sixteen is said to be a usual proportion. Under this arrangement, as Mr. Macdonnell points out, the laborer is worst off in a bad year, and the bad years have in North Behar been very frequent of late.

6. The cultivating classes are generally involved in debt. "Even in time of plenty" (the Commissioner writes), "after paying the rent and the numerous cesses exacted by the landlords, very little is left to them for their support. When such is the condition of the people in ordinary years, the failure of a single crop is sure to cause distress." This is felt most in the tracts where rice is the principal crop, as that is most susceptible to injury from drought. In the year of report, relief measures on a limited scale had to be organised on this account in parts of Mudhoobunnee, which is almost entirely a rice-producing tract, and which suffered from a failure of the autumn rains of 1875, while the other sub-divisions of Durbhunga were in comparatively good case.

7. The remedy for the state of things above described is by no means easy to discover or apply. For the labouring class emigration has been repeatedly suggested and advocated, but the number of emigrants from these districts seems yearly to decrease, falling from 7,159 in 1874-75 to 4,482 in 1876-77. Not a single emigrant was last year recruited from Sarun, which is the most densely populated tract in the whole division. The district officers believe that it is only gradually, with the spread of education and removal of ignorant prejudices, that any general tendency to emigrate is likely to arise. There are, however, already signs that the opening of the Tirhoot Railway has done something to stimulate temporary emigration for the purpose of finding work, and it might be useful if the Colonial Governments would adopt Mr. Worsley's suggestion and send to Behar, as recruiting agents, their most successful Behari settlers.

8. As regards the cultivators, the great desideratum is an easy mode of proving occupancy rights, and the general abolition of the danabundi and thikadari systems. During the last few years attention has been directed to the prevalence of illegal distraint throughout the districts of North Behar, and active measures have been taken to stop this. In the great Wards' estates especially, a sounder system of administration has been introduced which cannot fail in the end to have an influence upon the management of the private estates around them.

9. The prices of food during the year were, on the whole, favourable, except in those parts of the Durbhunga district that were affected by the failure of the winter crops of 1875-76. Common rice ranged from 16½ seers per rupee in Mozufferpore to 22 seers in Gya. Prices were kept comparatively low in Tirhoot by extensive importation from Nepal, the North-Western Provinces, and other parts. In this the State Railway rendered conspicuous service.

Manufactures.

10. The subject of indigo is treated with much fulness of detail by both Mr. Worsley and Mr. Macdonnell, who have submitted admirable reports on the condition of their districts.

The Lieutenant-Governor has already said that, before taking any steps to regulate by law the cultivation of indigo in Behar, he will wait the result of the measures of reform which the planters have themselves at length resolved to initiate. He will be ready to consider any suggestions which they may make, and any amendments of the existing rent-law which they may deem necessary, to place the relations of zemindar, planter, and ryot on an equitable basis. He entirely agrees with Mr. Macdonnell that the downfall of the indigo industry in Behar would be a public calamity, and has no doubt whatever that it may, by judicious modifications, and a fairer distribution of profits, be carried on without friction and to the advantage of all concerned. Mr. Eden gladly acknowledges that a very considerable step towards placing matters on a sounder basis has already been taken, and that his proposals for reforming the old system have been met by the planters in a cordial and conciliatory spirit. Indeed he sees every reason to believe that they recognize the fact that, if the indigo trade is to continue, it can only be by a greater recognition of the rights and interests of those who actually grow the crop.

11. The trade in saltpetre has developed considerably in North Behar during the last two years. The profits of the trade seem, however, to be monopolised by the refiners, who buy the crude article from the Nooniahs at Rs. 2 or Rs. 3 per maund, and sell it, after a cheap process of refining, at Rs. 8 in Calcutta. The Nooniahs themselves are a poor and miserable class, earning little more than Rs. 4 per month. The restrictions on the sale of the coarse salt evolved in the manufacture of saltpetre have materially injured their condition. Mr. Macdonnell, however, believes that even now much salt is illicitly passed into consumption from the Nooniah's works. The Lieutenant-Governor having recently examined this question, came to the conclusion that there has been no adequate gain to the revenue from the maintenance of the costly and irritating preventive establishments now employed, and has recommended to the Government of India their entire withdrawal.

12. The cultivation of tobacco is said to be extending, not less than 20,000 beeghas being under plant in Mozufferpore alone. The crop seems to pay well when grown in small patches, which can be well manured.

Trade and Commerce.

13. The trade statistics of the division, such as they are, have been recently brought together in Mr. Cotton's report on the internal commerce of Bengal, and need not be discussed here. Mr. Macdonnell shows very clearly that the attempt to register the trade between British India and Nepal, by the establishment of a chain of frontier stations, is practically a failure. Along this frontier, during the greater part of the year, produce flows backwards and forwards between the two countries along byeways and even across country to an extent which it is impossible to estimate by the figures of a few stations on the principal roads or rivers.

14. An interesting note by Deputy Collector Syud Ameer Husein on the mahajani trade of Patna is attached to the report.

The following table shows the various kinds of mahajani carried on according to the received native classification, the number of persons engaged in each, and the amount of capital employed within the municipality of Patna, comprising seven thanas with an area of nine square miles and a population of 158,900 souls.

Number.	Description of mahajani.	Number engaged.	Capital employed.
			Rs.
1	Kothiwali	10	6,38,000
2	Hoondwi	43	16,76,000
3	Aruth	14	1,06,500
4	Bhina Kishtee	1	27,000
5	Kist-ki-patti	292	9,10,350
6	Girveen	258	15,84,250
7	Bahi-khatta	21	80,400
8	Tamasuk	154	37,84,800
9	Parchun	3	1,35,000
10	Sarraf	31	60,600
	Total...	827	90,17,900

Some of the mahajans follow more than one kind of mahajani, and the actual number of individuals engaged in the trade is 557 only.

The Kothiwalis appear to be simply native bankers. The Hoondwi mahajans are bill-brokers. The Aruthdars house the beparis or itinerant mofussil traders and their goods, making a charge for this and often advancing them money on their stock. The Bhina Kishtee mahajan insures boats for the river journeys, keeping up his own establishment of pilots at difficult points, and selecting the manjhis of the boats he insures. Kist-ki-patti mahajans are petty money-lenders for short terms. Girveen is pawn-broking, pure and simple. Tamassuki and Bahi-khatta mahajans are merely descriptions of money-lenders who advance only on bonds or regular instruments. The Parchun mahajans purchase sicca rupees and uncurrent coin, selling them to silversmiths, &c., for manufacture. Sarraf is the trade of dealing in pice. Of the 557 persons engaged in mahajani, there are 31 Mahomedans, 32 Brahmins, 33 Rajpoots, 48 Bahans, 31 Kaists, 7 Bengalis, 24 Marwaris, 14 Agurwallahs, 57 Kulwars, 24 Khettrees, and 68 Banias; the rest are of lower castes. The largest bankers are Mahomedans. The information given above is said to be the result of minute house to house enquiry under the personal supervision of the Deputy Collector.

Public feeling on general or special subjects

15. The chief matters which have engaged the public interest during the year were the assumption of the Imperial title on the 1st January last, the introduction of the Land Registration, Road Cess, and Chowkidaree Acts, and the proposal to enforce a compulsory cess on irrigable lands. The distribution of certificates of honor is said to have had the effect of stirring up emulation among the zemindars, leading them to take a keener interest in local administration. The measures of taxation have caused some grumbling, but no general discontent. In Durbhunga there was for a time considerable excitement among the ryots as to the effect of the road cess returns upon their position and rents, caused by ignorance of the fact that the zemindar's returns were in no case evidence against the ryots. Under the Chowkidaree Act the punchayets, unless closely supervised, were prone generally to make unequal assessments, which led to complaints; but, on the whole, the Act is said to be working satisfactorily. The war between Turkey and Russia has excited great and growing interest among the Mahomedan population, and much satisfaction is said to have been felt in Durbhunga at the announcement that "the Sultan was now sure to win, as he had secured the services of 300 warriors, each with teeth a cubit long."

The public press

16. There are seven papers or periodicals published in the division. The Commissioner reports that there has been no change in the form of the publications, and that the influence of the press on the great mass of the people has not in any way increased. It is said that the respectable and educated Beharis do not attach any weight to the opinions of newspapers known to be conducted by Bengalis.

Effect of administrative changes.

17. The good effects of the division of Tirhoot into two districts continue to be felt. The local administration has been much strengthened by the closer supervision which it is now possible to exercise. Complaint is made by several Collectors of the frequent changes of sub-divisional officers. This complaint will receive due consideration. Changes are no doubt detrimental, but in view of the exigencies of the public service they very often cannot be avoided. The new butwara law has already had the effect of reducing the number of institutions, owing partly to want of familiarity with its provisions, and partly to the necessity laid upon applicants for partition of furnishing accurate preliminary information. The re-organization of the putwari system is going on steadily, although the appointment of a single putwari to each estate, to act as accountant merely, is distasteful to those fractional shareholders who have each hitherto had a putwari employed as rent collector. Those local officers who are best qualified to judge, hope that much good will arise from the revival of the putwari system. It may be expected for one thing to strengthen the position of the ryot by establishing a village record to which he can appeal in support of his claims to occupancy rights.

Statistical inquiries.

18. A special census of Mudhoobunnee sub-division was taken in August 1876, the results of which gave an increase of population of 20 per cent. over the census of 1872, the numbers being 826,753, against 689,741. Particular attention was paid to ascertaining the occupation of the people, and it was found that while 65 per cent. are agriculturists, nearly 25 per cent. are agricultural laborers or servants dependent on wages. Wages being here determined, as already noted, by the character of the harvest, there is now no difficulty in understanding why a failure of crop in Mudhoobunnee throws so many laborers upon relief works. Of the area of the sub-division (820,480 acres) about 600,000 acres (or 73 per cent.) were under cultivation, supporting about 8¼ lakhs of people (for nearly the whole population is agricultural). Each individual, therefore, has on the average ¾ths of an acre, which affords, even in the best of years as the Commissioner remarks, no very large margin for saving.

Model farms and gardens.

19. Experiments in the cultivation and curing of tobacco at Poosah have been carried on at Government expense throughout the year. The results have not been at all encouraging, owing to the want of an experienced tobacco-curer. The other agricultural experiments attempted at Poosah seem also to have been practically failures. Since the close of the year, the farm has been leased to Messrs. Begg, Dunlop & Co., who are prepared to establish a tobacco manufactory there, under skilled supervision, to work in connection with their other farm at Ghazipore in the North-West Provinces.

20. An interesting account is given by Mr. Worsley of experiments carried on by Mr. A. Abbott of Thikaha in the cultivation of mangel wurzel and Swede turnips. Mr. Abbott raised Swedes averaging in weight 5 seers per root, and mangel wurzel averaging nearly 10 seers per plant, giving 4,521 maunds to the beegha. Mr. Abbott writes that this was the return from land heavily manured with decayed indigo (seet), but even from poor land, with scarcely any manure, the roots averaged 7 seers each. "The seed" (he says) "is Carter's long red mangel. It will not grow to seed out here in the plains. Cost of seed is nominal, and the way I sow it is by dibbling from 18 inches to one foot apart, and dropping two seeds in each hole. If both germinate, weed out the smaller plant of the two when three weeks old." Where Government farms are kept, on which there are many Government cattle, this crop could be raised for fodder at Re. 1 per 100 maunds on any class of land. The best manure is decayed indigo. The importance of these results to owners of stock in places where pasture is scarce warrants this detailed notice of them.

Police and justice.

21. There has been a satisfactory diminution of offences against person and property in 1876, amounting to 2,868 cases. Indeed the criminal returns of the division show lower figures in these classes of crime than have been reported for years past. Good harvests, more active police, and the working of the Village Chowkidaree Act are assigned as the probable causes of the improvement. All the districts share in it, with the exception of Shahabad. South Behar generally continues more criminal than North Behar. The Commissioner's report goes somewhat fully into the criminal statistics of the division, but these will be more appropriately dealt with in connection with the Police Report.

22. On the subject of civil justice no information is given, save that the delays in trying rent suits give universal dissatisfaction.

Land revenue administration.

23. The effect of the laws of partition in multiplying petty estates in Behar is again very marked, the numbers on the rent-roll having risen from 37,619 to 39,781 during the year. In Tirhoot alone partition added 1,438 estates to the rent-roll. Mr. Worsley explains that the indigo (ticcadari) system is largely to blame for this. A shareholder leases his share to a factory, the factory endeavours to seize all the zerat, and the other shareholders are driven to partition in self-defence. In 1850 there were only 5,069 estates on the Tirhoot rent-roll; in 1860 only 6,342; but in 1875 there were 15,117. In Mozufferpore there are now 10,815 and 6,767 in Durbhunga; 2,052 estates in the former district paying only Rs. 4,504 Government revenue between them. In Durbhunga upwards of 50,000 owners have applied for registration under the new Act. These figures show the remarkable extent to which the sub-division of estates has been carried out, and there is every prospect of the process being continued. One effect of this separation of shares is to increase materially the work of the treasury establishments; the number of separate payments on account of land revenue, road cess, and other dues being now something enormous. Some 60,000 distinct chalans may be expected to be filed in the Mozufferpore treasury next January.

24. The land revenue collections of the division were 97·6 per cent. of the demand—a very satisfactory return. In Durbhunga the road cess statistics show that, while the revenue of the district is Rs. 7,92,902, the gross rental is Rs. 58,08,536, or nearly eight times the revenue. Of the gross rental, about one-half is derived from lands held by ticcadars. Other matters in connection with the land revenue will be noticed in the review of the Board's annual report.

Excise.

25. The excise revenue of the year rose from Rs. 13,08,567 to Rs. 13,73,067, the increase being chiefly under country spirits, and being ascribed to the general prosperity of the people and to the auction system of selling licenses.

Monetary arrangements.

26. The receipts and issues of currency notes show a falling off during the year, owing to the restrictions placed upon the supply of notes by the account department. The demand for purposes of remittance is said to be much greater than can be met; but it is not possible for Government at present to undertake to meet the demands of private trade in this respect. Wherever Government can supply the wants of the commercial public without actual loss to itself it is ready to do so. The Savings Banks are made use of only by Government employés. The money order system shows a satisfactory expansion in every district save Sarun.

Condition and effect of railways, &c

27. The first year's working of the Tirhoot State Railway is said to be full of promise for the future. The results are indeed in themselves not unsatisfactory, considering that only the Durbhunga branch was open for traffic throughout the year, and that through booking had not been established. The cost of the branch, including rolling-stock, was £285,318 up to December 1876. The cost for each open mile being £6,340. The earnings during the year of all kinds were Rs. 1,79,414, and the aggregate expenditure Rs. 1,23,195. The early introduction of through booking with the East Indian Railway will improve considerably the traffic receipts.

28. The Sone Canals are being rapidly pushed on. In Shahabad 260 miles of canal were available to irrigate 92,669 acres. In the Jugdispore estate, belonging to Messrs. Burrows, Thomson, and Mylne, field channels have been laid out by the ryots in all directions, and the crops are said to be magnificent. This is due entirely to the influence of the proprietors, whose example might with advantage be followed by other zemindars. Though attempts were made not long ago to show that the people did not desire and would not use Sone water for irrigation, the whole of the water which the department could by any expedient make available in the various canals has been used. The unfinished canals had to be opened for the purpose of meeting the demand of the people, and over 100,000 acres have benefitted by these works during the late drought. The most urgent demand for water came from the Maharajah of Dcomraon, the landholder who most loudly protested a few months ago against the works as useless and indeed mischievous. This establishes the fact that the people of these districts are perfectly ready to avail themselves of irrigation in dry seasons, but that they prefer that the general public should pay for this benefit, and not they themselves.

29. In the Chumparun district a series of embankments is being carried out at the cost of the zemindars, which is calculated to benefit a large tract of country, though there is a doubt whether in dry years some of the minor streams may not suffer from the interception of the supply.

State of education.

30. There are 1,966 schools in the division, attended by about 53,825 pupils, a figure which gives only four scholars to every thousand of the population. Only 6,896 of these are Mahomedans The lamentable backwardness of Behar in the matter of education has long been recognized. The smallest reduction of the primary grant is at once followed by a decrease in the number of schools. Mr. Macdonnell is said to have met the difficulty by introducing a system of payments more elastic than that by monthly instalments. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes to have a special report upon this. Any measure which will evoke something like spontaneous effort in the Department of Education is in this province deserving of encouragement The Lieutenant-Governor reserves for the review of the Director's annual report the further consideration of the educational statistics of Behar.

Working of Committees.

31. In Mozufferpore, Gya, and Chumparun the Road Cess Committees worked well and were of great assistance. The services of the non-official European members are specially acknowledged by the Collectors. All the Educational Committees are well spoken of, as are also the Municipal Committees.

Wards' Estates

32. The work in connection with the Wards' Estates in this division is very heavy and important, and will form the subject of a special review on receipt of the Board's report.

Conduct of zemindars and their relations to their tenantry.

33. The majority of the zemindars in Tirhoot are unfavourably mentioned, being described as grasping and oppressive to their tenantry. There were, however, no instances of glaring misconduct there or in other districts, while some few of the higher class of landlords in the division distinguished themselves by public benefactions. Among these Maharani Rajroop Koer of Tikari, the Rajahs of Bettiah and Ramnuggur, and Baboo Futteh Bahadoor are specially mentioned. The Maharajah of Doomraon continues to display his usual liberality, and the Dulhin Saheb, co-partner of the Rajah of Bettiah, is also noticed as taking a great interest in female education.

34. The relations between landlords and tenants in North Behar are described as being by no means cordial. The zemindars complain that the ryots do not pay their rents, and that they are unable to enforce decrees, while the ryots complain of illegal distraints, oppression, enhancements, and summary ejectments. There can be no doubt whatever that the combined influence of zemindars and ticcadars has ground the ryots of Behar down to a state of extreme depression and misery. The majority of them probably do, as a matter of fact, possess rights of occupancy, but owing to change of plots, and the subjection of the putwarees to the zemindars, are unable to produce legal proof of this. There are, however, signs that the ryots are beginning to understand better their legal rights. They are beginning to pay their rents into court in accordance with the zemindars' returns under the Road Cess Act. They are learning to recognize and to resist illegal attempts at distraint. They find that the sub-divisional and district officers are ready to listen to them and advise them for their good, and they are beginning to resort more freely to them for such advice. The tenants of small proprietors, moreover, see that in the great Durbhunga estate the position of the cultivators is being improved, defined, and settled, and this encourages them to demand more equal treatment for themselves. The indigo-planters have already intimated their readiness to pay them better rates. There is in fact a general stirring throughout the division which cannot fail to have a good effect, and it will be for Government and the local officers, assisted by the better class of planters and zemindars, to guide, foster, and control this movement, until the relations of all parties are placed upon a just and equitable basis.

There are in Behar many intelligent and wealthy landholders, and it is for them to consider whether it is not to their advantage to meet this movement half way, and endeavour to establish permanent occupancy rights and security of tenure on their estates, and to check at once the system of treating the cultivators of the soil as mere squatters, liable to eviction, and rack-rented at the whim of the proprietor or amlah—a system which now exists on too many estates. Nothing can tend so much to the prosperity of an estate as good, well-to-do, and contented tenantry, having a permanent interest in the soil, and it is for the landholders to establish such a state of things before the growing discontent and increasing intelligence of the people leads to open rupture between zemindars and ryots. The system of irregular distraint has been carried to great extremes in some parts of Behar, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts the Commissioner will impress upon the Collectors the necessity of putting a stop to this cautiously and gradually, confining the zemindars to the procedure laid down by law. No doubt the conditions under which the people of Behar hold their lands are exceptional, and the Lieutenant-Governor has already intimated his readiness to consider if necessary exceptional legislation for this part of the country in the matter of such collection.

35. The remarks of the Commissioner upon the officers under him will be communicated to the Appointment Department of this office.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 6TH NOVEMBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 3rd November 1877.—The exportation of rice is very slight. Stocks remain unaltered, and prices are falling.

Bankoora, 3rd November 1877.—About 1,000 maunds of rice were exported from the district during the week.

Beerbhoom, 3rd November 1877.—Prices are still going down, the average being 18¼ seers per rupee. A very good average crop may now be counted on, and the prices may be expected to fall rapidly, particularly if rain falls soon.

Hooghly, 3rd November 1877.—The imports during the week amounted to about 20,000 maunds. The stock of rice at Chandernagore and other places on the Hooghly is estimated at about one lakh of maunds. Coarse rice is selling at from 13 to 13½ seers per rupee.

Howrah, 5th November 1877.—Prices have not changed during the week, and there has been but little movement of grain from the district. The grain traffic is said to be turning towards up-country.

24-Pergunnahs, 3rd November 1877.—Exports are not now brisk. Prices continue much the same with a falling tendency.

Nuddea, 3rd November 1877.—In the Kooshtea sub-division 6,242 maunds of food-grains were imported during the week, and 650 maunds were sent to Calcutta by rail. In Meherpore 11,407 maunds of food-grains were exported from the east, and 20,000 maunds from the west of the sub-division, to Calcutta. In Bongong the exports by land to Calcutta were 1,140 maunds. In Chooadanga 660 maunds of rice were imported from the east. In the Sudder sub-division the imports were 5,500 maunds of rice, 133 maunds of cereals, and 1,800 maunds of pulses; and the exports consisted of 750 maunds of rice and 600 maunds of pulses. The trade to Calcutta is becoming slacker. Prices continue to show a tendency to fall, and coarse rice is now procurable at from Rs. 2 to 2-8 per maund.

Jessore, 3rd November 1877.—The price of rice has remained stationary where it has not slightly fallen. The pressure which was felt in parts of Bagirhat has much abated. The Khararia zemindars have done most towards helping their ryots to tide over the time of pressure. The Khoolna Registration Office shows 1,688 maunds as having been exported from the district during the week.

Moorshedabad, 3rd November 1877.—The river returns show:—Imports—rice, 20,760 maunds; paddy, 3,400 maunds; black pulse, 4,026 maunds; wheat, 2,313 maunds, &c.; Exports—rice, 27,150 maunds; paddy, 900 maunds; black pulse, 5,425 maunds; wheat, 1,300 maunds, &c. The price of common rice at Berhampore is 14 and 15 seers, at Lalbagh 16, and at Jungypore 17 seers. Coarse rice is 19 seers at Berhampore and 18 seers at Lalbagh.

Dinagepore, 2nd November 1877.—Coarse rice is selling for only 16 seers in northern marts.

Rajshahye, 3rd November 1877.—During the week 10,332½ maunds of rice, and 4,734½ maunds of pulses were exported. The stock of rice available for export is about 4 lakhs of maunds. The price of common rice has fallen. It has ranged from 18¾ to 19¼ seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 2nd November 1877.—Rice has now become somewhat cheaper. Exportation is much the same as last reported.

Bogra, 3rd November 1877.—2,637 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta, and 1,470 maunds to Rajshahye and the neighbouring districts. 1,000 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. The price of rice has, on the whole, been lower throughout the district.

Pubna, 3rd November 1877.—Coarse rice is sold in Pubna town at Rs. 1-13, poorbee Rs. 2, paddy Rs. 1-1; there were no exports from this place during the week. At Dulai amun rice is 16 seers, and aous 18 seers the rupee. At Mothoora rice is 16 or 17 seers, and at Raigunge 15 seers per rupee. At Chatmohur amun rice is Rs. 1-12 and poorbee Rs. 1-13 per maund. At Serajgunge amun rice is Rs. 3-2 or Rs. 3-3, and aous Rs. 2-9 or Rs. 2-10 per maund. About 800 or 900 maunds of rice were exported from this place to Calcutta during the week. At Shazadpore rice is Rs. 2-10 per maund. At Ullaparah amun rice is Rs. 2-5 and aous Rs. 2-4 per maund.

Darjeeling, 2nd November 1877.—No serious inconvenience is felt from the somewhat high prices of food in the district. The finer quality of rice has fallen in price, and the rates for the others remain stationary. The supply of food-grain is well kept up, and the prospects of the winter crops are good.

Julpigoree, 3rd November 1877.—No change since last report in prices or exportation.

Cooch Behar, 1st November 1877.—Prices continue unchanged. No exportation or importation is reported No failure of supplies of food-grains is apprehended anywhere.

Dacca, 3rd November 1877.—The supplies in all the marts are ample, but there is no export to speak of; only 700 maunds went to Calcutta by steamer, and 5,000 maunds were sent to Chittagong. The prices were at Dacca and Mirpore 13 to 17 seers per rupee, Naraingunge Rs. 2-13 to Rs. 2-15, and Manickgunge Rs. 2-14 per maund.

Furreedpore, 3rd November 1877.—Prices continue to be easier, but the rates in some parts of the south of the district are still very high. The price of common rice at Madaripore is 11 seers. The average price is 16 seers per rupee. Importation is being more freely made. There is little or no exportation.

Backergunge, 1*st November* 1877.—Food-grains still continue to be largely imported into the wave-stricken tracts. In Dukhin Shabazpore the early rice has been reaped, and the price varies from Rs. 3 to 4-4 per maund, and importations on a large scale continue. At the other stations the prices of rice are—Perozepore Rs. 3-8 to 5, Burisal Rs. 3-8 to 4-4, Gournuddy Rs. 3 to 3-8, and Bowfal Rs. 4 to 5 per maund. 24,694 maunds of rice were imported, and 675 maunds exported, during the week.

Mymensingh, 2*nd November* 1877.—Prices are still high.

Tipperah, 2*nd November* 1877.—The prices have fallen all over the district and will fall still further during the current month They now range from Rs. 2-7 to 3 in various parts of the district. Exportation continues, but not to such extent as formerly. The Dacca markets being overstocked, rice continues to be exported to Noakholly and other districts.

Chittagong, 1*st November* 1877.—There was no exportation of rice to Calcutta during the week.

Noakholly, 1*st November* 1877.—Prices of food-grains are becoming easier. Coarse rice is 13 or 14 seers per rupee. The supplies in the local markets are fair. Importation is slack, but there is some exportation from Fenny station to Chittagong, and from Begumgunge to Calcutta and Chittagong.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 30*th October* 1877.—The prices of rice are—at Rangamatia Rs. 5, at Cox's Bazar Rs. 3-8 to 4 per maund, and at Sungoo 11 seers per rupee.

Hill Tipperah, 31*st October* 1877.—There is a further fall in the price of common rice, which may be expected to continue; it is still more than double the rate of last year. The pressure in the Hills of the Udaypore sub-division would seem to have greatly abated.

Patna, 3*rd November* 1877.—Prices are easy.

Gya, 3*rd November* 1877.—Prices throughout the district have generally fallen, except at Aurungabad, where they have been almost stationary.

Mozufferpore, 3*rd November* 1877.—Exportations of grain are going on actively. Prices are slightly rising.

Sarun 3*rd November* 1877—The imports during the week from Mozufferpore, Patna, Fyzabad, Nowabgunge, Purneah, and Shahabad amounted to 32,750 maunds; the exports to Calcutta were 1,000 maunds, and the stocks in hand were 54,830 maunds. The prices are falling; they are now—best rice 7½ seers, common rice 12½, wheat 14⅝, barley 20, and paddy 19 seers per rupee.

Chumparun, 4*th November* 1877—Prices are higher. The worst rice is 12½ seers the rupee at Motihari Slight exports from one or two places.

Monghyr, 3*rd November* 1877—The stock of food-grains for sale at the different marts in the district during the week consisted of rice 6,351 maunds, rahur 5,306, wheat 23,507, paddy 2,482 maunds, &c.

Purneah, 3*rd November* 1877—Prices are high, but there is nothing special to report; trade seems brisk, especially in the north west near the Koosi river.

Maldah, 3*rd November* 1877—Prices are somewhat cheaper this week; coarse rice averages 20 seers per rupee.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, Deoghur, 1*st November* 1877—The supply of food-grains in the different marts of Deoghur sub-division during the week consisted of paddy 60 maunds, wheat 54 maunds, ordinary rice 283 maunds, best rice 20 maunds, Indian-corn 740 maunds, and gram 31 maunds. 685 maunds of Indian-corn were exported to the North-Western Provinces. The price of common rice ranged from Rs. 2-4 to 2-10 per maund.

Cuttack, 3*rd November* 1877.—The exports at False Point this week are 22,469 maunds as against 49,932 maunds during the previous week. The whole of this week's exports went to Madras and Kotapatam. Prices are stationary in the district. Coarsest rice is rather cheaper at head-quarters.

Pooree, 1*st November* 1877.—The supply of rice to inland markets is fair, but the prices are little cheaper, owing to decrease of exportation and the demand for money by the peasantry for payment of the Government revenue on the 8th November. The present rates are 13½ to 21 seers per rupee.

Balasore, 2*nd November* 1877.—During the past week the exports were 2,092 maunds of rice and 2,736 maunds of paddy from Chandbally to Calcutta. Prices are still falling, and the price of clean red rice at Chandbally and Balasore is Rs 1-12 per maund. At Balasore stocks held by merchants and loaded on board sloops amount to 1,02,000 maunds, and at Chandbally the mercantile stocks are 49,958 maunds.

Hazareebagh, 2*nd November* 1877.—The prices of all kinds of food-grains have fallen steadily. The markets are well supplied No exports reported

Lohardugga, 3*rd November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains in the market is abundant, and the prices of rice at head-quarters and Palamow are falling.

Singhbhoom, 2*nd November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains continues plentiful. The price of coarse rice is 32 seers per rupee, but that of the other grains is the same as before. Exportation is insignificant.

Manbhoom, 3*rd November* 1877.—There has been no exportation The district continues fairly well off for grain of all sorts.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 3rd November 1877.

No.	District and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div'n. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	The outturn of the aman crop may now be estimated with some definiteness at from 8 to 10 annas Rain would now affect it but little For the winter sowings rain is much wanted. Fever is still prevalent and cholera is reported from some parts of the district
2	Bankoora, „ 3 „	Nil	The sky has been cloudy during the greater part of the week, and there has been slight rain in some parts of the district. The prospects of the crops are very good. A little more rain would, however, be very useful.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy for the latter half of the week The prospects of the crops remain unchanged. The rain, which is now threatening, would be of great use to crops on high lands.
4	Midnapore, „ 3 „	Nil	After three or four cloudy and hot days the wind has changed to the north, and the cold weather seems to have set in. The prospects of the crops are the same as before, i e very good crops in some places, and short crops in other places, according to the local rainfall from the 1st to the 25th October 1877.
5	Hooghly, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—getting cooler The rubbee sowings are going on The prospects of the late rice remain unchanged. One immediate shower is necessary to ensure a full crop. Fever is prevalent.
	Howrah, „ 5 „	·20	Weather—too hot to be seasonable. Rain is much wanted on the high lands for the dâus, which has in some places been much damaged by the recent drought. The low lands have an excellent crop, but rain would do them good also.
	Central Districts
Presidency Div'n. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warm for the time of year. The prospects of the crops continue satisfactory, but rain would do good, especially to the crops on the higher lands. The cold-weather crops are being sown in many places Health is fairly good.
7	Nuddea. „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—unusually warm No rain, though the sky is often cloudy. The cold-weather crops are being sown, and their prospects are not unfavorable. The late rice is generally reported to be in pretty good condition, but rain is urgently required There is a good deal of sickness in Kishnaghur and in other parts of the district.
8	Jessore „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—generally cloudy Heavy dews North wind The prospects of the crops are everywhere good, except in Bagirhat, where it is said more rain is much wanted, as well as in some parts of Magoorah
9	Moorshedabad, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—unusually close for the time of year The aman rice promises well, but want of rain will prevent it being a full crop on the higher lands Sowings for the spring crops are general. Mulberry and sugarcane are in good condition There is a good deal of sickness about Berhampore and the jurisdiction of Nowada and Burwa, where cholera also has made its appearance. Elsewhere the public health is fairly good.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Div'n. 10	Dinagepore, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and close, causing great sickness. The winter rice is coming to ear There is no lack of moisture in the planted lands. Much high land however, remains unplanted. The jute in the north has been good, with 16 annas outturn, and the bhadoi crops have yielded only 10 annas from want of moisture Sugarcane is promising well.
11	Rajshahye, „ 3 „	Nil	During the greater part of the week the weather was cloudy in the day, but no rain fell; nights clear with heavy dew. The condition of the winter rice is satisfactory; if there is a shower of rain the outturn will be good Til and kalai also are very fair. The sowing of cereals continues. A few cases of cholera have been again reported.
12	Rungpore, „ 2 „	Nil	The weather has been cloudy for the last three days, but there has been no rain The state and prospects of the crops continue most favourable. Public health is good for this time of year.
13	Bogra, „ 3 „	·50 (on the 3rd before 12 o'clock)	Weather—clear and bright during the early part of the week, and cloudy and rainy towards the end, with wind as usual at this time of year The prospects of the crops continue good. The rain which was falling at the time of report will, it is hoped, do good to the crops Fever is prevalent, especially in Panchbibi and Badulgachi, and cholera in Bogra, Shariakandi, Dhoonat, Modhoopore, Khetlal, and Dhoopchanchia.

	Central Districts.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 14	Pubna, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warm for the time of year. More rain is wanted for aman crop. The state and prospects of rubbee crops are good. Fever is still prevalent in Pubna town and cholera in Serajgunge.
15	Darjeeling, „ 2 „	Nil	Bright weather during the day; heavy dews at night. The prospects of the crops throughout the district are good.
16	Julpigoree, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—very hot and oppressive for the time of year in the daytime. The nights are tolerably cool. The prospects of the winter rice crop are good all over the district. The jute harvest is over; the crop has not proved a very good one. Transplantation of tobacco has commenced. Land is being prepared for mustard. Kalai and til are doing tolerably well. Public health is bad. Cattle disease is prevalent in the interior.
	Cooch Behar, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fair and cool. Some rain is wanted for the haimunti dhan, though it may do harm to the cold-weather crops. Fields are being actively prepared for mustard seeds. The transplanting of tobacco seedlings has not yet fairly commenced. Public health is generally good.
	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN. 17	Dacca, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cloudy and close. Apparently threatening rain every day, but none falling, except at Moonsheegunge, where 1·51 fell. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. Rain within this week will do much good. Cholera still prevails.
18	Furreedpore, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot and occasionally cloudy, but no rain, with the exception of a very slight fall (·38) at Madaripore. Rain is required for the preparation of the land for future crop. It would be too late to be of much service to the rice now in the ground, which cannot be expected to yield more than an eight-anna crop at the outside.
19	Backergunge, „ 1 „	·52	Rain is greatly wanted, and in the absence of it the crops are assuming a stunted and semi-withered appearance. As yet much damage has not been done. The general health of the people is fairly good. The cattle everywhere are reported to be healthy.
20	Mymensingh, „ 2 „	06	The cold weather is very late in setting in. There has been for some days every appearance of a heavy storm to come The prospects of the crops are satisfactory generally.
21	Tipperah, „ 2 „	·41	More like the rainy season again. 1·23 at Brahmunbaria. Weather sultry and offensive, with occasional showers of rain The rain that has fallen has been very beneficial to the rice sown on high lands. The prospects of the winter rice crop are excellent.
CHITTAGONG DIVS. 22	Chittagong, „ 1 „	14	Weather—fine and warm. Mornings misty The late transplantings want some rain; the rest of the aman crop is promising well.
23	Noakholly, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fair. The aman crops are progressing very favourably. The cultivation of vegetables and others cold-weather crops on high ground is going on The rivers fell early in this season. The water has receded, and the country is drying up unusually quickly and early. Public heath is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, Oct. 30 „	64	Slight falls of rain on the 27th and 28th October The gathering of the joom paddy is over. Cotton pods have been formed in some places. Land is being ploughed for mustard.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 31 „	·11	Very slight rain on the 28th October. The heat is still considerable in the day, but the nights are cold The prospects of the crops continue good.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION. 25	Patna, Nov. 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot during the day. Mornings and evenings cool. Rice would be better for a little more rain on high lands The rubbee sowings are still going on. The prospects of both crops continue favourable.
26	Gya, „ 3 „	·08	Weather—cloudy and moderately cool. Maximum thermometer in the shade 91·4°. Prospects are unchanged. Taking account of tracts irrigated by the canal and otherwise, the average outturn in the Aurungabad sub-division of the khurreef crop is estimated at from seven to eight annas.
27	Shahabad, „ 3 „	Nil	No rain throughout the district. The weather has been a little warmer than in previous week, though nights and mornings are fairly cool. In Sasseram the rubbee has germinated well, and a little rain would be beneficial; sugarcane is very good everywhere Buxar reports the rubbee sowings uncompleted; rain is wanted for the dhan crops where not near canals. In Bhubbooah the rubbee sowings are safe; the aghani crops have died of drought, and are being used as fodder; sugarcane is good everywhere. In the Sudder sub-division the rubbee is coming up well; sugarcane is plentiful and excellent near canals. Public health is generally good.
28	Durbhunga, „ 3 „	Nil	The prospects of the winter rice are unchanged since last report. The rubbee sowings are progressing.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Continued.)
Patna Division.	29	Mozufferpore, Nov 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cool and clear. There is no change to report in the prospects of the rice crop. The rubbee sowings are progressing well.
	30	Sarun, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—clear mornings and evenings, nights cool, but the temperature is higher than it should be. The prospects of the crops remain unchanged. Sugarcane and rahur are good. Public health is good.
	31	Chumparun, „ 4 „	Nil	No rain anywhere. Generally bright, but with intervals of cloudy, somewhat blighting, unhealthy weather. The prospects of the crops are bad, except along the north boundary, in the far west, and in a very small part in the east. In other parts the rice is withering on the high lands, and is much too dry in places to get the ear filled. Ten or twelve annas of rice are estimated in a small part, four annas again, or less, in other parts; generally, hardly half a crop is expected. The soil is hardly better than dust on most of the rubbee fields. Much fever about.
Bhagulpore Div.	32	Monghyr, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot and unseasonable. Rain threatened, but did not come. The prospects are at present good. There will be eight annas crops abroad.
	33	Bhagulpore, ...	.....	Return not received.
	34	Purneah, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The aghani prospects are very good. Koorthi and arhur are growing well. Ploughing for rubbee sowings are progressing favourably.
	35	Maldah, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot for the time of year. Unless more rain falls the Aaimunti on the higher lands will not exceed 12 annas. Fever is very prevalent.
	36	Sonthal Pergns., „ 4 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy, but no rain. The prospects of the crops still continue good all round.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn.	37	Cuttack, Nov. 3 „	·45	Weather—fine. A very heavy storm and rain for a short time on the 31st October. The late rain has done much good and relieved much anxiety In some parts to the north and east more rain is wanted. As a whole, the reports of the crops are favourable.
	38	Pooree, „ 1 „	·30	Weather—clear for the most part of the week. Mornings cool; slight rain on the 31st October. The wind blows from the north-east, and the sky is cloudy. The rice crops on high lands and on some low lands have in some places in the Khoordah sub-division been reported to be suffering seriously. The state of the crops in the Pooree sub-division is more gloomy than that reported last A good shower of rain is needed almost everywhere. Cattle disease is reported
	39	Balasore, „ 2 „	·11	Weather—cloudy, with slight shower at head-quarters. No rain has fallen in the south-east of the district, where a quarter of the rice crop is reported to have been already destroyed by drought, and more will be lost if rain does not fall soon. In the rest of the district the harvest will be fair. Public health is good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency.
	40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 2 '77	·19	Weather—seasonable; settled fine. The slight fall of rain reported has not been sufficient to do any particular good. There is no change to report about the prospects of the crops. Where possible, the ground is being broken up for the rubbee crops.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 3 „	·99	Weather—cloudy, with promise of more rain. The rain that has fallen will do much good. An average outturn of winter rice is expected over most parts of the district. In four thanas only the yield is expected to be 12 annas. Other crops on the ground all promise well. From Palamow it is reported that, no rain fell during the week ending 30th October; that the rubbee sowing is in progress, but will be soon stopped for want of rain; and that the winter crops will also suffer if there be no rain very soon.
	42	Singbhoom „ 2 „	·66	Weather—seasonable. No change to report about the Aaimunti rice crop. It is indifferent in some and fair in other parts. The cold weather crops are all doing well. The district is healthy.
	43	Manbhoom, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot for the time of year. Prospects are not favourable. The rice crop will be poor in some and rich in other places An average of ten annas will be got throughout the district. Mustard will not be a good crop, and there has been apparently a failure of lac.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table,—"Prof. papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 1 o.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on Friday, the 16th November 1877, corresponding with 2nd Aughran 1284 B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of these estates will be considered as the proprietor of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2. The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3. If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4. If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estates to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

DACCA COLLECTORATE, the 12th September 1877. D. R. LYALL, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Cuttack, will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 9th November 1877, corresponding with the 26th Kartic 1285 Umli.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

1. The purchaser of each estate will be considered as the proprietor of that estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, the only right reserved by Government being the right of revising the jummah at the conclusion of the term of the present settlement and on the expiration of all future settlements. If on resettlement he should refuse to engage, he will be entitled to malikana. The estate will be sold, subject up to the year 1897 A.D. to the Government revenue against it, to the highest bidder above the upset price.

2. The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3. If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4. If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

CALCUTTA POST OFFICE, the 6th November 1877.

Simla, the 1st November 1877.

NOTICE is hereby given that an arrangement has been concluded for the exchange of parcels between India and the Straits Settlement.

On and after the 1*st December* 1877, parcels can be sent to places in the Straits Settlement under the rates and conditions given for that Settlement in the following revised set of rules, which, from the above-mentioned date, will supersede those issued under the Notification by the Financial Department, No. 2887, dated 15th September 1876:—

Overland Parcel Post.

(1).—Parcels are received at any Post Office in India (including Aden) under the conditions and rates of charge mentioned below for transmission to the following countries, viz.:—

COUNTRIES.	Rate of charge per lb or fraction thereof. Pre-payment compulsory.	Remarks respecting special conditions, &c., applicable to particular countries.
	Annas.
The United Kingdom ...	8	The prepayment carries the parcel as far as London, any additional charge which may become due on account of British custom duty or carriage beyond London being realized from the addressee. Parcels must not exceed £50 in value. Any parcel which, on examination of the declaration at Bombay, may be found to exceed this value will, instead of being forwarded by the Overland Parcel Post, be transferred to the Bombay Agency of the P. & O. S. N. Company for transmission independently of the Post Office, and subject to such regulations and charges on delivery as may be applicable thereto under the Company's regulations. (NOTE.—The Company's present charge is an ad valorem rate of 2 per cent., which does not include Marine or other Insurance.) The attention of the public is invited to the fact that the British Post Office has no connection with the Overland Parcel Post; all arrangements out of India are made by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, and enquiries proceeding from the United Kingdom should be addressed to that Company's Office, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E. C. The rules governing the despatch of parcels from the United Kingdom to India are, however, published in the British Postal Guide, and exhibited in every British Post Office. Persons in India ordering goods to be sent out by parcel-post may refer the sender to the above means of information about the transmission of parcels.
Ceylon	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. Parcels must not contain any jewellery. The route is viâ Tuticorin for Southern India and viâ Bombay for other parts of India: see Rule (4.)
The Straits, i. e.,—		The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. The ports of destination are free ports, so that no custom duty will be chargeable therein.
Singapore	8
Penang
Malacca		The routes are by opium steamers (Jardine, Matheson, and Apcar), monthly through Calcutta to Singapore: by B. I. S. N. Company fortnightly through Calcutta or Madras to Singapore, Penang, and Malacca: and by P. & O. S. N. Company fortnightly through Bombay to Singapore and Penang: see rule (4.)
Germany	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to destination. Should any custom duty become due, the amount will be charged on delivery. See also rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Austria-Hungary ...
Denmark	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Sweden	8	The pre-payment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
Norway
Switzerland
France	8	The prepayment carries the parcel to the limit of German conveyance, a separate charge being made on delivery for conveyance beyond the German frontier, as well as for custom duty, should any become due. From Rule 3 it will be seen that there must be also a second or duplicate declaration of contents and value, and that the second or duplicate declaration should contain a statement of the weight (lb. and ozs. or tolas) of the contents, and should, if possible, be written in the French language. See also Rule 9 respecting compensation for damage or loss.
The Netherlands (Holland.)
Belgium

(2).—Every parcel should be securely packed in a close cover or case, and should bear the name and address of the person in the United Kingdom or foreign country for whom it is intended. Parcels containing valuables should be sealed.

N. B.—The public are specially warned against the use of flimsy covers for articles transmitted by the Parcel Post. Heavy articles are sometimes sent with only paper covering insecurely tied with string; friction in transit detaches this cover, and damage and loss ensue. A covering of stout cloth or wax-cloth, sewn at the edges, is recommended; but if the contents are liable to suffer from pressure, boxes of wood or tin should be used.

(3).—Every parcel should be accompanied by a separate paper headed with the address of the parcel and containing a declaration of its contents and value under the signature of the sender. Below the signature the address of the sender should be given.

For the parcels addressed to—

- The United Kingdom ... } Only one declaration as above described is required.
- Ceylon ... }
- Straits ... }
- Germany ... }
- Austria-Hungary ... }
- Denmark ... }
- Sweden ... } A second or duplicate declaration is also required.
- Norway ... }
- Switzerland ... }
- France } A second or duplicate declaration is also required, and the sender is requested to enter in the declaration a statement of the weight (lbs. and ozs. or tolahs) of the contents, and to write the second or duplicate declaration, if possible, in the French language. Should he be unable to do so, the Bombay Post Office attach to the second or duplicate English declaration a French rendering thereof, but the sender is warned of the delay which may result from this.
- The Netherlands (Holland) ...
- Belgium ...

It is not deemed necessary to require exact adherence to any particular form of declaration, but the following specimen form may be useful to the senders of parcels:—

Specimen form of declaration.

THOMAS B. SMITH,

114, Piccadilly,

LONDON.

CONTENTS—

	Value £ s. d.
1 Piece Puttoo Cloth	2 0 0
1 Rampore Chudder	2 10 0
Total ...	4 10 0

I declare the above to be a true statement of the contents and value.

(Sd) A. R. ROBINSON,

Amritsar.

N. B.—Declarations for parcels intended for France, the Netherlands or Belgium should, in addition to the above, contain a statement of the weight (lb and ozs. or tolahs) of the contents This may conveniently be done by adding the words "weight—lb—ozs.' underneath the total value and the words "and weight" at the end of the sentence containing the declaration.

(4).—The parcel so addressed and the separate paper or papers above referred to should then be enclosed in a substantial outer cover. This outer cover should be superscribed and addressed as follows:—

If addressed to Ceylon.

Overland Parcel Post	Postage stamp to be affixed.
To The Post Master, Tuticorin* or Bombay.*

or

If addressed to the Straits.

Overland Parcel Post	Postage stamp to be affixed.
To The Post Master, Calcutta or Madras or Bombay†

or

If addressed to any other country.

Overland Parcel Post.	Postage stamp to be affixed.
To The Post Master Bombay.

* N. B.—The address should be to Tuticorin if posted in Southern India, and to Bombay if posted in other parts of India.

† N. B.—The address to Calcutta or Madras or Bombay should be according to the locality of posting.

The outer cover must contain one parcel only: if more than one parcel be sent by the same sender, such parcel should be sent separately.

(5).—The parcel so made up must be fully pre-paid by means of postage stamps at the rate of 8 annas per lb (40 tolahs) or fraction of a lb, care being taken that the stamps adhere firmly to the cover.

(6).—The parcel so made up must not exceed 50 lbs. (25 seers) in weight, or 2 feet in length by 1 foot in breadth or depth. It will be received at any Post Office at the hours fixed for the receipt of ordinary banghy parcels, the usual receipt being given to the sender without reference to the mode of packing prescribed in the case of inland parcels for which receipts are claimed.

(7).—On arrival at the Indian sea port of address, the Post Master will take off the outer covering, and forward the inside parcel and the accompanying declaration or declarations to the country of inside address.

(8).—It is forbidden to send in these parcels opium or any liquid or any substance or material of a dangerous damaging, or offensive kind.

(9).—In the case of parcels for or from Germany or Austria-Hungary and the foreign countries served through Germany, compensation will be given by the responsible Post Office to the sender for loss or damage sustained in transit (cases of sea risk or of vis major or of the own negligence of the sender in respect of packing or otherwise excepted). Such compensation will in no case exceed 1½ rupee for each lb. weight or fraction thereof in respect of parcels forwarded from India, and 3 marks or 1½ florins for each 500 grammes or fraction thereof in respect of parcels from Germany or Austria-Hungary. Should the sender desire it, the compensation will be paid to the addressee instead of to himself.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON THE LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1876.

MEDICAL.

Darjeeling, the 20th October 1877.

READ—

The Annual Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1876.

Read again—

The Report for the previous year, with the orders of Government passed upon it.

THE number of lunatic asylums in Bengal was increased during the year by the opening of the Hazarcebagh Asylum on the 26th May. Up to this time complaints had been constantly made of the overcrowded condition of the other asylums, and Sir Richard Temple took advantage of the removal of the prisoners from the district to the central jail to provide accommodation for about 250 lunatics. In according sanction to the establishment of the new asylum, the Government of India asked that due attention might be paid to the principles which should govern the reception of lunatics for maintenance and treatment at the public cost. There is reason to believe that these principles had been more or less lost sight of, and that a large number of persons had been received into asylums whose friends were perfectly well able to give them support and the requisite care, or whose condition was the temporary result of habits which rendered them unfitting objects for gratuitous medical treatment in public institutions. The attention of the district officers was prominently drawn to the subject, and instructions were issued which have had the effect of considerably reducing the number of admissions. The principle which has now taken the place of more or less indiscriminate admission is that persons suffering from the temporary results of sickness, intemperance, or debauchery, and those whom their friends ought to support, should be excluded from asylums, and that, in addition to criminal lunatics, those only should be received who are absolutely dangerous, or who, having no friends or resources, may be in the acute stage in which there is most hope of recovery from medical treatment. Enquiries were also instituted to ascertain to what extent lunatics had been received in asylums who would on this principle have been excluded. In many instances, of course, it would be a measure of extreme harshness to remove lunatics who under the present practice would have been refused admittance. All that can be done is to release those whose friends are willing to support them, and to guard against any laxity of practice in future. Some lunatics were made over to their friends during the year. Several have been similarly dealt with since the beginning of the current year, and enquiries are still in progress regarding others.

2. It has resulted from these measures that the tendency to increase of the asylum population, which on the 1st January 1870 stood at 746, and on 1st January 1876 at 1,147, has at length received a check. The number in confinement on the last day of the past year was 1,131, and, as has already been observed, several releases have since taken place and others are in contemplation. The total number of admissions was 329, and of re-admissions 37, against 384 and 34 in the previous year. The number of re-admissions, though shown as 37, was really only 26, as 11 persons re-admitted into the Hazareebagh Asylum were patients captured shortly after escape. The full effect of the Government orders is not observable in these returns, as they were not promulgated until the close of the first quarter. Of the 366 persons admitted and re-admitted, 258 were Hindoos, 92 were Mahomedans, 10 were Christians, and 6 fell under other designations. The proportion of males to females was about 4 to 1. Of the 26 bonâ-fide re-admissions 13 were cases of recurrent insanity, chiefly due to intoxication, received in the Dullunda Asylum. It may be questioned if a sufficiently strict adherence to the instructions of Government would not have led the Magistrates who passed the orders of admission in some of these cases to dispose otherwise of the insane persons in question.

3. The following table exhibits the capacity of each of the native lunatic asylums, allowing 50 superficial feet to each patient, and the number of lunatics confined in each on the last day of the year:—

	Males.		Females.		Total
	Capacity.	Number on 31st December	Capacity.	Number on 31st December.	Capacity	Number on 31st December
Dullunda	246	164	47	65	293	229
Dacca	127	168	50	34	177	202
Patna	190	149	70	60	260	209
Cuttack	32	41	11	5	43	46
Moydapore ...	58	38	10	12	68	50
Berhampore	175	113	55	59	230	172
Hazareebagh .	351	223	40	..	392	223
Grand Total ..	1,180	896	283	235	1,463	1,131

With the completion of the new ward under construction in Dacca the capacity of that asylum will be raised from 177 to 217. It will be observed that the actual capacity of the asylums is now much in excess of the requirements, and that it is likely to exceed them still further. There was, however, some overcrowding of females in Dullunda, Moydapore, and Berhampore, and of males in Dacca and Patna. This need not have occurred, and it can easily be obviated in future. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently directed the closing of Moydapore, a small and unhealthy asylum, which is quite close to Berhampore. It should, Mr. Eden thinks, be the policy of Government to have a few large and conveniently situated asylums rather than several small ones which have been opened from time to time as accommodation was found available. The opening of the Northern Bengal Railway and the establishment of a regular passenger steamer service between the Orissa ports and Calcutta may perhaps render it possible to reduce the number of asylums further and to concentrate the lunatics in four or five institutions, thus diminishing the expenditure on establishment.

4. The number of criminal lunatics in asylums was 232 at the beginning and 269 at the close of the year. The admissions and re-admissions numbered 85 and 6 respectively, while 31 were discharged and 23 died. The Lieutenant-Governor understands that 29 of the total number have recovered their reason, but are detained under the orders of Government. Mr. Eden has at present under consideration the question of the place in which these persons should be confined. It is obvious that the presence in asylums of criminals who have regained their faculties must be a source of much danger and difficulty in the management of these institutions. Dr. Beatson's observations on the advantages of complete seclusion of criminal lunatics appear to be judicious. This subject also is already receiving separate consideration.

5. Among the causes of insanity, excess in ganja accounted for 30·66 per cent., and excess in spirituous liquors for 4·16 per cent., of the cases treated during the year. It may be presumed that of the latter at least many cases were such as would be refused admission under the recent orders on the subject. Grief was assigned as the predisposing cause in 5·55 per cent. of the cases. Altogether 45·78 per cent. were attributed to the operation of physical, and 7·93 per cent. to that of moral causes, while in 46·33 per cent. the cause was unknown. The various types of insanity prevailed in the following proportions:—Chronic mania 38·86, chronic dementia 24·25, acute mania 20·42, melancholia 9·05, acute dementia 4·36, idiocy ·79, and imbecility and amentia ·39 per cent. The recoveries were 21·03 per cent. of the cases in acute mania, 15·15 in acute dementia, 7·31 in chronic mania, 1·45 in melancholia, and 1·08 in chronic dementia. There were no recoveries from idiocy or amentia. The proportion of complete cures was 10·61 per cent. of average strength, 8·58 per cent. of cases treated, and 35·51 per cent of admissions. The proportion of recoveries, partial and total, was 17·14 per cent of average strength, 13·86 per cent. of the total treated, and 57·36 per cent. of admissions. These results are much less favourable than those of the previous year, which gave 28·23, 21·31, and 76·07 per cent. respectively, and were also considerably below the average of the preceding quinquennial period. The various fluctuations will be noticed in the special remarks on the different asylums. No general explanation of the decrease is offered, but it is doubtless in some degree attributable to the more careful selection of lunatics for admission during a part of the year; and from this point of view it may be expected that the results of the current year will also appear less successful than those of 1875 and the year immediately preceding it Dr. Beatson points out that even last year's results compare favourably with the statistics of the public asylums of Middlesex and Surrey for the ten years ending in 1874. It appears that in these institutions the average proportion of cures was 7·56 per cent. of average strength, 22·95 per cent. of cases treated, and 30·51 per cent. of admissions. The comparison is interesting, but it does not appear to be of any practical value. The mass of the population of England, and especially of the metropolitan districts, is exposed to very different mental conditions from those which are produced by the every-day life of the native of Bengal. The stimulus to mental activity is greater and more sustained, and the strain on the faculties is more severe. It is only natural, therefore, that in the former case lunacy would assume more complex and less tractable forms than in the latter. The only useful basis of comparison is to be found in the results of different asylums in Bengal, and in the results of the same asylums in different years. Viewed according to these tests, the results of the year exhibit a wide and imperfectly explained divergence in the degree of success attained.

6. There were 1,152 admissions into hospital, or 94 per cent. of average daily strength, against a proportion of 102·4 per cent in 1875. The average daily number of sick was 8·02 per cent. of mean strength, against 7·48 in the previous year. The admissions into hospital were exceptionally numerous in Dacca and Moydapore, where they numbered 250 and 230 per cent. of males and 103 and 235 per cent. of females respectively. In Dacca the daily average proportion of sick to mean strength was 17·49 per cent. of males and 12·54 per cent. of females; in Patna it was 9·42 and 7·46 respectively; and in Hazareebagh, where only males were confined, it was 10·83. In Dullunda and Berhampore the rates were, for males 53·6 and 55·48 admissions and 3·49 and 2·47 daily average sick per cent. of mean strength, and for females 49·6 and 3·3 and 65·9 and 1·9 respectively. It is clear therefore, after every allowance is made for the mental and inferior physical condition of insane patients, that there must be some special conditions affecting the health of the lunatics in Dacca, Moydapore, and Hazareebagh. This point will be adverted to further on. It seems highly probable that the great frequency of diarrhœa and dysentery in all the asylums may be to a considerable extent due to a practice amongst the lunatics, discovered both at Dullunda and Hazareebagh, of drinking exceedingly impure water; but measures have now been adopted to exclude them from access to this impure supply at those two asylums, and similar precautions should be taken in other asylums. The average mortality in the asylums during the year was 9·7 per cent. of mean strength. This death-rate is lower than was attained in any one of the previous ten years, and it is no less than 5 per cent. below the average mortality of that period. Cuttack heads the list with 18·11 per cent., chiefly caused by diarrhœa and dysentery; Dacca and Dullunda come next with 13 and 11·3 respectively; Hazareebagh and Moydapore, in which, as has been remarked, the number of sick was large, the mortality was, curiously enough, below the average. Berhampore and Patna are the only asylums which preserve a fairly low rate both of sickness and of mortality.

7. The statement showing the receipts and expenditure of each asylum presents some very remarkable features. It is here reproduced in full.

The daily average strength of the Hazareebagh Asylum is given as 204. This, however, is only the daily average for the seven months and six days during which the asylum was open. Consequently the average cost of each patient only extends over that period, and a modification of the figures is required to find the annual average cost. The general annual averages are thus vitiated. It appears also that the sum of Rs. 10,099, entered in the statement as the total expenditure at Hazareebagh, has been taken inadvertently for the sum of Rs. 10,119, of which the particulars are given in the Superintendent's report. This error vitiates the averages calculated for Hazareebagh. The very trifling sum realized from the friends of patients cannot fail to attract attention. The inquiries which have now been set on foot will, it is hoped, effect better results in this respect for the future. Some explanation should have been offered of the circumstances under which Dacca Asylum earned only Rs. 408 from manufactures, while the actual profits in Patna were Rs. 2,577, and in Dullunda Rs. 9,708. The statement shows no profits against Cuttack,

Moydapore, and Berhampore. It appears, however, from the Superintendents' reports that the manufacture departments in those asylums earned Rs. 179, Rs. 158, and Rs. 1,330 respectively during the year; and if this be the case, the figures in the statement are incorrect. The gross average cost of maintaining each patient varies most markedly. Thus in Dullunda it is Rs. 142, in Dacca Rs. 110, in Cuttack Rs. 96, in Patna Rs. 87, in Hazareebagh at the rate of about Rs. 81, in Berhampore Rs. 80, and in Moydapore Rs. 78. The gross cost per head on account of "establishment" ranged from Rs. 70 in Dullunda and Rs. 58 in Cuttack to Rs. 39 in Berhampore and Rs. 38 in Patna. The annual average charge for "diet," which was Rs. 55 per head in Dullunda and Rs. 54 in Dacca, was only Rs. 32 in Berhampore, Rs. 31 in Cuttack, and Rs. 27 in Hazareebagh. The average charge for "contingencies" was Rs. 12-8-9 at Dullunda, or much more than double the charge at any other asylum except Hazareebagh, where the circumstances were exceptional, the asylum having initial charges to meet. The Lieutenant-Governor sees no good reason why the expenses of Dullunda, Dacca, and Cuttack should so largely exceed the average. The variation of expenditure and earnings has been made the subject of a special reference to the Surgeon-General, who has been requested to submit a full report on the subject.

Dullunda.—The admissions into this asylum numbered only 158, against 195·4, the average of the previous five years. The percentage of "cured" to the daily average strength was 22·3, against 28·3; of "improved" 9·6, against 8·3; and of "otherwise discharged" 37·8, against 7·7. Dr. Payne ascribes the fall in the percentage of recoveries to the decreased number of admissions. The increase in the percentage of lunatics discharged without improvement is to be attributed to large transfers to Hazareebagh and Berhampore. The sanitary condition of the asylum showed a marked improvement on previous years. Though cholera prevailed in the neighbourhood, only two cases occurred in the asylum, and neither of them terminated fatally. Dysentery, which was formerly very rife, was of comparatively infrequent occurrence, and only 35 cases of dysentery and diarrhœa occurred during the year, against 103 in 1875. It was discovered by Dr. Payne early in the year that the lunatics were in the habit of drinking stagnant water which had been used for the purpose of purification. The adoption of measures to prevent this was followed by a prompt disappearance of intestinal worms and a great reduction in bowel-complaints generally. Dr. Payne explains that the net profits from the asylum industry would have been much larger had not an outlay of Rs. 8,800 on buildings been defrayed from the receipts. Dr. Beatson quotes some remarks of the Deputy Surgeon-General, Dr. Cockburn, on the management of this asylum. The Lieutenant-Governor fully concurs in the testimony borne by Dr. Cockburn to the excellence of Dr. Payne's administration, but would be glad if the Superintendent could devise some means of keeping the expenditure of the institution within somewhat narrower limits.

Dacca.—The average daily strength was only 206·8, against 250 in the previous year. Admissions numbered only 65, against 109·8, the previous quinquennial average. The proportion discharged cured was 2·9 per cent. of average strength, against 13·98, and that discharged "improved" 11·60, against 4·32. The Superintendent explains the decrease under the former head by the increase under the latter. His remarks, however, are not quite clear. He states that the number discharged as "improved" includes some whom, but for the Government orders, he would have kept back for a time. It does not appear, therefore, that these persons would have under any circumstances appeared as "cured." In any case the total of the two classes is only 14·5, against 18·3. A partial explanation is probably to be found in the falling off in admissions, but this will not account for the greater part of the decrease. There was some overcrowding among the males, but this was not, in the Superintendent's opinion, prejudicial to their health. A new ward to accommodate 40 patients was approaching completion at the close of the year. Reference has already been made to the comparative unhealthiness of this asylum. It appears that in 1875 the Deputy Surgeon-General of the circle remarked on the excessive and draughty ventilation of the female wards. It is also to be remarked that a very discreditable system of peculation by subordinates, reflecting seriously on the administration of several of the late Superintendents, has recently been brought to light. The circumstances leave little doubt that the lunatics were unscrupulously deprived of their proper allowance of food. It is not remarkable, therefore, that dysentery and diarrhœa caused 42 per cent. of the mortality among the males and 37·5 per cent. of that among the females, while debility accounted for 15·7 and 25 per cent. respectively. There appears to be no reason why this asylum should continue to be unhealthy.

Patna.—The results were fairly favourable in this asylum. Admissions fell from an average of 103·6 to 80. The percentage of patients discharged "improved" was 3·5 against an average of 2; and the percentage "cured" (16·3), though less than the previous quinquennial average of 19·9, showed an improvement on the results of the two years immediately preceding. The most prominent feature in the sanitary history of the asylum during the year was the large comparative mortality from phthisis. This complaint caused 54 per cent. of the mortality among males and 60 per cent. of that among females. No explanation has been offered of this, nor is any suggested by the special circumstances of the asylum.

Cuttack.—The condition of this small and expensive asylum is unsatisfactory. It was considerably overcrowded during a part of the year, and there is no separate hospital accommodation. The combined percentages of "cured" and "improved" only amounted to 19·7, against the quinquennial average of 26·8. The death-rate was exceptionally high, amounting to 16·75 among males and to 28·57 among females. The Superintendent explains, however, that nearly all the deaths were chronic cases, and that some of the sufferers had been from three to eleven years in the asylum. A new asylum building has been designed, but its erection has been postponed for financial reasons. The present building is required for amalgamation with the jail. Mr. Eden is not quite satisfied that an asylum is really necessary at Cuttack, now that regular steam communication has been established between False Point and Calcutta.

Moydapore.—There were no admissions to this asylum during the year, and consequently the statistics of recoveries are of little value for purposes of comparison. Only 5·6 per cent. of the patients were "cured" and 3·7 "improved," against averages of 21·85 and 6·29 respectively. Fever and diarrhœa were very prevalent, though they were not of a severe type. The asylum is small and unhealthy; and the Lieutenant-Governor, during his late visit to Berhampore, ordered that it should be closed, the lunatics being removed to the Berhampore Asylum.

Berhampore.—This asylum was opened in the end of 1874. There were few cures in the next year, owing, the Superintendent says, to the large number of bad cases transferred from other asylums. A large number of lunatics were transferred from Berhampore to Hazareebagh when the last-named asylum was opened; and, under special orders of Government, no criminal or dangerous lunatics were sent Circumstances have thus operated to keep down the percentages of complete and partial recoveries in this asylum to 6·6 and 4·4 respectively during the past year. The health of the lunatics was fairly good, and there were no deaths among the females.

Hazareebagh.—Here, as in Berhampore in 1875, the Superintendent complains that the great majority of the patients first transferred to the asylum were suffering from chronic forms of insanity. The percentage cured was accordingly only 1·96. Dr. Birch explains, however, that many of the lunatics who have been suffering from a long time are on the way to recovery. He attributes this favourable change in their condition to the climate of Hazareebagh. The death-rate (8·8 per cent.) was high. It appears that the mortality was largely due to the prevalence of intestinal worms arising from causes similar to those described in the Dullunda Superintendent's report. The remarks of Dr. Birch on the subject, extracted in paragraph 15 of the report, might with advantage be communicated to all Civil Surgeons. It has lately been brought to the Lieutenant-Governor's notice that the disease of which he treats is very prevalent in Bengal, and in some places the use of santonine shows it to exist among a very large proportion of the native population. The Lieutenant-Governor has read with interest the description given of the internal arrangements of the asylum, and he considers that Dr. Birch is entitled to much credit for all that he has done, with a practically untrained staff, to alleviate the sufferings of the patients confided to his charge. It is reported that the overseer, though willing, wants method and knows neither Hindustani nor Bengali. It is to be apprehended that these deficiencies must to a great extent neutralize his efforts to be useful.

Bhowanipore.—This asylum is reserved for Europeans, Eurasians, and Armenians. The asylum population on the first day of the year numbered 27, and 31 patients were admitted. Nine males were discharged cured, seven males and three females were "improved" and made over to their friends or the military authorities, and five men were despatched to Europe under the Shipping Act. There were four deaths, of which two resulted from organic cerebral disease. The Lieutenant-Governor is constrained to remark that in this asylum, as in Dullunda, the cost of maintenance is very high. It appears that, inclusive of the amount paid by the friends of lunatics, the cost of each patient averaged Rs. 1,123 per annum, or nearly Rs. 100 per mensem. After deduction of these payments, the average cost is Rs. 823. There are of course many circumstances which render the support of Europeans in India exceptionally high. The Lieutenant-Governor is informed that the gross annual cost of maintaining each lunatic is only £32-15-7 in the Lunatic Department of the Perth General Prison and only £59-17 in Broadmoor Asylum. It is true that the lunatics in these asylums are all criminals, but, on the other hand, all the Bhowanipore patients who are not paupers should be maintained at the cost of their friends; while those who are paupers should be clothed and fed on a more economical scale if possible. The chief item of expenditure, however, is under the head of "establishment." The Lieutenant-Governor is well aware of the earnestness and success with which Dr. Payne manages the institutions under his charge, but desires that his attention may be invited to the possibility of reductions in the scale of expenditure. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice the high terms in which the Deputy Superintendent and Matron of the asylum are spoken of.

The report of the Surgeon-General is full and interesting.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EXCISE IN THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR 1876-77.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS REVENUE

Calcutta, the 24th October 1877.

READ—

The report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Department of Excise in the Lower Provinces for the year 1876-77.

THE report of last year showed the recovery of the excise revenue from the effects of the scarcity which had so seriously diminished the receipts of 1874-75. In 1873-74 the revenue had exceeded 58 lakhs of rupees; in the following year it decreased to about 56¼ lakhs. But as soon as the pressure of scarcity was removed, the revenue recovered itself, and the collections of 1875-76 amounted to Rs. 60,86,919—an increase of about 4¾ lakhs compared with 1874-75, and a revenue largely exceeding the receipts of any former year.

2. The revenue, however, had by no means reached its limit, nor does there seem any reason to apprehend that it has yet done so. It appears from the present report that in 1876-77 the gross receipts amounted to Rs. 62,47,059, showing an increase of Rs. 1,60,140 over the returns of the preceding year. The improvement extends to all exciseable articles except rum and chandu, and is attributable partly to the general prosperity of the country and partly to better management and more careful supervision.

3. The proceeds of the excise revenue have been transferred by the Government of India to the Local Government, with effect from the 1st April 1877; the conditions of the transfer assuming that the gross receipts will amount in 1877-78 to 64 lakhs of rupees, and that the net revenue will thereafter show an annual increase of one lakh. Whatever may be realized in excess of this amount will be an addition to provincial funds. The Government of Bengal has thus a more direct and immediate interest than before in the development of this branch of the revenue; and the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that he may rely with confidence upon the Board, and upon divisional and district officers, to use their best exertions to secure the Local Government from any apprehension of loss in connection with the arrangement which has been concluded. It will be seen that the conditions require an addition to the gross revenue during the current year 1877-78 of about the same sum as the increase which accrued during the year under review. Any further increase than this which may be obtained will be available in relief of general provincial finances; while any amount by which the increase may fall short of this sum will have to be made good by the Local Government.

4. But the Lieutenant-Governor, while he desires to impress upon all officers concerned the importance of the financial aspect of the question, wishes it to be clearly understood that the Government is determined to maintain the principles upon which the Department of Excise has hitherto been administered. The necessary increase of revenue must be obtained by economical management, by stricter enforcement of the law, and by raising the duties on exciseable articles; but nothing must be done to stimulate consumption, or to place temptations to intemperance in the way of the people. The caution is, perhaps, unnecessary, as the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that the views of Government in this matter are already fully accepted and acted upon; but it may be well that it should be clearly understood that in pressing district officers to pay greater attention to the development of the Excise Revenue, the Lieutenant-Governor has in view the realization of the fullest possible amount of revenue on all exciseable articles, and not an increase of facilities for their sale, except so far as it is necessary to provide the means of obtaining duty paid spirits and drugs in places where, in the absence of a licit supply, the people provide themselves from illicit sources.

5. A measure for consolidating the existing excise laws in Bengal was passed during the year by the local Legislature; but it did not receive the assent of the Governor-General, and an amended Bill is now under preparation. A new Opium Act was passed by the Imperial Legislative Council in December 1876; but it has not come into operation, pending the issue of rules under section 8 of the Act for regulating the possession, sale, and transport of opium. A draft of these rules has been prepared by the Board, and is now under the consideration of Government. The cultivation of the poppy and the manufacture of opium are already regulated by Act XIII of 1857, which is not affected by the new law.

6. A comparison of the receipts under the several heads of excise revenue during the past two years gives the following results:—

Revenue from—	1876-76	1876-77.	Increase.	Decrease
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Country spirits	25,10,064	26,26,399	1,16,335	.....

Miscellaneous	207	255	48	.....
Total	60,86,919	62,47,059	2,55,766	95,626

The charges of the department amounted to Rs. 2,06,295 in 1876-77 against Rs. 2,98,115 in the preceding year. There was a slight increase in the cost of the establishments employed, but this was more than balanced by reductions in the contingent charges. A sum of Rs. 215 was remitted on account of some shops in Noakholly which were destroyed by the cyclone. The unrealized balance of the year was Rs. 7,269, of which Rs. 6,541 have since been recovered and Rs. 761 are reported to be irrecoverable. It is satisfactory to find that the charges of the department have decreased, and that the percentage of cost shows a steady diminution. In 1874-75 the cost of collection was 5·3 per cent, in the following year it fell to 4·8, and in the year under review to 4·7. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, desires to call the attention of the Board to the high percentage which still prevails in some districts. In four districts—Bankoora, Bogra, Furreedpore, and Manbhoom—the cost of collection exceeds 10 per cent., and in Dinagepore, Noakholly, Mozufferpore, and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, it is very nearly 10 per cent. The percentage is lowest in Balasore and Lohardugga, where it amounts to only 2·1 on the collections.

7. The revenue derived from country spirits is subdivided into the following heads:—

	Rs.
License fees (fixed duty system)	6,42,846
Ditto (monthly tax system)	2,94,626
Distillery fees	89,346
Still-head duty	15,98,581
Total ...	26,25,399

The receipts from license fees under the monthly tax system increased by Rs. 26,153, owing partly to higher prices being obtained for licenses, and partly to the greater extension of the outstill system, which is found to be more suitable than the distillery system to thinly populated tracts of country. The licenses granted under this system in 1876-77 were 782 against 747 in the preceding year. On the other hand, the licenses under the fixed duty system decreased from 3,645 to 3,502, and the consumption from 2,611,323 gallons to 2,397,597 gallons. The license fees under the fixed duty system and the distillery fees naturally showed a decrease, but there was a large increase of duty, owing to the rates having been raised during the year in most districts of Bengal. Altogether, the returns present the satisfactory result of an increased revenue combined with a diminished consumption and a reduction in the number of shops.

8. The report contains several recommendations for the further development of the outstill system in suitable localities, and the Lieutenant-Governor will generally be willing to rely upon the discretion of the Board in the settlement of these details, it being understood that care will be taken to limit the number of these licenses to actual requirements, and not unduly to multiply the facilities for obtaining drink. From Table I in Appendix B of the report, the Lieutenant-Governor gathers that in some outstills the tax is as low as Rs. 2 per month, a sum which seems altogether insufficient. This is a matter which should receive the early attention of the Board. No outstill should be opened unless it is an established fact that a demand for spirit exists which cannot be conveniently met by the supply of the sudder distilleries. When a distiller is only able to pay a duty of two rupees a month, it is pretty clear that no real bonâ fide demand exists. The Board should fix a minimum rate on these principles. The minimum license fee under the fixed duty system also appears capable of being increased.

9. The plan of taxing the materials used in distillation has been tried for some years in Behar, but the reports of its working are on the whole unfavourable. The rates, however, have hitherto been fixed much lower than the corresponding rates under the hydrometer system, and consequently the plan, while popular with the distillers, has not been profitable to the Government. The Lieutenant-Governor has authorized the levy of higher rates during 1878-79, and he will await the report of the results of that year before deciding whether the experiment shall be continued or not. In the district of Sarun, a system of taxing the distillers' vats according to their capacity has been tried with some success.

10. The receipts from license fees for the sale of rum were very little below those of last year, but there was a great falling off in consumption, and consequently in duty. This is attributable principally to the duty having been raised to the same rate as that levied on imported spirits, viz. Rs. 4 per gallon.

11. There was a small increase in the number of licenses for the sale of imported spirits and wines, and a corresponding increase in the amount of license fees. It should be considered whether the fees charged for retail licenses on steamers (Rs. 16 per annum) do not admit of being raised. The importations of foreign wines, spirits, and beer showed a considerable decrease, attributable partly to the unfavourable rate of exchange, and partly to the increase of duty under the new Tariff Act. This increase of duty, however, had the effect of raising the customs revenue from imported spirits from Rs. 8,73,964 to Rs. 9,83,210 in spite of diminished importations. The receipts from the duty on foreign wines declined from Rs. 3,73,068 to Rs. 3,19,070.

12. The paragraphs of the report relating to tari and pachwai call for no special remarks. Under both these heads there was an increase of revenue, owing to the issue of licenses at higher rates. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that care has been taken to reduce the number of shops on the borders of the Sonthal Pergunnahs with a view to diminish the temptations to excessive indulgence in drink among the Sonthals. From a separate report on the subject, received from the Commissioner, it appears that the efforts of the local officers to check intemperance in the Sonthal Pergunnahs have met with a considerable measure of success. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that the minimum rate of license fee for the sale of fermented tari and of pachwai is as low as Rs. 12 per annum, and it would perhaps be found possible to increase this rate.

13. The returns under the head of ganja during the last two years give the following results:—

	Number of licenses.	Consumption.	Revenue.
		Mds. s. c.	Rs.
1875-76	3,262	7,389 8 9	11,20,349
1876-77	3,130	7,458 22 5	11,97,116

The year under review, therefore, shows a decrease of 4 per cent. in the number of licenses, an increase of about 1 per cent. in the quantity consumed, and an increase of 6 per cent. in the revenue. There was not, however, any real increase of consumption in the Lower Provinces, as the exports to the North-Western Provinces, which are included in the figures given above, exceeded those of the preceding year by 110 maunds. The area of land cultivated with ganja increased in 1876-77, and the average production per acre was unusually higher, owing to the favourable character of the season: the result being that the ganja crop is estimated to have amounted to 10,814 maunds, or about 4,300 maunds in excess of the previous year's produce.

14. A careful inquiry into ganja cultivation and traffic was made during the year under the orders of Government by Deputy Collector Baboo Hem Chunder Kur, and various measures for the improvement of the existing system have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, and steps are now being taken for their introduction. The duty on ganja will also be increased from the 1st April 1878. The duty on the Gurjat ganja consumed in Orissa has already been doubled from the 1st January 1877.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor observes that while the Board's report gives the particulars of the exportation of ganja to the North-Western Provinces, and of the revenue derived therefrom, no similar particulars are given of the exportation to Assam, which is known to be very considerable. The total export from Rajshahye is stated to have been 8,456 maunds, of which 7,458 maunds were consumed in Bengal and the North-Western Provinces. It is not clear whether the balance of 998 maunds represents stocks remaining in the hands of Bengal dealers, or whether it includes the quantity exported to Assam. Apparently also the quantity stated to have been consumed includes 80 maunds of Gurjat ganja, in which case the balance to be accounted for would amount to 1,078 maunds.

16. Charas, siddhi, and majum are all preparations of the wild hemp plant. The revenue from the first and last of these is insignificant, and showed a slight increase during the year under review. The consumption of siddhi has greatly increased during the last few years. The revenue is at present derived only from license fees, except in Calcutta, where a duty of 4 annas a seer is also levied. The Lieutenant-Governor has already, in his orders on Baboo Hem Chunder Kur's Ganja Report, called the attention of the Board to the question of imposing a general duty on siddhi, and of making full inquiry regarding the preparations manufactured from the wild hemp plant. The minimum rate of license fee for the sale of these drugs, which at present is only Rs. 12, should certainly be increased. The lowest rate of fee for a license to sell ganja is Rs. 48.

17. The experiment of levying a fee on licenses for the retail sale of opium has been very successful, and the Board propose to extend it by selling these licenses by auction, a plan which has already been introduced into Calcutta and the suburbs. The revenue from opium license fees, which first appears in the returns for 1873-74, amounted in 1876-77 to Rs. 60,024. The consumption of the drug declined during the year, but the receipts showed a considerable increase, which is due partly to the more general levy of license fees, and partly to the enhancement of the selling price in several districts. In the Orissa Division the increase of price has not availed to check the growing consumption of opium, and it should be considered whether a further enhancement is not practicable. In Purneah also it might perhaps be possible to raise the price from Rs. 22 to Rs. 24. There is a slight increase in the sales of Government opium in the producing districts, and no serious cases of opium smuggling occurred during the year. Of madat and chandu, which are preparations of opium, the revenue from the former showed a small increase, while that from the latter decreased in consequence of the withdrawal of the license for the export of the drug to the Mauritius. The Board have since issued rules to regulate this export.

18. The figures which show the incidence of the excise revenue per head of population are of much interest, and an examination of them may be useful in indicating the localities which appear to require special attention and supervision. Taking the Lower Provinces as a whole, the revenue amounts in round numbers to one rupee for every ten of the population, and this proportion is maintained, or very nearly maintained, in the four divisions of which the population and the excise revenue are given in the margin. But while the Burdwan Division, with a population of about seven millions, has an excise revenue of more than six lakhs, the revenue in the Dacca Division does not amount to 5¼ lakhs, though the population exceeds nine millions, and the people generally are in better circumstances than in the districts of the Commissionership of Burdwan. In the Chittagong and Rajshahye Divisions the excise revenue per head is less than one-half of what it is in Orissa When the figures for particular districts are examined, discrepancies of a still more striking character are observed. The districts of Jessore, Burdwan, and Sarun are about equally populous, and the revenue in Burdwan and in Sarun is very nearly the same. But the revenue in Jessore is less than half the revenue in Burdwan. Cuttack and Dinagepore contain each about 1½ millions of inhabitants; but the revenue in Cuttack is Rs. 1,40,000, while in Dinagepore it is under Rs. 63,000. Pubna and Lohardugga differ very little in population; but while the revenue in the latter district is Rs. 1,62,000, in the former it is only 37,000. The three districts of Pooree, Balasore, and Hazareebagh contain each of them a little over three-quarters of a million souls; but for every five rupees of excise revenue realized in Pooree, Rs. 11 are realized in Balasore, and Rs. 12 in Hazareebagh. If we compare the populations of Maldah, Bogra, and Beerbhoom, we shall find that they differ very little, but that Maldah is rather smaller than the other two. The excise revenue, however, is, in round numbers, Rs. 32,000 in Bogra, Rs. 54,000 in Beerbhoom, and Rs. 84,000 in Maldah. The lowest rate is obtained in Noakholly, where the incidence of revenue is only one rupee to every 50 of the population.

Division	Population	Revenue
Patna ..	13,122,743	13,73,141
Bhagulpore ..	7,289,784	7,03,491
Orissa	3 034,600	3,10,170
Chota Nagpore .	3,419,591	3,46,454

19. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot believe that these remarkable divergencies are really due to different degrees either of abstemiousness or of poverty. There is no good reason for supposing that Pubna is more abstemious than Mymensingh, and it is probably little less prosperous. But the inhabitant of Mymensingh pays more than twice as much to the excise revenue as the Pubna ryot. Moorshedabad is perhaps a wealthier district than Jessore, but the difference is certainly not so great as to account for the fact that (in proportion to the population) the excise revenue of the former district is three times as large as that of the latter.

20. It may be true that town communities contribute more largely to excise than the agricultural classes, and this may in some measure explain the larger receipts in Behar, and in some districts of Bengal which contain a a considerable town population, as Dacca, Moorshedabad, and Cuttack. But when every allowance has been made on this account, discrepancies remain which can only, in Mr. Eden's opinion, be accounted for by supposing that in some districts the law is systematically violated with impunity.

21. The paragraphs of the report which relate to arrests and convictions for offences against the excise laws throw little light upon this question. There were prosecutions in all districts, and of 2,420 persons arrested, 2,032 (or 84 per cent.) were convicted. But apparently most of these cases were of a very trivial nature, and from several districts complaints are made of the want of activity on the part both of excise officers and of the police. The Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the subject should receive the earnest consideration of the Collectors of those districts in which the revenue is shown to be much below the normal average. When adjacent districts, inhabited by populations which differ little in their habits or their means of expenditure, contribute in very different degrees to the excise revenue, it is difficult to avoid the inference that illicit dealings upon an extensive scale must be a common practice. Such districts are Bankoora compared with Beerbhoom, Jessore compared with Moorshedabad, Tipperah compared with Mymensingh. The Lieutenant-Governor has lately sanctioned the employment of four special inspectors to go from district to district and examine the working of the excise department under the orders of the Divisional Commissioner, and these inspectors should be first deputed to those districts in which the excise receipts show these unexplained deficiencies.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor, while commending this view of the question to the consideration of the Board, desires to express his satisfaction with the progress which has already been made, and with the increased attention which is now paid to the administration of this branch of the public service. The excise revenue is collected with economy and punctuality; and the Government has been cordially supported by its officers in the measures it has taken to make the working of the department not only a financial success, but also a means of arresting intemperance and elevating the moral condition of the people. The Lieutenant-Governor has taken note of the commendation bestowed by the Board on the Commissioners named in the margin for their attention to excise duties, and on the district officers and others enumerated in the 189th paragraph of the report. The thanks of Government are due to Mr. A. Money for his efficient supervision of the department during the year, and to the present Officiating Member, Mr. Buckland, for the excellent report now submitted, and for many valuable suggestions on various matters connected with excise administration.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR 1876-77.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 6th November 1877.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Patna Division for 1876-77.

THE report (compiled by Mr. Molony, who took charge only after the expiry of the year of review,) is late in submission, but is both full and interesting, and is made especially valuable by having attached to it the very comprehensive and careful reports submitted by the Collectors of Mozufferpore and Durbhunga.

Mofussil tours.

2. Both the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. Metcalfe, and the Commissioner, Mr. Bayley, paid frequent visits to the several districts under their charge. Collectors in Behar are seldom remiss in the matter of their cold-weather tours. But Mr. Worsley and Mr. Macdonnell have shown themselves in this respect exceptionally active, the former officer making a practice of moving into camp frequently at all times of the year, and having in 1876-77 visited on special business no fewer than 600 villages; while Mr. Macdonnell was also out both in the hot weather and rains, and made himself thoroughly acquainted with all matters connected with the district administration.

Weather and crops.

3. The year was not, on the whole, an unfavourable one as regards weather and crops. In most districts the bhadoi harvest was fair, although the rains were very late in setting in, and there was such an abundant fall in August, September, and October as to secure to the division a fair crop of winter rice and the best rubbee harvest it has known for some time. The Commissioner remarks that it is established by the experience of the year that, however short may be the rains of June and July, heavy and well distributed falls in August and September will secure in Behar a good rice crop. The fact that proper distribution is of far greater importance than the gross quantity of rainfall has been noticed in other reports.

Public health and material condition of the people.

4. The public health is stated to have been generally good, save in the districts of Chumparun, Shahabad, and Gya, where cholera and fever caused exceptional mortality.

5. The material condition of the mass of the population in this division is extremely low. The wages of the labouring class are barely sufficient to furnish them with the means of supporting life. They live from hand to mouth, are always under-fed, and the slightest abnormal pressure brings them to the verge of acute distress. Mr. Worsley shows that in Tirhoot the money wages of field laborers have remained practically unchanged for the last sixty years. Although the prices of food-grains have risen, and are still apparently rising, one anna to one anna and a half per diem is still the usual wage of an able-bodied laborer. The apparent hardship of this is, however, somewhat mitigated by the fact that it is the custom of the district to pay the laborers in kind rather than in cash, and that, even when cash is paid, the laborer usually gets also his midday meal. At harvest time the laborers are remunerated by a percentage of the crop reaped—one sheaf for every sixteen is said to be a usual proportion. Under this arrangement, as Mr. Macdonnell points out, the laborer is worst off in a bad year, and the bad years have in North Behar been very frequent of late.

6. The cultivating classes are generally involved in debt. "Even in time of plenty" (the Commissioner writes), "after paying the rent and the numerous cesses exacted by the landlords, very little is left to them for their support. When such is the condition of the people in ordinary years, the failure of a single crop is sure to cause distress." This is felt most in the tracts where rice is the principal crop, as that is most susceptible to injury from drought. In the year of report, relief measures on a limited scale had to be organised on this account in parts of Mudhoobunnee, which is almost entirely a rice-producing tract, and which suffered from a failure of the autumn rains of 1875, while the other sub-divisions of Durbhunga were in comparatively good case.

7. The remedy for the state of things above described is by no means easy to discover or apply. For the labouring class emigration has been repeatedly suggested and advocated, but the number of emigrants from these districts seems yearly to decrease, falling from 7,159 in 1874-75 to 4,482 in 1876-77. Not a single emigrant was last year recruited from Sarun, which is the most densely populated tract in the whole division. The district officers believe that it is only gradually, with the spread of education and removal of ignorant prejudices, that any general tendency to emigrate is likely to arise. There are, however, already signs that the opening of the Tirhoot Railway has done something to stimulate temporary emigration for the purpose of finding work, and it might be useful if the Colonial Governments would adopt Mr. Worsley's suggestion and send to Behar, as recruiting agents, their most successful Behari settlers.

8. As regards the cultivators, the great desideratum is an easy mode of proving occupancy rights, and the general abolition of the danabundi and thikadari systems. During the last few years attention has been directed to the prevalence of illegal distraint throughout the districts of North Behar, and active measures have been taken to stop this. In the great Wards' estates especially, a sounder system of administration has been introduced which cannot fail in the end to have an influence upon the management of the private estates around them.

9. The prices of food during the year were, on the whole, favourable, except in those parts of the Durbhunga district that were affected by the failure of the winter crops of 1875-76. Common rice ranged from 16½ seers per rupee in Mozufferpore to 22 seers in Gya. Prices were kept comparatively low in Tirhoot by extensive importation from Nepal, the North-Western Provinces, and other parts. In this the State Railway rendered conspicuous service.

Manufactures.

10. The subject of indigo is treated with much fulness of detail by both Mr. Worsley and Mr. Macdonnell, who have submitted admirable reports on the condition of their districts.

The Lieutenant-Governor has already said that, before taking any steps to regulate by law the cultivation of indigo in Behar, he will wait the result of the measures of reform which the planters have themselves at length resolved to initiate. He will be ready to consider any suggestions which they may make, and any amendments of the existing rent-law which they may deem necessary, to place the relations of zemindar, planter, and ryot on an equitable basis. He entirely agrees with Mr. Macdonnell that the downfall of the indigo industry in Behar would be a public calamity, and has no doubt whatever that it may, by judicious modifications, and a fairer distribution of profits, be carried on without friction and to the advantage of all concerned. Mr. Eden gladly acknowledges that a very considerable step towards placing matters on a sounder basis has already been taken, and that his proposals for reforming the old system have been met by the planters in a cordial and conciliatory spirit. Indeed he sees every reason to believe that they recognize the fact that, if the indigo trade is to continue, it can only be by a greater recognition of the rights and interests of those who actually grow the crop.

11. The trade in saltpetre has developed considerably in North Behar during the last two years. The profits of the trade seem, however, to be monopolised by the refiners, who buy the crude article from the Nooniahs at Rs. 2 or Rs. 3 per maund, and sell it, after a cheap process of refining, at Rs. 8 in Calcutta. The Nooniahs themselves are a poor and miserable class, earning little more than Rs. 4 per month. The restrictions on the sale of the coarse salt evolved in the manufacture of saltpetre have materially injured their condition. Mr. Macdonnell, however, believes that even now much salt is illicitly passed into consumption from the Nooniah's works. The Lieutenant-Governor having recently examined this question, came to the conclusion that there has been no adequate gain to the revenue from the maintenance of the costly and irritating preventive establishments now employed, and has recommended to the Government of India their entire withdrawal.

12. The cultivation of tobacco is said to be extending, not less than 20,000 beeghas being under plant in Mozufferpore alone. The crop seems to pay well when grown in small patches, which can be well manured.

Trade and Commerce.

13. The trade statistics of the division, such as they are, have been recently brought together in Mr. Cotton's report on the internal commerce of Bengal, and need not be discussed here. Mr. Macdonnell shows very clearly that the attempt to register the trade between British India and Nepal, by the establishment of a chain of frontier stations, is practically a failure. Along this frontier, during the greater part of the year, produce flows backwards and forwards between the two countries along byeways and even across country to an extent which it is impossible to estimate by the figures of a few stations on the principal roads or rivers.

14. An interesting note by Deputy Collector Syud Ameer Huscin on the mahajani trade of Patna is attached to the report.

The following table shows the various kinds of mahajani carried on according to the received native classification, the number of persons engaged in each, and the amount of capital employed within the municipality of Patna, comprising seven thanas with an area of nine square miles and a population of 158,900 souls.

Number.	Description of mahajani.	Number engaged.	Capital employed.
			Rs.
1	Kothiwali	10	6,93,000
2	Hoondwi	43	16,76,000
3	Aruth	14	1,08,500
4	Bhima Kishtee	1	27,000
5	Kist-ki-patti	293	9,10,350
6	Girveen	258	15,84,250
7	Bahi-khatta	21	80,400
8	Tamassuk	154	37,84,800
9	Parchun	3	1,35,000
10	Sarraf	31	80,600
	Total ..	827	90,17,900

Some of the mahajans follow more than one kind of mahajani, and the actual number of individuals engaged in the trade is 557 only.

The Kothiwalis appear to be simply native bankers. The Hoondwi mahajans are bill-brokers. The Aruthdars house the beparis or itinerant mofussil traders and their goods, making a charge for this and often advancing them money on their stock. The Bhima Kishtee mahajan insures boats for the river journeys, keeping up his own establishment of pilots at difficult points, and selecting the manjhis of the boats he insures. Kist-ki-patti mahajans are petty money-lenders for short terms. Girveen is pawn-broking, pure and simple. Tamassuki and Bahi-khatta mahajans are merely descriptions of money-lenders who advance only on bonds or regular instruments. The Parchun mahajans purchase sicca rupees and uncurrent coin, selling them to silversmiths, &c., for manufacture. Sarrafi is the trade of dealing in pice. Of the 557 persons engaged in mahajani, there are 31 Mahomedans, 32 Brahmins, 33 Rajpoots, 48 Bahans, 31 Kaists, 7 Bengalis, 24 Marwaris, 14 Agurwallahs, 57 Kulwars, 24 Khettrees, and 68 Banias; the rest are of lower castes. The largest bankers are Mahomedans. The information given above is said to be the result of minute house to house enquiry under the personal supervision of the Deputy Collector.

Public feeling on general or special subjects

15. The chief matters which have engaged the public interest during the year were the assumption of the Imperial title on the 1st January last, the introduction of the Land Registration, Road Cess, and Chowkidaree Acts, and the proposal to enforce a compulsory cess on irrigable lands. The distribution of certificates of honor is said to have had the effect of stirring up emulation among the zemindars, leading them to take a keener interest in local administration. The measures of taxation have caused some grumbling, but no general discontent. In Durbhunga there was for a time considerable excitement among the ryots as to the effect of the road cess returns upon their position and rents, caused by ignorance of the fact that the zemindar's returns were in no case evidence against the ryots. Under the Chowkidaree Act the punchayets, unless closely supervised, were prone generally to make unequal assessments, which led to complaints; but, on the whole, the Act is said to be working satisfactorily. The war between Turkey and Russia has excited great and growing interest among the Mahomedan population, and much satisfaction is said to have been felt in Durbhunga at the announcement that "the Sultan was now sure to win, as he had secured the services of 300 warriors, each with teeth a cubit long."

The public press.

16. There are seven papers or periodicals published in the division. The Commissioner reports that there has been no change in the form of the publications, and that the influence of the press on the great mass of the people has not in any way increased. It is said that the respectable and educated Beharis do not attach any weight to the opinions of newspapers known to be conducted by Bengalis.

Effect of administrative changes.

17. The good effects of the division of Tirhoot into two districts continue to be felt. The local administration has been much strengthened by the closer supervision which it is now possible to exercise. Complaint is made by several Collectors of the frequent changes of sub-divisional officers. This complaint will receive due consideration. Changes are no doubt detrimental, but in view of the exigencies of the public service they very often cannot be avoided. The new butwara law has already had the effect of reducing the number of institutions, owing partly to want of familiarity with its provisions, and partly to the necessity laid upon applicants for partition of furnishing accurate preliminary information. The re-organization of the putwari system is going on steadily, although the appointment of a single putwari to each estate, to act as accountant merely, is distasteful to those fractional shareholders who have each hitherto had a putwari employed as rent collector. Those local officers who are best qualified to judge, hope that much good will arise from the revival of the putwari system. It may be expected for one thing to strengthen the position of the ryot by establishing a village record to which he can appeal in support of his claims to occupancy rights.

Statistical inquiries.

18. A special census of Mudhoobunnee sub-division was taken in August 1876, the results of which gave an increase of population of 20 per cent. over the census of 1872, the numbers being 826,753, against 689,741. Particular attention was paid to ascertaining the occupation of the people, and it was found that while 65 per cent. are agriculturists, nearly 25 per cent. are agricultural laborers or servants dependent on wages. Wages being here determined, as already noted, by the character of the harvest, there is now no difficulty in understanding why a failure of crop in Mudhoobunnee throws so many laborers upon relief works. Of the area of the sub-division (820,480 acres) about 600,000 acres (or 73 per cent.) were under cultivation, supporting about 8¼ lakhs of people (for nearly the whole population is agricultural). Each individual, therefore, has on the average ⅘ths of an acre, which affords, even in the best of years as the Commissioner remarks, no very large margin for saving.

Model farms and gardens.

19. Experiments in the cultivation and curing of tobacco at Poosah have been carried on at Government expense throughout the year. The results have not been at all encouraging, owing to the want of an experienced tobacco-curer. The other agricultural experiments attempted at Poosah seem also to have been practically failures. Since the close of the year, the farm has been leased to Messrs. Begg, Dunlop & Co., who are prepared to establish a tobacco manufactory there, under skilled supervision, to work in connection with their other farm at Ghazipore in the North-West Provinces.

20. An interesting account is given by Mr. Worsley of experiments carried on by Mr. A. Abbott of Thikaha in the cultivation of mangel wurzel and Swede turnips. Mr. Abbott raised Swedes averaging in weight 5 seers per root, and mangel wurzel averaging nearly 10 seers per plant, giving 4,521 maunds to the beegha. Mr. Abbott writes that this was the return from land heavily manured with decayed indigo (seet), but even from poor land, with scarcely any manure, the roots averaged 7 seers each. "The seed" (he says) "is Carter's long red mangel. It will not grow to seed out here in the plains. Cost of seed is nominal, and the way I sow it is by dibbling from 18 inches to one foot apart, and dropping two seeds in each hole. If both germinate, weed out the smaller plant of the two when three weeks old." Where Government farms are kept, on which there are many Government cattle, this crop could be raised for fodder at Re. 1 per 100 maunds on any class of land. The best manure is decayed indigo. The importance of these results to owners of stock in places where pasture is scarce warrants this detailed notice of them.

Police and justice.

21. There has been a satisfactory diminution of offences against person and property in 1876, amounting to 2,868 cases. Indeed the criminal returns of the division show lower figures in these classes of crime than have been reported for years past. Good harvests, more active police, and the working of the Village Chowkidaree Act are assigned as the probable causes of the improvement. All the districts share in it, with the exception of Shahabad. South Behar generally continues more criminal than North Behar. The Commissioner's report goes somewhat fully into the criminal statistics of the division, but these will be more appropriately dealt with in connection with the Police Report.

22. On the subject of civil justice no information is given, save that the delays in trying rent suits give universal dissatisfaction.

Land revenue administration.

23. The effect of the laws of partition in multiplying petty estates in Behar is again very marked, the numbers on the rent-roll having risen from 37,619 to 39,781 during the year. In Tirhoot alone partition added 1,438 estates to the rent-roll. Mr. Worsley explains that the indigo (ticcadari) system is largely to blame for this. A shareholder leases his share to a factory, the factory endeavours to seize all the zerat, and the other shareholders are driven to partition in self-defence. In 1850 there were only 5,069 estates on the Tirhoot rent-roll; in 1860 only 6,342; but in 1875 there were 15,117. In Mozufferpore there are now 10,815 and 6,767 in Durbhunga; 2,052 estates in the former district paying only Rs. 4,504 Government revenue between them. In Durbhunga upwards of 50,000 owners have applied for registration under the new Act. These figures show the remarkable extent to which the sub-division of estates has been carried out, and there is every prospect of the process being continued. One effect of this separation of shares is to increase materially the work of the treasury establishments; the number of separate payments on account of land revenue, road cess, and other dues being now something enormous. Some 60,000 distinct chalans may be expected to be filed in the Mozufferpore treasury next January.

24. The land revenue collections of the division were 97·6 per cent. of the demand—a very satisfactory return. In Durbhunga the road cess statistics show that, while the revenue of the district is Rs. 7,92,902, the gross rental is Rs. 58,08,536, or nearly eight times the revenue. Of the gross rental, about one-half is derived from lands held by ticcadars. Other matters in connection with the land revenue will be noticed in the review of the Board's annual report.

Excise.

25. The excise revenue of the year rose from Rs. 13,08,567 to Rs. 13,73,067, the increase being chiefly under country spirits, and being ascribed to the general prosperity of the people and to the auction system of selling licenses.

Monetary arrangements.

26. The receipts and issues of currency notes show a falling off during the year, owing to the restrictions placed upon the supply of notes by the account department. The demand for purposes of remittance is said to be much greater than can be met; but it is not possible for Government at present to undertake to meet the demands of private trade in this respect. Wherever Government can supply the wants of the commercial public without actual loss to itself it is ready to do so. The Savings Banks are made use of only by Government employés. The money order system shows a satisfactory expansion in every district save Sarun.

Condition and effect of railways, &c.

27. The first year's working of the Tirhoot State Railway is said to be full of promise for the future. The results are indeed in themselves not unsatisfactory, considering that only the Durbhunga branch was open for traffic throughout the year, and that through booking had not been established. The cost of the branch, including rolling-stock, was £285,318 up to December 1876. The cost for each open mile being £6,340. The earnings during the year of all kinds were Rs. 1,79,414, and the aggregate expenditure Rs. 1,23,195. The early introduction of through booking with the East Indian Railway will improve considerably the traffic receipts.

28. The Sone Canals are being rapidly pushed on. In Shahabad 260 miles of canal were available to irrigate 92,669 acres. In the Jugdispore estate, belonging to Messrs. Burrows, Thomson, and Mylne, field channels have been laid out by the ryots in all directions, and the crops are said to be magnificent. This is due entirely to the influence of the proprietors, whose example might with advantage be followed by other zemindars. Though attempts were made not long ago to show that the people did not desire and would not use Sone water for irrigation, the whole of the water which the department could by any expedient make available in the various canals has been used. The unfinished canals had to be opened for the purpose of meeting the demand of the people, and over 100,000 acres have benefitted by these works during the late drought. The most urgent demand for water came from the Maharajah of Deomraon, the landholder who most loudly protested a few months ago against the works as useless and indeed mischievous. This establishes the fact that the people of these districts are perfectly ready to avail themselves of irrigation in dry seasons, but that they prefer that the general public should pay for this benefit, and not they themselves.

29. In the Chumparun district a series of embankments is being carried out at the cost of the zemindars, which is calculated to benefit a large tract of country, though there is a doubt whether in dry years some of the minor streams may not suffer from the interception of the supply.

State of education.

30. There are 1,966 schools in the division, attended by about 53,825 pupils, a figure which gives only four scholars to every thousand of the population. Only 6,896 of these are Mahomedans The lamentable backwardness of Behar in the matter of education has long been recognized. The smallest reduction of the primary grant is at once followed by a decrease in the number of schools. Mr. Macdonnell is said to have met the difficulty by introducing a system of payments more elastic than that by monthly instalments. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes to have a special report upon this. Any measure which will evoke something like spontaneous effort in the Department of Education is in this province deserving of encouragement The Lieutenant-Governor reserves for the review of the Director's annual report the further consideration of the educational statistics of Behar.

Working of Committees.

31. In Mozufferpore, Gya, and Chumparun the Road Cess Committees worked well and were of great assistance. The services of the non-official European members are specially acknowledged by the Collectors. All the Educational Committees are well spoken of, as are also the Municipal Committees.

Wards' Estates.

32. The work in connection with the Wards' Estates in this division is very heavy and important, and will form the subject of a special review on receipt of the Board's report.

Conduct of zemindars and their relations to their tenantry.

33. The majority of the zemindars in Tirhoot are unfavourably mentioned, being described as grasping and oppressive to their tenantry. There were, however, no instances of glaring misconduct there or in other districts, while some few of the higher class of landlords in the division distinguished themselves by public benefactions. Among these Maharani Rajroop Koer of Tikari, the Rajahs of Bettiah and Ramnuggur, and Baboo Futteh Bahadoor are specially mentioned. The Maharajah of Doomraon continues to display his usual liberality, and the Dulhin Saheb, co-partner of the Rajah of Bettiah, is also noticed as taking a great interest in female education.

34. The relations between landlords and tenants in North Behar are described as being by no means cordial. The zemindars complain that the ryots do not pay their rents, and that they are unable to enforce decrees, while the ryots complain of illegal distraints, oppression, enhancements, and summary ejectments. There can be no doubt whatever that the combined influence of zemindars and ticcadars has ground the ryots of Behar down to a state of extreme depression and misery. The majority of them probably do, as a matter of fact, possess rights of occupancy, but owing to change of plots, and the subjection of the putwarees to the zemindars, are unable to produce legal proof of this. There are, however, signs that the ryots are beginning to understand better their legal rights. They are beginning to pay their rents into court in accordance with the zemindars' returns under the Road Cess Act. They are learning to recognize and to resist illegal attempts at distraint. They find that the sub-divisional and district officers are ready to listen to them and advise them for their good, and they are beginning to resort more freely to them for such advice. The tenants of small proprietors, moreover, see that in the great Durbhunga estate the position of the cultivators is being improved, defined, and settled, and this encourages them to demand more equal treatment for themselves. The indigo-planters have already intimated their readiness to pay them better rates. There is in fact a general stirring throughout the division which cannot fail to have a good effect, and it will be for Government and the local officers, assisted by the better class of planters and zemindars, to guide, foster, and control this movement, until the relations of all parties are placed upon a just and equitable basis.

There are in Behar many intelligent and wealthy landholders, and it is for them to consider whether it is not to their advantage to meet this movement half way, and endeavour to establish permanent occupancy rights and security of tenure on their estates, and to check at once the system of treating the cultivators of the soil as mere squatters, liable to eviction, and rack-rented at the whim of the proprietor or amlah—a system which now exists on too many estates. Nothing can tend so much to the prosperity of an estate as good, well-to-do, and contented tenantry, having a permanent interest in the soil, and it is for the landholders to establish such a state of things before the growing discontent and increasing intelligence of the people leads to open rupture between zemindars and ryots. The system of irregular distraint has been carried to great extremes in some parts of Behar, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts the Commissioner will impress upon the Collectors the necessity of putting a stop to this cautiously and gradually, confining the zemindars to the procedure laid down by law. No doubt the conditions under which the people of Behar hold their lands are exceptional, and the Lieutenant-Governor has already intimated his readiness to consider if necessary exceptional legislation for this part of the country in the matter of such collection.

35 The remarks of the Commissioner upon the officers under him will be communicated to the Appointment Department of this office.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 6TH NOVEMBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 3rd November 1877.—The exportation of rice is very slight. Stocks remain unaltered, and prices are falling.

Bankoora, 3rd November 1877.—About 1,000 maunds of rice were exported from the district during the week.

Beerbhoom, 3rd November 1877.—Prices are still going down, the average being 18¼ seers per rupee. A very good average crop may now be counted on, and the prices may be expected to fall rapidly, particularly if rain falls soon.

Hooghly, 3rd November 1877.—The imports during the week amounted to about 20,000 maunds. The stock of rice at Chandernagore and other places on the Hooghly is estimated at about one lakh of maunds. Coarse rice is selling at from 13 to 13½ seers per rupee.

Howrah, 5th November 1877.—Prices have not changed during the week, and there has been but little movement of grain from the district. The grain traffic is said to be turning towards up-country.

24-Pergunnahs, 3rd November 1877.—Exports are not now brisk. Prices continue much the same with a falling tendency.

Nuddea, 3rd November 1877.—In the Kooshtea sub-division 6,242 maunds of food-grains were imported during the week, and 650 maunds were sent to Calcutta by rail. In Meherpore 11,407 maunds of food-grains were exported from the east, and 20,000 maunds from the west of the sub-division, to Calcutta. In Bongong the exports by land to Calcutta were 1,140 maunds. In Chooadanga 660 maunds of rice were imported from the east. In the Sudder sub-division the imports were 5,500 maunds of rice, 133 maunds of cereals, and 1,800 maunds of pulses; and the exports consisted of 750 maunds of rice and 600 maunds of pulses. The trade to Calcutta is becoming slacker. Prices continue to show a tendency to fall, and coarse rice is now procurable at from Rs. 2 to 2-8 per maund.

Jessore, 3rd November 1877.—The price of rice has remained stationary where it has not slightly fallen. The pressure which was felt in parts of Bagirhat has much abated. The Khararia zemindars have done most towards helping their ryots to tide over the time of pressure. The Khoolna Registration Office shows 1,688 maunds as having been exported from the district during the week.

Moorshedabad, 3rd November 1877.—The river returns show:—Imports—rice, 20,760 maunds; paddy, 3,400 maunds; black pulse, 4,026 maunds; wheat, 2,313 maunds, &c.; Exports—rice, 27,150 maunds; paddy, 900 maunds; black pulse, 5,425 maunds; wheat, 1,300 maunds, &c. The price of common rice at Berhampore is 14 and 15 seers, at Lalbagh 16, and at Jungypore 17 seers. Coarse rice is 19 seers at Berhampore and 18 seers at Lalbagh.

Dinagepore, 2nd November 1877.—Coarse rice is selling for only 16 seers in northern marts.

Rajshahye, 3rd November 1877.—During the week 10,332½ maunds of rice, and 4,734½ maunds of pulses were exported. The stock of rice available for export is about 4 lakhs of maunds. The price of common rice has fallen. It has ranged from 18¾ to 19¼ seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 2nd November 1877.—Rice has now become somewhat cheaper. Exportation is much the same as last reported.

Bogra, 3rd November 1877.—2,637 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta, and 1,470 maunds to Rajshahye and the neighbouring districts. 1,000 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. The price of rice has, on the whole, been lower throughout the district.

Pubna, 3rd November 1877.—Coarse rice is sold in Pubna town at Rs. 1-13, poorbee Rs. 2, paddy Rs. 1-1; there were no exports from this place during the week. At Dulai amun rice is 16 seers, and aous 18 seers the rupee. At Mothoora rice is 16 or 17 seers, and at Raigunge 15 seers per rupee. At Chatmohur amun rice is Rs. 1-12 and poorbee Rs. 1-13 per maund. At Serajgunge amun rice is Rs. 3-2 or Rs. 3-3, and aous Rs. 2-9 or Rs. 2-10 per maund. About 800 or 900 maunds of rice were exported from this place to Calcutta during the week. At Shazadpore rice is Rs. 2-10 per maund. At Ullaparah amun rice is Rs. 2-5 and aous Rs. 2-4 per maund.

Darjeeling, 2nd November 1877.—No serious inconvenience is felt from the somewhat high prices of food in the district. The finer quality of rice has fallen in price, and the rates for the others remain stationary. The supply of food-grain is well kept up, and the prospects of the winter crops are good.

Julpigoree, 3rd November 1877.—No change since last report in prices or exportation.

Cooch Behar, 1st November 1877.—Prices continue unchanged. No exportation or importation is reported. No failure of supplies of food-grains is apprehended anywhere.

Dacca, 3rd November 1877.—The supplies in all the marts are ample, but there is no export to speak of; only 700 maunds went to Calcutta by steamer, and 5,000 maunds were sent to Chittagong. The prices were at Dacca and Mirpore 13 to 17 seers per rupee, Naraingunge Rs. 2-13 to Rs. 2-15, and Manickgunge Rs 2-14 per maund.

Furreedpore, 3rd November 1877.—Prices continue to be easier, but the rates in some parts of the south of the district are still very high. The price of common rice at Madaripore is 11 seers. The average price is 16 seers per rupee. Importation is being more freely made. There is little or no exportation.

Backergunge, 1*st November* 1877.—Food-grains still continue to be largely imported into the wave-stricken tracts. In Dukhin Shabazpore the early rice has been reaped, and the price varies from Rs. 3 to 4-4 per maund, and importations on a large scale continue. At the other stations the prices of rice are—Perozepore Rs. 3-8 to 5, Burisal Rs. 3-8 to 4-4, Gournuddy Rs. 3 to 3-8, and Bowfal Rs. 4 to 5 per maund. 24,694 maunds of rice were imported, and 675 maunds exported, during the week.

Mymensingh, 2*nd November* 1877.—Prices are still high.

Tipperah, 2*nd November* 1877.—The prices have fallen all over the district and will fall still further during the current month They now range from Rs. 2-7 to 3 in various parts of the district. Exportation continues, but not to such extent as formerly. The Dacca markets being overstocked, rice continues to be exported to Noakholly and other districts.

Chittagong, 1*st November* 1877.—There was no exportation of rice to Calcutta during the week.

Noakholly, 1*st November* 1877.—Prices of food-grains are becoming easier. Coarse rice is 13 or 14 seers per rupee. The supplies in the local markets are fair. Importation is slack, but there is some exportation from Fenny station to Chittagong, and from Begumgunge to Calcutta and Chittagong.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 30*th October* 1877.—The prices of rice are—at Rangamatia Rs. 5, at Cox's Bazar Rs. 3-8 to 4 per maund, and at Sungoo 11 seers per rupee.

Hill Tipperah, 31*st October* 1877.—There is a further fall in the price of common rice, which may be expected to continue; it is still more than double the rate of last year. The pressure in the Hills of the Udaypore sub-division would seem to have greatly abated.

Patna, 3*rd November* 1877.—Prices are easy.

Gya, 3*rd November* 1877.—Prices throughout the district have generally fallen, except at Aurungabad, where they have been almost stationary

Mozufferpore, 3*rd November* 1877.—Exportations of grain are going on actively. Prices are slightly rising.

Sarun. 3*rd November* 1877—The imports during the week from Mozufferpore, Patna. Fyzabad, Nowabgunge, Purneah, and Shahabad amounted to 32,750 maunds; the exports to Calcutta were 1,000 maunds, and the stocks in hand were 54,830 maunds. The prices are falling; they are now—best rice 7½ seers, common rice 12¾, wheat 14⅝, barley 20, and paddy 19 seers per rupee.

Chumparun, 4*th November* 1877—Prices are higher. The worst rice is 12½ seers the rupee at Motihari Slight exports from one or two places.

Monghyr, 3*rd November* 1877—The stock of food-grains for sale at the different marts in the district during the week consisted of rice 6,351 maunds, rahur 5,306, wheat 23,507, paddy 2,482 maunds, &c.

Purneah, 3*rd November* 1877—Prices are high, but there is nothing special to report; trade seems brisk, especially in the north west near the Koosi river.

Maldah, 3*rd November* 1877—Prices are somewhat cheaper this week; coarse rice averages 20 seers per rupee.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, Deoghur, 1*st November* 1877—The supply of food-grains in the different marts of Deoghur sub-division during the week consisted of paddy 60 maunds, wheat 54 maunds, ordinary rice 283 maunds, best rice 20 maunds, Indian-corn 740 maunds, and gram 31 maunds. 685 maunds of Indian-corn were exported to the North-Western Provinces. The price of common rice ranged from Rs. 2-4 to 2-10 per maund.

Cuttack, 3*rd November* 1877.—The exports at False Point this week are 22,469 maunds as against 49,932 maunds during the previous week. The whole of this week's exports went to Madras and Kotapatam. Prices are stationary in the district. Coarsest rice is rather cheaper at head-quarters.

Pooree, 1*st November* 1877.—The supply of rice to inland markets is fair, but the prices are little cheaper, owing to decrease of exportation and the demand for money by the peasantry for payment of the Government revenue on the 8th November. The present rates are 13½ to 21 seers per rupee.

Balasore, 2*nd November* 1877.—During the past week the exports were 2,092 maunds of rice and 2,736 maunds of paddy from Chandbally to Calcutta. Prices are still falling, and the price of clean red rice at Chandbally and Balasore is Rs. 1-12 per maund. At Balasore stocks held by merchants and loaded on board sloops amount to 1,02,000 maunds, and at Chandbally the mercantile stocks are 49,958 maunds.

Hazareebagh, 2*nd November* 1877.—The prices of all kinds of food-grains have fallen steadily. The markets are well supplied No exports reported

Lohardugga, 3*rd November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains in the market is abundant, and the prices of rice at head-quarters and Palamow are falling.

Singhbhoom, 2*nd November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains continues plentiful. The price of coarse rice is 32 seers per rupee, but that of the other grains is the same as before. Exportation is insignificant.

Manbhoom, 3*rd November* 1877.—There has been no exportation. The district continues fairly well off for grain of all sorts.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 3rd November 1877.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	The outturn of the aman crop may now be estimated with some definiteness at from 8 to 10 annas. Rain would now affect it but little. For the winter sowings rain is much wanted. Fever is still prevalent and cholera is reported from some parts of the district.
2	Bankoora, „ 3 „	Nil	The sky has been cloudy during the greater part of the week, and there has been slight rain in some parts of the district. The prospects of the crops are very good. A little more rain would, however, be very useful.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy for the latter half of the week. The prospects of the crops remain unchanged The rain, which is now threatening, would be of great use to crops on high lands.
4	Midnapore, „ 3 „	Nil	After three or four cloudy and hot days the wind has changed to the north, and the cold weather seems to have set in. The prospects of the crops are the same as before, i.e. very good crops in some places, and short crops in other places, according to the local rainfall from the 1st to the 25th October 1877.
5	Hooghly, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—getting cooler The rubbee sowings are going on. The prospects of the late rice remain unchanged. One immediate shower is necessary to ensure a full crop. Fever is prevalent.
	Howrah, „ 5 „	·20	Weather—too hot to be seasonable. Rain is much wanted on the high lands for the dhan, which has in some places been much damaged by the recent drought. The low lands have an excellent crop, but rain would do them good also.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Div. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warm for the time of year. The prospects of the crops continue satisfactory, but rain would do good, especially to the crops on the higher lands. The cold-weather crops are being sown in many places. Health is fairly good.
7	Nuddea, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—unusually warm. No rain, though the sky is often cloudy. The cold-weather crops are being sown, and their prospects are not unfavorable. The late rice is generally reported to be in pretty good condition, but rain is urgently required. There is a good deal of sickness in Kishnaghur and in other parts of the district.
8	Jessore. „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—generally cloudy Heavy dews. North wind. The prospects of the crops are everywhere good, except in Bagirhat, where it is said more rain is much wanted, as well as in some parts of Magoorah.
9	Moorshedabad, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—unusually close for the time of year. The aman rice promises well, but want of rain will prevent it being a full crop on the higher lands Sowings for the spring crops are general. Mulberry and sugarcane are in good condition There is a good deal of sickness about Berhampore and the jurisdiction of Nowada and Burwa, where cholera also has made its appearance. Elsewhere the public health is fairly good.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Div. 10	Dinagepore, „ 2 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and close, causing great sickness. The winter rice is coming to ear There is no lack of moisture in the planted lands. Much high land however, remains unplanted. The jute in the north has been good, with 16 annas outturn, and the bhadoi crops have yielded only 10 annas from want of moisture. Sugarcane is promising well.
11	Rajshahye, „ 3 „	Nil	During the greater part of the week the weather was cloudy in the day, but no rain fell; nights clear with heavy dew. The condition of the winter rice is satisfactory; if there is a shower of rain the outturn will be good Til and kalai also are very fair. The sowing of cereals continues. A few cases of cholera have been again reported.
12	Rungpore, „ 2 „	Nil	The weather has been cloudy for the last three days, but there has been no rain. The state and prospects of the crops continue most favourable. Public health is good for this time of year.
13	Bogra, „ 3 „	·50 (on the 3rd before 12 o'clock.)	Weather—clear and bright during the early part of the week, and cloudy and rainy towards the end, with wind as usual at this time of year. The prospects of the crops continue good. The rain which was falling at the time of report will, it is hoped, do good to the crops. Fever is prevalent, especially in Panchbibi and Badalgachi, and cholera in Bogra, Shariakandi, Dhoonat, Modhoopore, Khetlal, and Dhoopchanchia.

	No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.—(Continued.)
		Central Districts.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs.	14	Pubna, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cloudy and warm for the time of year. More rain is wanted for aman crop. The state and prospects of rubbee crops are good. Fever is still prevalent in Pubna town and cholera in Serajgunge.
	15	Darjeeling, „ 2 „	Nil	Bright weather during the day; heavy dews at night. The prospects of the crops throughout the district are good.
	16	Julpigoree, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—very hot and oppressive for the time of year in the daytime. The nights are tolerably cool. The prospects of the winter rice crop are good all over the district. The jute harvest is over; the crop has not proved a very good one. Transplantation of tobacco has commenced. Land is being prepared for mustard. Kalai and til are doing tolerably well. Public health is bad. Cattle disease is prevalent in the interior.
		Cooch Behar, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fair and cool. Some rain is wanted for the haimunti dhan, though it may do harm to the cold-weather crops. Fields are being actively prepared for mustard seeds The transplanting of tobacco seedlings has not yet fairly commenced. Public health is generally good.
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn	17	Dacca, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cloudy and close. Apparently threatening rain every day, but none falling, except at Moonsheegunge, where 1·51 fell. The state and prospects of the crops are favourable. Rain within this week will do much good. Cholera still prevails
	18	Furreedpore, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot and occasionally cloudy, but no rain, with the exception of a very slight fall (·38) at Madaripore. Rain is required for the preparation of the land for future crop. It would be too late to be of much service to the rice now in the ground, which cannot be expected to yield more than an eight-anna crop at the outside.
	19	Backergunge, „ 1 „	·52	Rain is greatly wanted, and in the absence of it the crops are assuming a stunted and semi-withered appearance. As yet much damage has not been done. The general health of the people is fairly good The cattle everywhere are reported to be healthy.
	20	Mymensingh, „ 2 „	·06	The cold weather is very late in setting in. There has been for some days every appearance of a heavy storm to come. The prospects of the crops are satisfactory generally.
	21	Tipperah, „ 2 „	·41	More like the rainy season again. 1·23 at Brahmunbaria. Weather sultry and offensive, with occasional showers of rain The rain that has fallen has been very beneficial to the rice sown on high lands. The prospects of the winter rice crop are excellent.
Chittagong Divn.	22	Chittagong, „ 1 „	·14	Weather—fine and warm. Mornings misty The late transplantings want some rain; the rest of the aman crop is promising well.
	23	Noakholly, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fair. The aman crops are progressing very favourably. The cultivation of vegetables and others cold-weather crops on high ground is going on The rivers fell early in this season. The water has receded, and the country is drying up unusually quickly and early. Public heath is good.
	24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, Oct. 30 „	04	Slight falls of rain on the 27th and 28th October. The gathering of the jooms paddy is over. Cotton pods have been formed in some places. Land is being ploughed for mustard.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 31 „	·11	Very slight rain on the 28th October. The heat is still considerable in the day, but the nights are cold The prospects of the crops continue good.
BEHAR.
Patna Division.	25	Patna, Nov. 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot during the day. Mornings and evenings cool. Rice would be better for a little more rain on high lands The rubbee sowings are still going on. The prospects of both crops continue favourable.
	26	Gya, „ 3 „	08	Weather—cloudy and moderately cool. Maximum thermometer in the shade 91·4°. Prospects are unchanged. Taking account of tracts irrigated by the canal and otherwise, the average outturn in the Aurungabad sub-division of the kharreef crop is estimated at from seven to eight annas.
	27	Shahabad. „ 3 „	Nil	No rain throughout the district. The weather has been a little warmer than in previous week, though nights and mornings are fairly cool. In Sasseram the rubbee has germinated well, and a little rain would be beneficial; sugarcane is very good everywhere Buxar reports the rubbee sowings uncompleted; rain is wanted for the dhan crops where not near canals. In Bhubbooah the rubbee sowings are safe; the aghani crops have died of drought, and are being used as fodder; sugarcane is good everywhere. In the Sudder sub-division the rubbee is coming up well; sugarcane is plentiful and excellent near canals. Public health is generally good.
	28	Durbhunga, „ 3 „	Nil	The prospects of the winter rice are unchanged since last report. The rubbee sowings are progressing.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Continued.)
Patna Division.	29	Mozufferpore, Nov. 3 '77	Nil	Weather—cool and clear. There is no change to report in the prospects of the rice crop. The rubbee sowings are progressing well.
	30	Sarun, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—clear mornings and evenings, nights cool, but the temperature is higher than it should be. The prospects of the crops remain unchanged. Sugarcane and rahar are good. Public health is good.
	31	Chumparun, „ 4 „	Nil	No rain anywhere. Generally bright, but with intervals of cloudy, somewhat blighting, unhealthy weather. The prospects of the crops are bad, except along the north boundary, in the far west, and in a very small part in the east. In other parts the rice is withering on the high lands, and is much too dry in places to get the ear filled. Ten or twelve annas of rice are estimated in a small part, four annas again, or less, in other parts; generally, hardly half a crop is expected. The soil is hardly better than dust on most of the rubbee fields. Much fever about.
Bhagulpore Divn.	32	Monghyr, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot and unseasonable. Rain threatened, but did not come. The prospects are at present good. There will be eight annas crops abroad.
	33	Bhagulpore, ...	.....	Return not received.
	34	Purneah, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The aghani prospects are very good. Koorthi and arhur are growing well. Ploughing for rubbee sowings are progressing favourably.
	35	Maldah, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot for the time of year. Unless more rain falls, the haimanti on the higher lands will not exceed 12 annas. Fever is very prevalent.
	36	Sonthal Pergha., „ 4 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy, but no rain. The prospects of the crops still continue good all round.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn.	37	Cuttack, Nov. 3 „	·45	Weather—fine. A very heavy storm and rain for a short time on the 31st October. The late rain has done much good and relieved much anxiety. In some parts to the north and east more rain is wanted. As a whole, the reports of the crops are favourable.
	38	Pooree, „ 1 „	·30	Weather—clear for the most part of the week. Mornings cool; slight rain on the 31st October. The wind blows from the north-east, and the sky is cloudy. The rice crops on high lands and on some low lands have in some places in the Khoordah sub-division been reported to be suffering seriously. The state of the crops in the Pooree sub-division is more gloomy than that reported last. A good shower of rain is needed almost everywhere. Cattle disease is reported.
	39	Balasore, „ 2 „	·11	Weather—cloudy, with slight shower at head-quarters. No rain has fallen in the south-east of the district, where a quarter of the rice crop is reported to have been already destroyed by drought, and more will be lost if rain does not fall soon. In the rest of the district the harvest will be fair. Public health is good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency.
	40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 2 '77	·10	Weather—seasonable; settled fine. The slight fall of rain reported has not been sufficient to do any particular good. There is no change to report about the prospects of the crops. Where possible, the ground is being broken up for the rubbee crops.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 3 „	·99	Weather—cloudy, with promise of more rain. The rain that has fallen will do much good. An average outturn of winter rice is expected over most parts of the district. In four thanas only the yield is expected to be 12 annas. Other crops on the ground all promise well. From Palamow it is reported that no rain fell during the week ending 30th October; that the rubbee sowing is in progress, but will be soon stopped for want of rain; and that the winter crops will also suffer if there be no rain very soon.
	42	Singbhoom, „ 2 „	·66	Weather—seasonable. No change to report about the haimanti rice crop. It is indifferent in some and fair in other parts. The cold-weather crops are all doing well. The district is healthy.
	43	Manbhoom, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—hot for the time of year. Prospects are not favourable. The rice crop will be poor in some and rich in other places. An average of ten annas will be got throughout the district. Mustard will not be a good crop, and there has been apparently a failure of lac.

NOTE.

Barometric Pressure.—The pressures in column 2 of the above table for all stations below 500 feet are reduced from those given in column 3 of the table on the previous page, by adding the weight of a column of air of the temperatures given in column 17. For stations above 500 feet elevation the reduction is made by Captain Allan Cunningham's table,—"Prof. papers on Indian Engineering, No. CXIII." The temperatures at the sea-level are taken from column 3 of the above table.

Temperature.—The temperatures in column 3 are reduced from those in column 17 on the preceding page, by adding 1° Fahrenheit for every 450 feet.

Wind Resultant.—The resultant wind direction and its comparative predominance are calculated from the whole number of wind observations recorded during the month. The relative predominance in the direction of the resultant is given as a percentage of the whole number of observations. The direction is computed in the usual way by Lambert's formula.

Cloud.—This column gives the average proportion of clouded sky, a cloudless sky being indicated by o, and one completely overcast by 1 o.

The above, being all comparable, afford the data for constructing a meteorological chart for the month which will show the isobaric and isothermal lines and the resultant wind directions, which last may be represented by arrows of varying length, proportioned to the prevalence of the wind. To these may be added the rainfall from the previous tables.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Cape of Good Hope—South Coast.

IT is hereby notified that a Light Tower is being built about two hundred to three hundred yards within the pitch of a low point (Seal Point), situated one-and-three-quarter miles westward of Cape St. Francis, to be hereafter called "Cape St. Francis Lighthouse."

The Tower is a cylindrical stone structure, ninety-one feet high, with keepers' quarters attached at base, and is situated in latitude 34° 22′ 30″ south, and longitude 24° 50′ 20″ east of Greenwich.

It is intended to display a second order Holophotal Revolving White Light, flashing at intervals of twenty seconds, with focal plane one hundred and one-and-a-half feet above the base of the Tower, and one hundred and eighteen feet above the level of high water.

The light will be visible in clear weather about sixteen and three quarters sea miles from the deck of a vessel fifteen feet above the sea. It will command the coast uninterruptedly to the westward, but will be cut off to the eastward by Cape St. Francis on the line N. 53° E. true, or would not be visible from the eastward on a bearing more southerly than S. 53° W. true.

The nearest existing lights are Cape Recife, about forty-five miles to the eastward, and Mossel Bay (Cape St. Blaize), about one hundred and thirty-three miles to the westward.

The Tower will probably be ready for the reception of the Lenticular about January 1878, and the light may probably be exhibited some time between 1st March and 30th April 1878, of which due and precise notice will be given.

No. 481.—The following is republished for information and guidance, with remark that in the case of a medical officer employed in the Public Works Department the sanction to his marching instead of journeying by dâk or railway should be given by the Superintending Engineer of the Circle or other superior officer under whom he may be employed :—

Financial Department Notification No. 75 (Pay and Allowances) of 20*th April* 1877.

It has been brought to the notice of the Governor-General in Council that great diversity exists in the rules regarding the travelling allowance of Civil Surgeons. In some cases these officers receive mileage only, in others they draw mileage for journeys and a daily allowance for halts, and under a third system they are permitted to receive, in addition to mileage, a daily allowance for the whole period of absence from head-quarters, including the period for which mileage is drawn. It is sufficiently obvious that the travelling allowances of officers employed in similar capacities should be regulated, so far as local circumstances admit, on a uniform principle. His Excellency in Council is accordingly pleased to lay down the following rules for general adoption :—

I.—The rates of travelling allowance for Civil Surgeons are eight annas a mile, subject to reduction under general rules for journeys by railway, and Rs. 5 a day, except in the Berars, for which a rate of Rs. 6-4 a day has been experimentally sanctioned for the current year.

II.—Subject to such restrictions as the Local Government or Administration may see fit to impose as to the duration and frequency of his journeys, a Civil Surgeon is entitled either to the daily allowance or to the mileage for the whole of each period of his absence from his head-quarters on duty unless the duty is one for which he receives no extra remuneration, in which case he is entitled to the daily allowance for halts and either to that allowance or to the mileage for journeys, provided that both allowances are not drawn for the same day, and that the allowance for journeys shall be payable only when the Civil Surgeon has the sanction of the district officer to his marching instead of going by dâk or railway.

PART II.

Advertisements.

[N.B.—Advertisements, Notices, &c., intended for insertion in this part of the Gazette, cannot be received after Noon on Monday.]

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates situate in the district of Dacca, will be put up to sale at the Dacca Collectorate on Friday, the 16th November 1877, corresponding with 2nd Aughran 1284 B S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

1. The estates to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of these estates will be considered as the proprietor of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2 The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force; and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3 If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4 If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estates to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

CALCUTTA, the 29th October 1877. (1563—3)

POSTAL NOTICES.

WITH effect from the 1st December 1877, the sender of a parcel may, at the time of posting, state the value of its contents in view to the amount being realized from the addressee and paid to him (the sender).

2. "Value payable" parcels may be posted only in disbursing offices (printed in capital type in the list of post offices contained in the Postal Guide); there is no restriction as to the office of address except in the case of a few vernacular offices to which "value payable" parcels cannot be forwarded.

3. The senders of "value payable" parcels will be responsible for the proper packing and protection of such articles contained in them as may be liable to damage. The parcels will not be received unless the conditions respecting packing and sealing prescribed in paragraph 14, page 4 of the Postal Guide of 1st September 1877, are fully complied with.

4. The commission chargeable on payment to the sender of the value of the contents of a parcel will be as follows:—

	Rs.	A.
If the value does not exceed Rs. 10 ...	0	4
If it exceeds Rs. 10 and does not exceed Rs. 25 ...	0	8
" " 25 " " " 50 ...	1	0
" " 50 " " " 75 ...	1	8

and Rs. 2 for every additional Rs. 100 or fraction thereof.

5. The commission will be deducted from the amount of the value when payment is made to the sender. If a parcel is refused by the addressee, or from any cause is not delivered, payment of the value will not be made to the sender, and no claim will be made upon him, except for any unpaid postage which may have been originally due.

6. Postage will be chargeable on "value payable" parcels at the same rates as are chargeable on ordinary parcels, and it may be prepaid or otherwise at the option of the sender.

The limit of weight (2,000 tolas) as well as the conditions respecting size prescribed in the Postal Guide for ordinary banghy parcels will be applicable to "value payable" parcels.

7. The value of the contents of "value payable" parcels together with any postage due must be paid by the addressees before they are delivered.

8. The payments to the senders will be made within one month from the date of delivery.

9. "Value payable" parcels will be received at the window of the post office during the hours fixed for receiving ordinary parcels, which, with a few exceptions, are from 7 to 8 A.M. and from noon to 5 P.M. They will not be received at all on Sundays, and they must be posted at least one hour before the time fixed for closing the mail with which they are to be despatched: otherwise they will be detained till the next despatch is made.

10. "Value payable" parcels when presented at the post office window should be accompanied by a memorandum containing the following particulars, viz.—

Name and address of the sender in full.

Name and address of the addressee in full.

Value of the contents recoverable from the addressee.

Date of posting.

A description of the contents need not be given; on the contrary it is advisable that no description should be given. Receipts will be given to the sender for "value payable" parcels posted by them.

11. Intimation of the arrival of a "value payable" parcel will be sent to the addressee, and on his presenting at the post office, either personally or by messenger, the receipt at foot of the intimation duly signed, and tendering the amount of the value of the contents, together with any postage that may be due, the parcel will be delivered. The parcel should be carefully examined by the addressee or his messenger before it is received, and if there be any appearance of tampering, it should be brought to the notice of the post master, in whose presence, if necessary, it may be opened.

12. When information of the realization of the value of the contents of a "value payable" parcel reaches the despatching post office, written intimation will be given to the sender, a date being mentioned therein on or after which payment will be made on his application. In making application for payment the sender must produce the receipt originally given to him for the parcel and relinquish it with the acknowledgment at foot duly signed, and (if the amount exceeds the limit fixed by the stamp law for the time being) with a one anna bill stamp affixed thereto.

13. Forward postage will not be charged when "value payable" parcels are re-directed from one post office to another.

14. The system of "value payable" parcels will shortly be extended to "overland parcels" booked in London for delivery in India, under detail conditions which will be made known at the London Parcel Offices. The contents of such parcels must be declared for Custom House purposes. The value payable will be limited to £10, and it will be realized from the Indian addressee at the rate of exchange current in Bombay on the day of the arrival of the invoice.

A. M. MONTEATH,
Director-General of the Post Office of India.

The Indian Law Reports

Published under Authority of the Governor-General in Council.

THE Reports appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and will comprise four series,—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court will be reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court will be reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Parts of each Series can be had separately, or all four Parts can be had stitched into one wrapper at the option of subscribers and purchasers. It will be observed from the following statement of the terms of subscription and sale, that a considerable reduction is allowed to persons taking the complete set.

Terms of subscription, payable annually in advance.

	Without postage.	With postage.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REVENUE ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE SALT DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEAR 1876-77.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 13th November 1877.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on the Administration of the Salt Department during the year 1876-77.

THERE is an increase of Rs. 3,48,731, or 1·3 per cent., in the receipts from salt during the year under review. As compared with the four previous years, the results of 1876-77 may be shown as follow:—

	Rs.
1872-73	2,61,19,562
1873-74	2,59,92,661
1874-75	2,64,87,143
1875-76	2,53,41,925 .
1876-77	2,56,90,656

This increase is almost entirely due to the enhanced receipts from duty on imported salt cleared for consumption. There has been a slight decline in the revenue from excise salt and in the receipts from rowannah fees and miscellaneous receipts; but this was more than counterbalanced by an increase of Rs. 47,686 under the head of golah rents.

2. The salt supplies for the past five years have been as follow:—

	1872-73.	1873-74.	1874-75.	1875-76.	1876-77.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
Quantity imported and manufactured	75,31,304	78,41,000	83,88,081	1,00,24,736	82,66,990
Ditto cleared for consumption	79,91,286	79,44,347	81,99,380	79,14,513	81,07,022
Ditto in stock at close of year	23,25,766	20,59,418	20,37,317	41,53,880	42,50,816

There was a considerable decline during the past year in importations, which fell from 1,00,24,736 maunds to 82,66,990 maunds, or about the same quantity that was imported in 1874-75. The importation of 1875-76 was entirely abnormal, the actual clearances for consumption for that year having been below the clearances of the two years preceding it. The Calcutta imports were 77,06,649 maunds, against 95,36,664 maunds, and the Chittagong imports 1,51,488 maunds, against 1,63,646 maunds.

In the case of Chittagong, it is observed that importation was checked by the general stoppage of trade consequent on the cyclone and storm-wave of the 31st October 1876, and also by the fact that the stock of salt in hand at the beginning of the year amounted to 1,95,527 maunds, or 45,211 maunds more than the average stock of previous years.

The large decrease in Calcutta appears to be due to the large quantity of salt left in stock at the close of the preceding year in consequence of the excessive importations of 1875-76.

3. As in the preceding year, the entire supply of Chittagong was derived from Great Britain, which also furnished 60,65,533 maunds of the Calcutta imports. A considerable increase is observed in the imports into Calcutta from Egypt, and a less conspicuous rise in the imports from Bombay. On the other hand, the imports from Great Britain fell, for reasons already explained, from 74,91,833 to 60,65,533 maunds, and the Madras imports from 5,09,946 maunds to 1,91,714 maunds, while a smaller decrease occurred in the imports from France, the Arabian and Persian Gulfs, and Italy.

4. The clearances of salt for consumption during the past year were as follow:—

	Quantity. Mds.	Duty. Rs.
Sales of imported salt from shipboard ...	57,94,742	1,84,11,563
Ditto ditto from bond ...	19,68,062	60,95,245
Sales of excise salt	3,44,218	9,43,292
Total ...	81,07,022	2,54,50,100

The clearances are the real test of the condition of the salt trade, not the importations, and these somewhat exceeded those of 1875-76; but no less than 42,50,816 maunds were in stock at the close of the year—an amount more than sufficient to supply the whole of Bengal for six months.

5. The actual consumption in Orissa was 4,06,274 maunds, against 3,97,308 maunds in 1875-76. The sales of Orissa-made salt, however, fell from 3,40,987 maunds to 3,22,968 maunds, so that there remained a balance of 83,306 maunds to be supplied by imported salt from Ganjam. The report of the Board of Revenue does not state the total amount of salt imported from Ganjam into Orissa, but it is probable that it can hardly have been less than a lakh of maunds, as there is a considerable demand for cheap salt in the Tributary Estates.

6. The salt manufactured under the excise rules in the 24-Pergunnahs and the Orissa districts rose in the past year from 3,22,883 maunds to 4,07,074 maunds. In Pooree the increase reached the very large amount of 1,65,017 maunds, against which is to be set a decrease of 16,476 maunds in Cuttack and of 65,808 maunds in Balasore. In the case of Cuttack the diminished manufacture is attributed to the competition of cheaper salt from Pooree and Ganjam, while in Balasore the season was unfavourable, and large stocks of salt remained unsold in the district.

7. The increase in the amount of salt manufactured in Pooree appears to be due to quite exceptional causes. During 1875-76 the weather was very unfavourable to the manufacture, and the molunghees were unable to work out the advances they had received from their employers. These advances, therefore, were carried on into 1876-77; and, as the season was a good one, a large quantity of salt was made. The fact, however, that the amount sold declined from 1,68,068 maunds to 1,33,803 maunds places it beyond a doubt that the increased manufacture does not indicate a genuine revival of the Pooree salt trade, but merely proves that neither manufacturers nor molunghees are able to withdraw from the business without incurring a loss which they are at present unwilling to accept. With regard to the molunghees who derive their entire subsistence from salt working, it appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be established that the salt trade of Pooree stands in an entirely different position to that of Cuttack. In the latter district the decay of the salt industry is accompanied by the cultivation of cereal crops on land formerly reserved for salt working, and the diffusion of larger and more certain profits among the agricultural population. But in the tracts bordering on the Chilka Lake the soil is unfit for cultivation, and the cessation of the salt manufacture deprives the people of their only means of subsistence.

8. It is to be regretted that the duties on salt manufactured in Ganjam are not raised sufficiently to enable the molunghee of Pooree to compete on even terms with the Ganjam manufacturer. The condition of the people in both districts which border on one another is identical, and the Lieutenant-Governor is altogether unable to believe that the Madras consumers are not in a position to pay as much for their salt as the people of Orissa. In the meantime, the discount of 5 per cent. allowed in Ganjam to all purchasers of not less than 1,200 maunds has been ordered to be discontinued, and the Orissa manufacturers have been relieved of the cost of the preventive establishment for guarding the aurungs during the season of manufacture. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes that these measures will be found sufficient to afford some relief to the Pooree trade, and that both manufacturers and molunghees will be able in time to adjust their business to the new conditions under which it must be carried on.

9. The sales for consumption in the ten districts which lie within the salt law limits amounted to 13,73,796 maunds, being a net decrease of 19,822 maunds as compared with the sales of the previous year. The bulk of this decrease occurred in the districts of Backergunge, Noakholly, and Chittagong, and is attributed to the loss of life caused by the cyclone and storm-wave of the 31st October, and by the subsequent outbreak of cholera. This explanation is not entirely satisfactory as regards Noakholly, in which district a decline in the sales occurred in every quarter of the year. It should be observed, however, that the amount sold for consumption in the saliferous districts, although less than that of the previous year, exceeded the consumption of 1874-75 by more than 10,000 maunds, and represented an average consumption of more than 10lb per head by the population within the salt law limits as returned in the census of 1872. In Chittagong there is said to have been some illicit manufacture shortly after the storm-wave, when the soil was strongly impregnated with salt, but this seems to have been only on a small scale for domestic consumption, and can have had no material effect upon the revenue. In Noakholly the operation of the salt rules was suspended for a month, with the object of giving relief to the distressed people by enabling them to supply themselves with salt.

10. The number of prosecutions instituted under the salt laws was 1,591, besides 8 cases which remained pending from the previous year. This is an increase of 40·2 per cent. over the number of cases brought to trial in 1875-76, but as convictions were obtained in 96·5 per cent. of the cases, it is clear that prosecutions were not instituted on insufficient grounds. A sum of Rs. 9,233 was realized in fines and forfeitures, and Rs. 4,624 were distributed as rewards to informers and apprehenders. As usual, cases of illicit manufacture are most numerous in the 24-Pergunnahs and in Midnapore. In the former district the number of cases instituted rose by no less than 435, or 176·8 per cent., by reason of the greater attention paid to the salt law by the police, and the consequent discovery of a large number of cases of illicit manufacture. The cases, however, seem to have been mostly of a trivial nature. Midnapore had 348 cases, being 23·6 per cent. less than in the previous year. This decrease is attributed by the Collector to the more prosperous condition of the salt-producing tracts, which reduced the temptation to manufacture illicit salt. At the same time, where the soil is strongly impregnated with salt, it is to be expected that the lower classes will continue to manufacture for their own consumption. In Noakholly the number of cases rose from 43 to 210, but the majority were cases of neglect to give up rowannahs, and the increase was due for the most part to the extension of the jurisdiction of the Fenny sub-division by the inclusion of the thana of Mirkaserai. It is stated that the figures for this district are liable to correction, and a fresh statement which has been called for from the Collector will be awaited. There was a decrease in the number of salt cases in all the districts of Orissa where illicit manufacture is comparatively uncommon, in consequence of the extensive production of salt under license.

11. The return of salt conveyed by the several routes into the interior of the country shows a net decrease of 5,10,209 maunds in the amounts despatched by water, and an increase of 5,02,700 in the consignments by rail. The despatches by the East Indian Railway increased by 1,47,756 maunds, and those by the Eastern Bengal Railway by no less than 3,54,944 maunds.

12. The restrictions on the rowannah system which have been sanctioned by the Government of India did not come into effect until the 1st April 1877, and the working of the changes thereby introduced will be noticed in the report for the current year.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the further report promised by the Board of Revenue on the question of the bonding accommodation for salt in Government golahs.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL GENERAL REPORT OF THE DACCA DIVISION FOR 1876-77.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS—No. 3186.

Calcutta, the 13th November 1877.

READ—

Paragraph 28 of the Resolution No. 2751, dated 21st September 1877, on the General Report of the Dacca Division for the year 1876-77, relative to the conduct of a few of the zemindars in the district of Backergunge who rendered assistance to their tenantry after the cyclone which visited that place in October 1876.

Read also—

Endorsement No. 782, dated 1st November 1877, from the Commissioner of the Dacca Division, forwarding copy of a letter from the Collector of Backergunge, No. 1558 of the 9th October 1877, in which mention is made of several other zemindars and talukdars who also assisted their tenantry after the cyclone.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to learn that efforts to assist the ryots in the wave-stricken tracts in the district of Backergunge were not confined to those zemindars alone whose names were mentioned in the Commissioner's Annual Report, and in this Government Resolution thereon, dated the 21st September 1877, but that several other proprietors and tenure-holders also showed an interest in the welfare of their tenantry, and rendered material assistance to them in a time of distress.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, in continuation of this Government Resolution No. 2751, dated 21st September 1877.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Commissioner of the Dacca Division, with reference to his endorsement No. 782, dated 1st November 1877.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

PREPARATION OF FLAX FROM COUNTRY LINSEED STALK.

No. 78, dated Simla, the 22nd October 1877.

From—C. J. LYALL, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I AM directed to forward copy of a letter from the Managing Agents of the Rustomjee Twine and Canvas Factory Company, "Limited," of Calcutta, dated the 24th ultimo, with enclosure, on the subject of the preparation of flax from country linseed stalk, and to request that, with the permission of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, the necessary instructions may be issued with a view to the facts therein contained being made known in the linseed-producing districts of the Lower Provinces of Bengal.

Dated Calcutta, the 24th September 1877.

From—R. MACALISTER AND Co., Managing Agents, Rustomjee Twine and Canvas Factory Company, "Limited,"

To—The Officiating Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

WE have been favoured by Messrs. G. Henderson and Co. of this city with a perusal of your letter No. 44 of 25th August to them, and the documents accompanying the said letter.

We venture to inform you that during the past two years we have been engaged in experiments of some magnitude in the preparation of flax from country linseed stalk, and, having imported the necessary machinery, have succeeded in producing from the common stalk of the country grown for seed only, and from which the seed had been removed, a fibre which has been valued in England at £28 to £30 per ton We regret to say that our experiments have been interrupted through the destruction of all our linseed stalk by fire, and we are thus compelled to wait another season before we can finally prove that with the proper knowledge, care, and attention, it is possible to produce from the common linseed stalk (of which hundreds of thousands of tons are annually wasted in this country) a fibre, valuable to the manufacturer, at a price much below its market value, and which, therefore, will leave a good profit to all concerned in the cultivation and preparation thereof. This, we have little hesitation in saying, we shall conclusively do next year, the chief difficulty having hitherto been to induce the ryot to remove the seed without damaging the stalk, and to bring the stalk without loss of time to the retting pits; but this once accomplished (and our experience shows that from eight to twelve annas per maund of stalk offers sufficient inducement), the success of the remainder of the process depends almost entirely upon the superintendence which the work receives, and this, we may observe, requires to be of the best and closest description.

We have also made one or two smaller experiments in growing the stalk for the fibre alone, and thus obtained a much better quality of fibre; but our efforts have been chiefly directed to the utilisation of the enormous quantity of stalk now wasted annually in this country; and if the Government can in any way assist us in the matter, we should be glad if it would do so. Dinapore was chosen as the seat of our experiments.

We venture to enclose a small pamphlet which we have had printed for gratuitous circulation, and will feel much obliged if you will furnish us with three copies of the documents forwarded to Messrs. G. Henderson and Co., and also with Mr. D'Oyly's further report when it appears.

FLAX CULTURE IN INDIA.

FLAX.—"Lin," or "Linum Usitatissimum," is grown in almost all parts of the world; in some places for its fibre only, in others for its seed only (as in India), and in others for both its seed and fibre.

LANDS.—The best lands for the purpose are those which are subject to an annual inundation, or those with a friable soil, such as those on which linseed is usually grown in Shahabad and the surrounding country; the richer the ground, the greater the yield and the better the quality of fibre.

PREPARING LANDS.—Early in October in Bengal the land should be ploughed and cross-ploughed three or four times until it is perfectly soft and pliable; the weeds should then be cleared off, dried, and burned on the lands; then the usual levelling and harrowing should be done, and the land is ready for the seed.

To produce flax in the greatest perfection of quantity and quality of fibre, the land should be rich; therefore, the best plan is to plant only such lands as from their annual inundation are enriched by secretions, or, if they be uplands, such as can be manured or otherwise enriched. A good plan is adopted in America to utilise a fertilizer which otherwise would be lost: an enclosure is made by a light rail and post fence of about one acre of land, into which at night all the live stock of the farm are driven; a small quantity of straw, hay, corn-stalks, weeds, and other gleanings of the farm is daily deposited therein, affording the cattle a source of inducement to come in at evening of themselves. After a short time the habit becomes strong with them, and, aided by the small inducement of a mouthful of change of food, brings them up to the yard as regularly as sundown comes.

When the enclosure has been abundantly enriched, three sides of the fence are removed to enclose a like quantity of land adjoining; the fourth side left completes the square. The old plot is then attended to; all straw and other vegetable matter thereon not sufficiently rotten to be ploughed in is removed to a pit formed purposely to receive all sorts of vegetable matter, to form a compost for the next year's use; the land is then ploughed and made ready for planting when the season comes.

Indigo seety is a good fertilizer for flax; so is the water from the steepings and washings of indigo, and from flax retting or steeping, when it can be distributed over the land, as is generally the case where pumps are used, and when retting is done in indigo vats.

SEED.—The linseed should be of good quality, clear from other seeds: it is well to change seed often. Seeds obtained from the North-West and Western India for sowings in Bengal will be almost as successful as those obtained from Russia. Seeds which are obtained from foreign India should be sown for seed only the first year to obtain seed for the next year, and a small quantity should be planted yearly to keep up the change. When planted for seed only, the quantity of seed to the beegha should be about half that planted to produce fibre only—or, say, 10 to 12 seers to the beegha.

QUANTITY OF SEED.—In the North-West and Bengal from 20 to 22 seers to the beegha is, we think, about the proper quantity, if planted to produce fibre only. When planted thinly, as is commonly done for seed purposes, the straw becomes scrubby and short; long fibre is much the more valuable.

TIME FOR PLANTING.—As early as possible after the rains cease the seed should be put into the ground.

WEEDING.—When the seedlings are from two to four inches high weeding should be done, after which, if the lands are reasonably clean, no further trouble need be taken till the stalks are ready to pluck.

GATHERING.—Just before the seeds are ripe—in fact the moment the stalks commence to colour, and before they can turn brown, and the bolls or seed receptacles harden—the flax should be pulled out of the ground (not cut), tied up into small bundles not exceeding 5 inches in diameter, and immediately (in fact the same day when possible) conveyed to and deposited in the retting pits for fermentation. It is important that no time should be lost between the gathering and the retting.

RETTING.—This should be done much in the way that jute is steeped, viz. by casting the bundles into water (clean water is preferable) and covering them with logs of wood, or other substances of weight sufficient to depress them beneath the surface. The time sufficient to properly soften the woody substances of the straw depends much upon the temperature of the water. In Europe, in the summer season, the usual time occupied by the retting process is eight days; but we believe five days to be sufficient in this country as a general rule, and even four days when the water is quite warm. To test when the flax has been sufficiently retted, it is sufficient to take a few stalks from the retting pit and dry them by exposure to the air, then rub them between the fingers; and if the wood separates easily from the fibre, the retting is completed; if not, a longer time is required. After the flax is taken from the retting pit, it should be spread lightly over a grass-field, and there remain only long enough to get dried. With a clear atmosphere and sun, 24 hours will, we think, be sufficient, but judgment should be used. When the straw is dried sufficiently to allow of the flax being packed up in large stacks, to remain for months without taking injury from dampness, then it is properly dried, but care should be taken not to give the flax too much sun, as thereby the fibre is injured.

STACKING.—After the flax is perfectly dried as above, it should be put into large stacks, much as cultivators stack their paddy-straw, raised from the ground to allow a free circulation of air, with bamboos or other poles and straw as a grounding. In this condition, if properly dry when stacked, the whole, or what may remain unworked at the beginning of the rains, may be allowed to remain to the next cold season, when it can all the better be worked into fibre.

BREAKING may be done by hand or by machinery. Indigo-planters and other large producers could work by machinery at a trifling cost.

	Rs.
A 4-H P. vertical boiler with engine would cost in Calcutta about ...	1,200
A patent breaker to break out 2½ tons of straw per day of 10 hours will cost about	700

The engine above described would drive two or three of the breaker machines if necessary.

SCUTCHING.—Scutching may be commenced as soon as the first lot from the vats or pits have been dry long enough to admit of decomposition of the woody substance of the stalk, which will take place in about 15 days after removal from the water: but generally all hands are required to carry on the other processes; and as the retted stalk, if kept in stacks, or out of the influence of the sun's rays and the dry hot winds, takes no injury, it is as well to delay the scutching until later on.

The common linseed stalk of this country, which is usually thrown aside as useless by cultivators after they have extracted the seeds, although short in fibre in consequence of thin planting and poor soil, can be made available for a fairly good class of fibre if the stalk can be got out of the producer's hands before the exposure to the sun and hot winds has spoiled it. In the Mississippi and Missouri valleys in America, large quantities of linseed (flax seed) are annually planted with a view to utilise both seed and fibre, and both are utilised to the fullest extent with much profit to the planter. The quantity of seed put into the ground is about treble that in Bengal: consequently they not only get a good fibre, but obtain a better yield in seed. Machines patented by F. A. Smith, Esq., of the Missouri Flax Works, High Point, Monitoem Co., Missouri, U. S. A., are used for threshing out the seed. Where labour is high, as in America, these machines are indispensable; here, with the cheap labour of the country, the usual method of threshing rice, not the bullock tramp, because that spoils the fibre, but the usual threshing by hand over a log of wood, or a stone, is the best method. The fibre produced from native-grown linseed, although much inferior in quality to that grown especially with reference to fibre, is, nevertheless, a fair substitute for Russian tow for all sorts of coarse goods, and if carefully worked out will fetch in the London market from £25 to £35 per ton according to quality.

Good Russian Riga flax is worth in the Calcutta market now about Rs. 550 per ton, or Rs. 20 per Bengal maund. Indian flax can be produced nearly, if not quite, as good as Russian, and much cheaper; so that if, as I believe, numerous indigo-planters are prepared to try a few acres specially grown on prepared lands, and worked out with a view to better quality, as also to utilise their ryots' productions for the coarser quality, we are likely to get a long way on the road to success without much delay, and eventually to enrich the agricultural resources of the country to an important extent. Indigo-planters especially would benefit by adopting flax raising as an auxiliary to indigo, as there need be no great outlay; they have engines, vats, buildings; they have generally at their command the raw material, and can grow it for fine qualities; and what is of more advantage than all, the manufacture of this fibre serves at a season when they have little else to do.

I have written the above rough remarks with a view to convey to others who are desirous to benefit by it such knowledge as I have gained from considerable experience, both in America and India. I have found in experiments carried on at Dinapore during the past season that Indian linseed straw grown by the native cultivators is rich in fibre, but, owing to the mode of growing that fibre, is harsh, and that when planted thickly and grown for fibre only, the fibre is almost equal to Russian. Cultivators who wish to make the most out of their labour would do well to plant double the usual quantity of seed to the acre, gather the stalk when the seed in the bolls is ripe or the bolls have turned brown, thresh out the seed after two days' sun, and immediately immerse the stalks in water and follow the process above stated. Thus, they will utilize the seed and get a fibre useful to the mills, both here and in England, for making canvas for ships' sails, tarpaulins, &c., &c., for which there is a large demand. The Rustomjee Twine and Canvas Factory at Ghoosery, near Calcutta, have this season manufactured from imported flax more than 300,000 yards of sail and paulin cloth, for which purpose this fibre would serve admirably.

Producers will now find a market for their productions here in India.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 13TH NOVEMBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 10*th November* 1877.—Exportation continues dull; stocks have not much altered.

Bankoora, 10*th November* 1877.—No exportation was reported during the week.

Beerbhoom, 10*th November* 1877.—The price of common rice now varies from 18 to 20 seers per rupee, and is still falling. Stocks are low, and exports are falling off.

Hooghly, 10*th November* 1877.—The imports and exports during the week were almost on a par. The stock of rice at Chandernagore and other places on the Hooghly is estimated at one lakh maunds. Coarse rice sells at 13 seers per rupee.

Howrah, 12*th November* 1877.—The price of common rice has again fallen slightly at head-quarters. In the interior it ranges from Rs. 3 to Rs. 2-9-6. The best rice has not cheapened lately in the same proportion as the common kind.

24-Pergunnahs, 10*th November* 1877.—17,200 maunds of paddy and about the same quantity of rice were exported to Calcutta during the week. Prices are still high.

Nuddea, 10*th November* 1877.—In Kooshtea the imports of food-grains were 4,271 maunds and the exports by rail to Caolutta 539 maunds. From Meherpore 400 maunds of rice were imported into Karimpore, while 1,000 maunds of wheat and gram and 2,000 maunds of rice were exported from Gangni thana to Hanskhally; part of this probably went to Calcutta. 5,000 maunds of gram and wheat were sent to Calcutta from Teyhatta thana. Upwards of 2,000 maunds of rice and 300 maunds of pulses and cereals were imported into the Sudder sub-division, and 200 maunds of rice and 100 maunds of pulses and cereals were exported. The trade in food-grain seems generally to have slackened, and prices show a further tendency to fall in one place. Coarse rice is procurable at Rs. 1-15 per maund.

Jessore, 10*th November* 1877.—The stocks of food-grains in the district are sufficient, and exportation has almost entirely ceased.

Moorshedabad, 10*th November* 1877.—The river returns show:—Imports—rice 12,980 maunds, paddy 1,000 maunds, and poorbee dhan 2,400 maunds. Exports—rice 12,100 maunds, paddy 1,000 maunds, and wheat 80 maunds. The prices are:—Common rice at Berhampore is 14 to 17 seers, at Lallbagh 10 seers, and at Jungypore 16 or 17 seers; coarse rice is at Berhampore 18 to 20 seers, at Lallbagh 20 seers, and at Jungypore 16 to 21 seers per rupee.

Rajshahye, 10*th November* 1877.—4,539¼ maunds of rice and 817 maunds of pulse were exported. The stock of rice available for export is a little under four lakhs maunds. The price of common rice has fallen from 19 and 20 seers to 22½ seers per rupee, and best rice from 10½ and 13½ to 13½ and 15 seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 9*th November* 1877.—Rice has become considerably cheaper, and its exportation appears to have decreased.

Bogra, 10*th November* 1877.—About 1,600 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta and a small quantity to Pubna and Rajshahye; 150 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. Rice is on the whole cheaper throughout the district, the prices varying from 15 to 26½ seers per rupee.

Pubna, 10*th November* 1877.—In Pubna town, coarse rice is sold at Rs. 1-13, poorbee at Rs. 2, paddy at Rs. 1-1, wheat at Rs. 2 per maund. At Dulai, aous rice is 18 seers, and amun 20 seers, amun paddy one maund, and aous paddy 27½ seers per rupee. At Mothoora rice is 18 seers, paddy 37 or 38 seers per rupee. At Chatmohur aous rice is Rs. 1-6 per maund, poorbee Rs. 1-12, amun Rs. 1-10, and amun paddy 12 annas per maund. At Serajgunge, amun rice is Rs. 3-1 or Rs. 3-2, and aous Rs. 2-8 or Rs. 2-9, amun paddy Rs. 1-11 or Rs. 1-12, and aous paddy Rs. 1-6 or Rs. 1-7 per maund. At Shazadpore, rice is Rs. 2-10 and paddy Rs. 1-4 per maund. At Ullaparah, aous rice is Rs. 1-12 and amun Rs. 2-2 per maund. At Raigunge rice is 15 seers and paddy 28 seers per rupee.

Darjeeling, 9*th November* 1877.—Rice, fine as well as coarse, has fallen in price. The supply is well kept up and the people are contented.

Cooch Behar, 8*th November* 1877.—The prices of food-grains remain unchanged. No exportation or importation is taking place. The supplies are abundant.

Dacca, 10*th November* 1877.—The supplies are ample everywhere, and there is no exportation of any consequence; what little was exported went to Chittagong and Backergunge. The prices of rice are—at Naraingunge Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3 per maund, at Dacca and Mirpore 13 to 16 or 17 seers per rupee. Paddy at Mirpore sells from 22 to 27 seers per rupee.

Furreedpore, 10*th November* 1877.—The prices continue high in the south of the district. Common rice varies from 20 seers per rupee at Goalundo to 12 seers at Silchar in the Madaripore sub-division. Importation is slack in the south of the district, and local dealers are disinclined to part with their stocks at moderate prices.

Backergunge, 8*th November* 1877.—All over the district the food-supply is sufficient. Rice and paddy are still being imported on an extensive scale: 18,358 maunds of food-grain were imported during the week. There is no panic among the people for scarcity of food-grain, which is abundantly being imported from other districts; but the price of better rice is still high, being from Rs. 3-4 to Rs. 4-8 per maund.

Tipperah, 9*th November* 1877.—Prices have fallen and will continue to do so as the prospects of the winter rice crop are so favourable. Exports continue.

Chittagong, 8*th November* 1877. There has been no exportation of rice to Calcutta during the week.

Noukholly, 8*th November* 1877.—The prices of food-grains are the same as reported last week. Coarse rice is selling at 13 or 14 seers per rupee. The supplies in the markets are fair. Importation is slack, but there is some exportation from Feuny station to Chittagong, and from Begumgunge station to Calcutta and to Chittagong Chittagong Hill Tracts, 6*th November* 1877.—The price of rice continues the same at Rangamatia. At Cox's Bazar it is 11¾ seers, at Sungu 12 seers per rupee, and at Ramgurh Rs. 3 per maund.

Hill Tipperah, 7*th November* 1877.—There is nothing new to report. The price of common rice is 16 seers per rupee.

Patna, 9*th November* 1877.—Prices are still falling.

Gya, 10*th November* 1877.—In Gya and Nowada prices were stationary, and in Jehanabad and Aurungabad a slight fall has been reported.

Mozufferpore, 10*th November* 1877.—Exportations of grain still continue. Prices remain stationary.

Sarun, 10*th November* 1877.—The imports of food-grains during the week from Mozufferpore, Patna, Fyzabad, Nawabgunge, Purneah, and Shahabad amounted to 10,135 maunds, and the exports to Calcutta were 2,000 maunds of wheat. The stock in hand was 56,680 maunds The prices were—wheat 14½ seers, best rice 7¾ seers, common rice 12¾ seers, &c.

Monghyr, 10*th November* 1877.—The stock of food-grains at the different marts and gunges during the week consisted of rice 22,750 maunds, rahur 5,213 maunds, wheat 39,546 maunds, paddy 10,713 maunds, gram 16,786 maunds.

Bhagulpore, 11*th November* 1877.—A slight amount of export to the North-West is going on. Stocks have lessened by sales for local consumption.

Purneah, 10*th November* 1877.—There is still a considerable exportation of grain, but, owing to the good prospects, prices are falling.

Maldah, 10*th November* 1877.—The prices of food-grains are about the same as last week.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, Deoghur, 11*th November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains in the different markets in Deoghur sub-division during the week consisted of paddy 55 maunds, common rice 142 maunds, Indian-corn 984 maunds, best rice 28 maunds. 119 maunds of rice and 990 maunds of Indian-corn were exported to North-Western Provinces The price of common rice is from Rs 2 to Rs. 2-4 per maund.

Cuttack, 10*th November* 1877.—The exports to Madras and Bombay at False Point amounted to 13,351 maunds during the week as against 22,469 maunds last week, and 49,932 maunds the week before. There was also a brisk export at Mourigaon or Chandbali. Prices still run high in the district

Pooree, 8*th November* 1877.—The supply of rice to inland markets is not sufficient. Prices are rising for want of rain. The present rates in the district are from 9 to 18¾ seers per rupee Rice is being carried along the coast to the Madras Presidency. Relief continues to be given in the salt tracts near the Chilka Lake.

Balasore, 9*th November* 1877.—During the past week the exports of food-grains consisted of 204 maunds of rice and 176 maunds of paddy from Chandbali to Calcutta. At both Chandbali and Balasore the price of clean red rice has been about Rs. 1-12 per maund. To-day the Balasore rate has risen to Rs 1-14. At Balasore stocks held by merchants and loaded on board vessels not yet cleared amount to 1,05,000 maunds; and at Chandbali mercantile stocks are 33,152 maunds.

Hazareebagh, 9*th November* 1877.—The markets are well supplied. Food-grains of all kinds are cheap and plentiful. Export is inappreciable.

Lohardugga, 10*th November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains in the markets is abundant. Exportation continues.

Singbhoom, 9*th November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains continues plentiful; there is no change in their prices Exportation is very insignificant

Manbhoom, 10*th November* 1877.—There has been no exportation; the supply of food-grains is abundant.

STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT,
The 13th November 1877.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 10th November 1877.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
	Burdwan Div.
1	Burdwan, Nov. 10 '77	Nil	No rain since last report The winter sowings are so far short. The price of rice is falling. Fever is prevalent.
2	Bankoora, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—clear and bright. The prospects of the crops are very good, though a little more rain would be useful.
3	Beerbhoom, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—alternately bright and cloudy. The absence of rain has been detrimental to crops on high land, which have ripened too soon and are now being cut in many places. The main body of the crops is excellent. Had there been rain during the week, there should have been more than a full crop. As it is, a fourteen-anna crop may be counted on.
4	Midnapore, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—rather warm for the season. No rains. Taking the district as a whole, the prospects of the crops are fair. Fever is most exceptionally prevalent.
5	Hooghly, „ 10 „	Nil	Cold weather has set in. Rubbee sowings are going on. Late rice is in ear, and a fourteen-anna crop is expected to be reaped. Vegetables and sugarcane are doing well. Fever is prevalent.
	Howrah, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—decidedly cooler towards the end of the week. The aman crop promises well on the low lands. It must be short on the high lands owing to recent want of rain.
	Central Districts.
	Presidency Div.
6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov 10 '77	·02	Weather—seasonable, but the sun is very powerful. There has been a little rain over a great part of the district. State and prospects of the crops are favourable, but more rain was and is desirable. There is a good deal of fever and some cholera.
7	Nuddea, „ 10 „	·21	Rain fell in parts of the district on the 3rd and 8th instant. The late rice growing in low lands is said to be doing well, but that on higher ground requires rain The cold weather crops are getting on well, but rain would be advantageous. Cholera is rather prevalent in some parts of the district, especially in Chooadanga.
8	Jessore, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—cold and damp. Fine mornings and evenings. ·23 at Jehanidah, ·29 at Khoolna, and 50 at Narail. Aman rice promises well on the whole, though in some parts of the district it has suffered from insufficient rain. The winter crops are doing well.
9	Moorshedabad, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The aman rice is expected to yield at least an average harvest. Want of rain has injured the prospects to some extent. The prospects of the spring crops are very fair. There are some sporadic cases of cholera, but the health of the district is generally good.
	Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Div.
10	Dinagepore, „ 9 „	Nil	Some days were hot and some were cool. The thermometer at nights ranges between 55° and 75°. The state and prospects of kaimanti crop are good. Cholera is reported to have appeared at Mohadebpore and Raneesunkoil.
11	Rajshahye, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—warmer in the day than in the previous week. Nights cool with heavy dew. The condition of the winter crops is good, but a little rain is wanted for them. The rubbee plants are thriving. Fever is prevalent throughout the district, particularly in Beanleah and Poottea, in which places the rate of mortality during the week has been high.
12	Rungpore, „ 9 „	Nil	Cold weather is gradually setting in Mornings and evenings are already chilly. State and prospects of all descriptions of crops continue to be most favourable. Tobacco is being vigorously transplanted. Cholera has broken out in some villages in the Kurigram and Gaibanda sub divisions. Public health is otherwise good for the season.
13	Bogra, „ 10 „	·15 (on the afternoon of 3rd inst.)	Weather—very warm for the time of year. The crops promise well. Aman rice is coming to ear and promises a good outturn. Rain would do good to the aman on high lands Fever is still prevalent in the western police stations. Cholera is reported from almost all parts of the district. It is most prevalent in thanas Shariakandi and Sherepore, and has seemingly spread from Serajgunge.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BENGAL.—(Continued.)
	Central Districts.
RAJSHAHYE AND COOCH BEHAR DIVS. 14	Pubna, Nov. 10 '77	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable. The first two days were somewhat cloudy, with a few drops of rain. The state and prospects of rubbee crops are good. More rain is required for aman paddy. Fever is still prevalent in the town, but cholera in Serajgunge has abated.
15	Darjeeling, „ 9 „	Nil	Bright, sunny weather. There is promise of a fair outturn from all the crops both in the hills and plains of this district.
16	Julpigoree, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—hot for the time of year in day time. Nights cool. The prospects of rice are good all over the district Lands are being prepared for wheat and tobacco; mustard and kalai are being sown. Public health is bad Outbreak of small-pox in a remote corner of the district is reported.
	Cooch Behar, „ 8 „	Nil	Weather—fair and seasonable. Nothing to add to the last report of crops Some rain now will help the dhan in ear, but on the whole rain in a fortnight or three weeks would be preferable for the cold-weather crops.
	Eastern Districts.
DACCA DIVN. 17	Dacca, Nov 10 '77	·09	Weather—seasonable on the whole, but still hot. 50 at Moonsheegunge for the week ending 7th instant State and prospects of the crops are favourable. The rain in Moonsheegunge did good but it was more wanted in the north and west, where the fall was either nil or very scanty. Cholera has disappeared from Narsingunge.
18	Furreedpore, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—fair and growing cooler. 36 at Madaripore. The aman harvest has begun The crop will be short, but so far the outturn is as good as was expected.
19	Backergunge, „ 8 „	·45	Weather—seasonable. The prospects of the crops are fair, but more rain is wanted.
20	Mymensingh, „ 9 „	·43	Weather—fine and settled since 3rd instant, but a sickly season. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
21	Tipperah, „ 9 „	68	Weather—sultry with slight showers of rain during the first portion of the week; since then fine and cool. ·15 at Brahmunbaria. Prospects of the winter rice crop are very good.
CHITTAGONG DIVN. 22	Chittagong, „ 8 „	·21	Weather—cloudy and close and lowering till the 4th instant, since then sunny with chill north wind. State and prospects of the crops are very good. Heavy cloudy weather brought out insects, which were doing some mischief, but the cold winds will probably have removed them.
23	Noakholly, „ 8 „	20	Weather—seasonable. The aman crop is progressing favourably. The cultivation of cold-weather crops is going on. Public health is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 6 „	61	Weather—cloudy with slight falls of rain occasionally from the 1st to 4th instant. The outturn of the joom paddy crop has been very poor in the Chengri Valley, and below the average in other parts of the district. More rain is wanted for the paddy transplanted in the Kurnafooli valley. The prospects of the cotton crop are good. Tili is being sold in small quantities by hillmen in the local markets.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 7 „	99	There was a good fall of rain on the 3rd instant, and the crops have been much benefited by it. Prices are stationary.
BEHAR.
PATNA DIVISION. 25	Patna, Nov. 10 '77	Nil	Weather—warmer than usual in the middle of the day. Mornings and evenings cool. Prospects of the crops continue favourable. Health of the district is good.
26	Gya, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—clear and moderately cool. Maximum thermometer in the shade 91·2°. Prospects are unchanged. Dhan on high lands is in places being cut for fodder. Sugarcane is ready for cutting, and is a good crop.
27	Shahabad, „ 10 „	Nil	No rain fell during the week. In Buxar paddy crop has suffered materially for want of rain. In Sasseram rubbee crops have germinated well, but it is feared that without rain they will not succeed; irrigation is being largely resorted to. In Bhubbooah rice crop has dried up except in places where irrigation is available; rubbee sowings are progressing, and in some places have germinated. In the Sudder sub-division rice crop is promising in those places where canal water is available; rubbee sowings are in progress.
28	Durbhunga, „ 10 „	Nil	Mornings and evenings cool. Days hot. The rubbee is germinating well. As the rice crop ripens it is becoming clearer that the outturn of the higher lands will fall under the average. But the lower lying lands promise an excellent harvest.

	BEHAR.—(Continued.)
29	Mozufferpore, Nov 10 '77	Nil	Weather—cool and clear In the Sudder sub-division there is no change to report in the prospects of the rice crop; the rubbee sowings are progressing fairly. In the Seetamurhee sub-division the rice crop is reported as almost gone; rain is much wanted for rubbee crops. The west wind is prevailing, and there is a check to the sowings as well. In the Hajeepore sub-division the prospects of the rubbee are good; rice harvest is expected to be a poor one, especially near Mahua.
30	Sarun, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable since last report. Prospects of rubbee crops are improving. Rain is much wanted both for paddy and rubbee crops. Rahar, cotton, and sugarcane, are doing well. Fields are being prepared for opium and indigo. Public health is good.
31	Chumparun, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable. Rather warm for the time of year. No change in the state and prospects of the crops. From an approximate return submitted from all police-stations, after special enquiry, the average prospects of the rice crop would appear to be just over 5 annas, and the average outturn of the bhadoi just over 9 annas.
32	Monghyr, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—fine Cold in the morning with frequent heavy dew. Prospects of crops are at present good
33	Bhagulpore, „ 11 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear. Hot by day, cool mornings and evenings. State and prospects of the crops are excellent. The Kartica rice crop is being cut in the southern portion of the district.
34	Purneah, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—fair. The winter rice is coming to ear, and there will be a fair crop. Rubbee lands are under cultivation, and there is good moisture for sowing.
35	Maldah, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—fair. State and prospects of the crops continue to be very fair. There is much fever in the district.
36	Sonthal Perghs, „ 11 „	Nil	Weather—dry and not cold enough. The lowland rice is quite first-rate. A good deal of the high land rice in Deoghur is bad, and some are dead. But in Deoghur, which is probably the worst sub-division in the district, the outturn of the whole rice crop will be over 12 annas i.e., just above average. The crops improve almost by the nick travelling eastward.
	ORISSA.
37	Cuttack, Nov. 10 „	Nil	Weather—fine. The late rain did much good, but the rice on high unirrigated land has suffered in some parts, chiefly in the north of the district. The early sarad has been cut in some places, and is coming into the market. Cholera and cattle disease are still flying about.
38	Pooree, „ 8 „	·22	Cloudy, and weather warm for the season. ·07 at Khoordah. The state of the crops in the sub-division of Khoordah is reported bad. Rain is much wanted. The laghu crop is in ear, but it is suffering. Prices of rice are increasing. The sarad crops are in ear. The state of the crops in that part of the Pooree sub-division which is bordering the sea is worse than anywhere else; and even the mandia, of which hopes were entertained, is now likely to fail. In other parts of the district there are good rubbee crops. Public health is good.
39	Balasore, „ 9 „	Nil	Weather—fair and bright. In general the winter crop will be an average one. Further enquiry confirms the estimate of one-quarter of the crop destroyed by drought in the south-east of the district. Owing to the variability of temperature, public health has deteriorated.
	CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 9 '77	Nil	Weather—settled: fine, but unusually warm. The rice crop is being gathered in very fast, and the outturn is better than was expected. A good heavy shower of rain would be of very great benefit, as it would enable the ryots to put in all their rubbee crops; but there is no immediate necessity for rain.
41	Lohardugga, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable, but rather too warm in the day time. The harvesting of the wet land rice has commenced, and the crop is expected to be an average one through the greater part of the district. The rubbee crops promise well after the late showers, but they would be the better for more rain. In Palamow more rain is still wanted to enable the rubbee sowings to be concluded. General health throughout the district is good.
42	Singbhoom, „ 9 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. No change to report in the prospects of the kaimanti rice crop. The prospects are indifferent in some and fair in other parts of the district. The cold-weather crops are all doing well, but the extent of their cultivation is not as much as in other years. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 10 „	Nil	Weather—becoming colder gradually. The prospects of the crops are the same as reported last week: there having been no rain, no improvement has taken place. A ten-anna crop all round is expected.

Published for general information.

N.B—The periods taken in the Statement represent roughly the distribution of rainfall most necessary to the agriculturist. The fall to the end of April may be called 'the ploughing fall,' that to the end of June 'the sowing fall.' The fall between June and August matures the aous, and is essential to the transplantation of the aman. The fall in September matures the aman, while that after September fills out the ear of the aman rice and determines the prospects of the rubbi.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

CULTIVATION OF SUN-FLOWER AND OF GROUND-NUTS.

Nos. 514C. to 524C., dated Calcutta, the 2nd November 1877.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Department of Revenue, Agriculture, and Commerce.

READ—

A letter from the Chief Commissioner of Mysore, No. 5502-G133, dated the 30th August 1877, forwarding a report by the Superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Bangalore on the cultivation of the sun-flower (Helianthus annuus) and the uses of the oil extracted from the seed.

1. The cultivation of the sun-flower plant was undertaken in this country to test its value in the reclamation of marshy land and the removal of malaria.

2. In Bangalore the plant has now been in continuous cultivation for some years, without any particularly successful results. As a destroyer of malaria, it is certain that the plant possesses no special value, and the statements on which the experiments were first undertaken have been found to be fictitious. The truth seems to be that the marvellous effects which are sometimes attributed to plants (as in the case of the sun-flower and the blue gum of Australia) as sanitary agents are due more to the clearing and drainage which are required before the plants can be successfully grown than to any peculiar virtues inherent in the plants themselves.

3. Oil of a very beautiful appearance has been extracted from the sun-flower in Bangalore, but the cost of extraction is prohibitive against its use; and, moreover, it has been generally condemned by those to whom samples were furnished for experiment as being ill adapted either for table use or for machinery. It is understood that large quantities of sun-flower seed are produced in Russia for the sake of the oil, which is in considerable demand for the lubrication of machinery. But, however this may be, it is clear that the cost of production in this country, so far as the experiments have gone, will not permit of the profitable cultivation of the plant.

4. The Chief Commissioner of Mysore thinks that, in order to investigate the properties of the plant to the fullest extent, further experiments, suggested by the Superintendent of the Government Farm in Bangalore should be made, the objects to be determined being (1) to ascertain whether the plant can be grown as an ordinary agricultural crop, so as to compete with the usual oil-seed crops cultivated by natives, and (2) to determine the value of the oil by chemical analysis in England.

5. The Governor-General in Council does not object to the proposed experiments being undertaken, a quantity of the oil being prepared for chemical analysis and for submission to the trade. But this quantity having been prepared, it does not seem necessary to continue the experimental cultivation, pending the receipt of reports on it. If they should be favourable, the cultivation may be easily resumed. In the proposed experiment, particular attention should be given to the matter of cost, which should be carefully recorded.

6. In connection with this subject, the Governor-General in Council thinks it opportune to record his opinion that it is of more importance to stimulate and develope the production of articles already known in the country than to initiate costly experiments in articles not commercially known and of which the ultimate success is problematical. One of these articles is the ground-nut (Arachis hypogæa). The kernel of the pod of this plant produces a very large proportion of excellent oil, extensively used in Europe as well as in this country. The plant grows abundantly in the Madras Presidency and elsewhere, but it does not seem to be fully utilized. The exports of the nut to foreign countries in 1875-76 were—from Madras 6,994 cwt., value Rs. 29,774, and from Bombay 3,721 cwt., value Rs. 13,845. From Bengal the exports have been so trifling that they have not been separately distinguished. The plant is grown to some extent in Burma, but not sufficiently for local consumption, and quantities are imported from Madras.

Although the exports to foreign countries from British India are trifling, considerable quantities are sent from Pondicherry to France, as will be seen from the following figures which have been extracted from the French Trade Returns of 1875:—

Imports from British India—1,231,893 kilos., value 406,194 francs.
Imports from French India—6,404,899 kilos., value 2,113,616 francs.

The total imports into France in the year from all countries were 101,524,468 kilos., or nearly 100,000 tons, worth 33,503,000 francs.

Thus out of this total value of 33½ million francs only 2½ millions stand against India, of which French India has by far the largest share. Nearly all the rest is imported from the western coast of Africa.

7. The French trade in ground-nuts is a large and increasing one, the extraction of the oil, which is in considerable demand for the manufacture of soap, for consumption as food, and for other purposes, being conducted on a large scale at Marseilles. If the cultivation can be developed in this country, it seems probable that British India should be able to compete with Africa and supply France with a very considerable part of her requirements of this article, adding the ground-nut to other oil-seeds, such as gingelly and rape, which are now exported to France in great quantities.

8. The Governor-General in Council requests that the local Governments will be good enough to obtain particulars of the extent of its cultivation in their provinces, and to report them with any particulars they can ascertain as to the consumption of the seed and oil in the country. His Excellency in Council will also be glad to be favoured with any suggestions they may wish to make as to possible development of the cultivation and trade. In the maritime provinces it is desirable that the export trade should be recorded in the monthly and annual returns, and this should be done with effect from the 1st of April next in both the foreign and coasting trade returns.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governments and Administrations noted on the margin for information and guidance.

ABSTRACT OF REPORTS ON DISTRICT STOCKS OF RICE, &c., AND MOVEMENTS OF PRICE IN BENGAL, RECEIVED UP TO THE 20TH NOVEMBER 1877.

N. B.—No reliance can be placed on the accuracy of figured estimates of stocks in the interior; at best a rough approximation is all that can be expected.

Burdwan, 17*th November* 1877.—The exports of food-grains from Burdwan were 2,350 maunds, and from Bood-Bood 1,600 maunds.

Bankoora, 17*th November* 1877.—No exportation of rice was reported during the week.

Beerbhoom, 19*th November* 1877.—Stocks of food-grains seem to be very low. The price of common rice has slightly risen; it ranges from 16½ to 23 seers per rupee.

Hooghly, 17*th November* 1877.—No import during the week. Exports from Chandernagore and other places on the Hooghly are estimated at about 3,000 maunds. The stock in hand is about 75,000 maunds. Prices are stationary.

Howrah, 19*th November* 1877.—Common rice has again cheapened slightly in the interior; it now sells at about Rs. 2-8 per maund. Trade is inactive.

24-Pergunnahs, 17*th November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains seems to be sufficient in all sub-divisions.

Nuddea, 17*th November* 1877.—In Kooshtea the imports of food-grains were 5,470 maunds, and the exports by rail to Calcutta 355 maunds during the week. In Meherpore 360 maunds were imported. No exports from Bongong. 157 maunds of rice were imported from the east into Chooadanga. In Ranaghat 800 maunds were imported. The imports into the sudder sub-division have consisted of 2,800 maunds of rice, 257 maunds of cereals, and 550 maunds of pulses; the exports were 187 maunds of rice, 87 maunds of cereals, and 494 maunds of pulses. The trade to Calcutta appears to be rapidly falling off. Coarse rice is generally procurable at Rs. 2 per maund, it is cheaper at Hanskhali, namely Rs. 1-12 per maund.

Jessore, 17*th November* 1877.—The stocks of food-grains in the district are sufficient, and very little importation is going on.

Moorshedabad, 17*th November* 1877.—The river returns show:—Imports—rice 22,690 maunds, paddy 1,900 maunds, wheat 2,316 maunds, gram and pulses 14,672 maunds. Exports—rice 15,850 maunds, paddy 700 maunds, wheat 1,370 maunds, gram and pulses 4,825 maunds. The prices are:—at Berhampore common rice is 14 to 17 seers, at Lalbagh 18 seers, at Jungypore 17 to 19 seers, and at Rampore Hât 18½ seers per rupee. Coarse rice at Berhampore and Lalbagh 19 seers, and at Jungypore 19 to 22 seers per rupee.

Rajshahye, 17*th November* 1877.—6,307⅘ maunds of rice and 1,761 maunds of pulses were exported. The stock of rice available for exportation is about 3¾ lakhs of maunds. The price of common rice has risen from 21$\frac{2}{16}$ and 22$\frac{3}{16}$ seers to 19½ and 21¾ seers per rupee, and of best rice from 12 to 10½ and 12 seers per rupee.

Rungpore, 16*th November* 1877.—No change in the price of rice since last report, and exportation appears to have decreased.

Bogra, 17*th November* 1877.—792 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta, and a small quantity to Pubna and Rajshahye. 500 maunds were imported from Dinagepore. Rice is on the whole cheaper throughout the district.

Pubna, 17*th November* 1877.—In Pubna town coarse rice is sold at Rs. 2, poorbee at Rs. 2-1, paddy at Rs. 1-3, wheat at Rs. 2-2 per maund; there have been no exports or imports. At Dulai aous rice is 19 seers, amun 21 seers, amun paddy one maund and aous paddy 28 seers per rupee. At Mothoora, rice is 18 seers and paddy 37 seers per rupee. At Chatmohur amun rice is Rs. 1-10, aous Rs. 1-6, poorbee Rs. 1-12, and Amun paddy 12 annas per maund. At Serajgunge, amun rice is Rs. 3-1 or Rs. 3-2, aous Rs. 2-8 or Rs. 2-10, amun paddy Re. 1 or Rs. 1-1 per maund; about 2,000 maunds of rice were exported to Calcutta. At Shazadpore, rice is sold at Rs. 2-11 and paddy at Rs. 1-5 per maund. At Raigunge rice is at 15 seers and paddy at 28 seers per rupee.

Darjeeling, 17*th November* 1877.—The prices of every description of rice are falling. The supply is well kept up.

Cooch Behar, 15*th November* 1877.—The prices of food-grains remain unchanged. No exportation or importation is taking place. Supplies are abundant.

Dacca, 18*th November* 1877.—The supplies of food-grains are plentiful There have been no exports except to Chittagong, Backergunge, and Noakhally. In the district generally prices of rice are Rs. 2-8 to 3 per maund; at Naraingungo Rs. 2-5 to Rs. 2-11-9 per maund.

Furreedpore, 17*th November* 1877.—The price of rice varies from 19 seers per rupee at Goalundo to 12 seers per rupee in some parts of the south of the district. Importation is less brisk than usual at this season. There was very little exportation.

Backergunge, 15*th November* 1877.—Prices of rice are high:—at Burisal Rs. 4, at Jhalakati Rs. 4-8 to Rs. 4-12, at Backergunge Rs, 4-12, at Perozepore Rs. 5, and at Bhola Rs. 3-4 to Rs. 3-8 per maund. The supply of food-grains continues to come into the district, and an importation of 29,011 maunds is reported during the week ending the 10th instant.

Tipperah, 16*th November* 1877.—Prices of rice vary from Rs. 2-6 to Rs. 3-4 per maund in the various marts. Exports continue.

Chittagong, 15*th November* 1877.—No exportation of rice to Calcutta during the week.

Noakholly, 15*th November* 1877.—The prices of food-grains are the same as reported last week. Coarse rice is 13 or 14 seers per rupee. The supplies in the markets are fair.

Importation is slack. There was some exportation from Fenny station to Chittagong, and from Begumgunge to Calcutta and Chittagong.

Chittagong Hill Tracts, 13*th November* 1877.—At Rangamatia rice is sold at Rs. 3-8 to Rs 4 per maund, and at Ramghur, in the Fenny valley, at Rs. 3-4 per maund. At Cox's Bazar and Sungoo the prices are the same as last week.

Hill Tipperah, 14*th November* 1877.—At Agartalla common rice is 19 seers per rupee. Supplies continue to increase. New amun is coming into the markets.

Gya, 17*th November* 1877.—Prices are stationary throughout the district. Some exports are reported from the district.

Mozufferpore, 17*th November* 1877.—Exportations of food-grains are going on. Prices are slightly rising.

Sarun, 17*th November* 1877.—The imports of food-grains during the week from Mozufferpore, Patna, Fyzabad, Nowabgunge, Purneah, and Shahabad amounted to 11,810 maunds, and the exports were 2,000 maunds of wheat to Calcutta, and 500 maunds of gram to Fyzabad The stock in hand was 62,397 maunds. The prices were—wheat 14 seers, best rice 8¼ seers, common rice 12 seers per rupee, &c.

Chumparun, 17*th November* 1877.—Prices of food-grains are generally rising considerably, but somewhat fluctuating. Some exports are reported.

Monghyr, 17*th November* 1877.—The stock of food-grains at the different marts during the week consisted of rice 19,250 maunds, rahur pulse 7,474 maunds, wheat 30,882 maunds, paddy 9,765 maunds, gram 7,467 maunds, &c.

Bhagulpore, 18*th November* 1877.—The stock of food-grains is much the same as last week; no large transactions are recorded.

Purneah, 17*th November* 1877.—The exportation of food-grains to Calcutta continues, especially from the town of Purneah, and Kusba.

Maldah, 17*th November* 1877.—The prices of common rice are about the same as last week.

Sonthal Pergunnahs, 15*th November* 1877.—The supply of food-grains in the different marts in Deoghur sub-division consisted of paddy 87 maunds, common rice 275 maunds, Indian-corn 1,017 maunds, &c. 150 maunds of rice and 940 maunds of Indian-corn have been exported to the North-West Provinces from this sub-division.

Cuttack, 17*th November* 1877.—The exports during the week amounted to only 298 maunds to Cochin, as against 13,351 maunds to Madras and Bombay last week The more hopeful reports from Madras have given a decided check to the purchasers for exports to Madras ports. The stocks at the sudder sub-division are reported at 90,000 maunds, which will leave a large margin for export if required. Prices are still high; there is a temporary lull in the markets, as the mahajuns are uncertain whether to ship the rice for Madras or to sell it at the locality at the fairly high rates prevailing.

Pooree, 15*th November* 1877—The supply of rice to inland markets is not sufficient; prices have risen. In Khoordah rice is cheaper, owing to the arrival of 5,000 maunds of unhusked rice sent for sale in the Government estate. Prices are 9 to 17$\frac{1}{16}$ seers per rupee. No exports by sea

Balasore, 16*th November* 1877 —Exports of food-grains during the week consisted of 18,214 maunds of rice from Balasore to the Madras Presidency, and 550 maunds of rice and 1,900 maunds of paddy to Calcutta. Up to the 10th instant the exports from Chandbally consisted of 1,888 maunds of rice to Maldives, and 244 maunds of rice and 954 maunds of paddy to Calcutta. At Chandbally the price of clear red rice was Rs 1-12 per maund on the 9th idem, and at Balasore it has been Rs 1-13 throughout the week. Stocks held by merchants at Balasore amount to 87,336 maunds of rice.

Hazareebagh, 16*th November* 1877.—Supply of food-grains is ample. Little or no export. Prices are unaltered.

Lohardugga, 17*th November* 1877.—Supply of food-grains is abundant; exportation continues.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 17th November 1877

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 17 '77	Nil	No rain. No change in the prospects of the crops since last week. Fever is still very prevalent
Burdwan Div. 2	Bankoora, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—clear and cool. No change to report in the prospects of the crops The cutting of the aman crops is in progress.
Burdwan Div. 3	Beerbhoom, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—fine; rather warm for the time of year. No change to report in the state and prospects of the crops.
Burdwan Div. 4	Midnapore, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable though a little warm Prospects of the crops are moderate. Fever is extensively prevalent, though not very fatal.
Burdwan Div. 5	Hooghly, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Late rice on the high lands is suffering from want of rain Sowings of rubbee crops are going on. Indigo, potato and kalai have germinated in places Fever is prevalent.
Burdwan Div.	Howrah, „ 19 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable, with wind from the north No improvement in the high-land crops; the rice in the low lands is good.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Div. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov 17 '77	Nil	Weather—seasonable and fair. Prospects of the crops are good. Cholera is abating. Ordinary fever prevails at Barripore.
Presidency Div. 7	Nuddea, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable No rain Aman rice and winter crops are said to be promising well in all directions. Rain would however be advantageous. Cholera is still prevalent in Chooadangah.
Presidency Div. 8	Jessore, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear Mornings and nights are cold. Prospects are favourable, but a little more rain would have done a great deal of good to the aman crop As it is, the aman on the higher lands will suffer much from the early cessation of the rain The cold-weather crops in the ground are doing well Fever of a severe type is prevalent throughout the district, and sporadic cases of cholera are heard of.
Presidency Div. 9	Moorshedabad, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—somewhat too hot to be seasonable. Harvest prospects of aman rice continue generally favourable State of spring crops is reported to be good. Cholera has appeared in four station circles, and there is much illness in Berhampore
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 10	Dinagepore, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. North-east wind prevailing. Rice is ripening fast, also the pulses. Fields have been prepared for mustard. Prospects are good.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 11	Rajshahye, „ 17 „	Nil	The cutting of dhan has commenced; the outturn of the crop is expected to be good. The condition of the rubbee crops is good. Fever is still prevalent in the district, and some cases of cholera have been reported.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 12	Rungpore, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. State and prospects of the crops continue to be excellent. Land is being ploughed for the rubbee. Cholera at Bhowanigunge shows no signs of extending itself; cases of mild ague are rather common.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 13	Bogra, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—clear and moderately cold with heavy dew at night. No rain. Aman and other standing crops look promising, and will, it is hoped, turn out well Gram, mustard, and kalai, are being sown No change in the health of the district since the last report. Cholera of a bad type is still going on in parts of the district.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 14	Pubna, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are good, but a little more rain is wanted for the aman crop. Fever is prevalent in the town. Report from Serajgunge not received.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 15	Darjeeling, „ 16 „	Nil	Bright weather during the early part of the week; towards the end it has been hazy and threatening rain Hamuntá rice is in ear and promises a very fair outturn. The minor crops of kalai, buck-wheat, and the millets, are all progressing favourably.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 16	Julpigoree, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Nights are cool. Prospects of the winter rice are good. Transplantation of the tobacco plants has commenced. In some places lands are being prepared for mustard and wheat, and in some the sowing of the former is finished. Within Julpigoree station kulti kalai is already reaped. Public health is bad. Fever is prevalent in the town of Julpigoree.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs.	Cooch Behar, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—fair and cool. Prospects of the crops are not bad. Public health is good.

No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
	BENGAL.—(Continued)
	Eastern Districts.
	DACCA DIVN.
17	Dacca, Nov 18 '77	Nil	Weather—rather warm for the season. Prospects are favourable. Rice harvest is going on rapidly.
18	Furreedpore, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—fair but not so cold as usual at this time. No change in the prospects of the crops. Rain is required for the preparation of the ground for the cold weather crops. Winter rice is being cut; a half crop may be gathered.
19	Backergunge, „ 15 „	Nil	The continued drought has undoubtedly damaged the aman crop, particularly on the high lands, but the general outturn will be 13 or 14 annas, provided there be no storm of wind when the ears are ripening. Prices still continue high Fever in a sporadic form exists in many places. The health of the cattle is everywhere good.
20	Mymensingh, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the season of year. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory
21	Tipperah, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—fine and cool. Prospects of the winter rice are very good.
	CHITTAGONG DIVN.
22	Chittagong, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—close and hot on the 13th, 14th, and 15th; heavy clouds about, as if storm were brewing. State and prospects of the crops are very good
23	Noakholly, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The aman crop is progressing favorably. Cultivation of the cold weather crops is going on. Public health is good.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 13 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable throughout the week. The paddy transplanted by the plough cultivators is ripening. Lands are being ploughed for mustard, tobacco, and other cold-weather crops.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 14 „	Nil	Weather—dry and cool. Some aman crops have been already cut; others are nearly ripe Prices have fallen owing to the cutting of new crops.
	BEHAR
	PATNA DIVISION
25	Patna, Nov. 17 '77	Nil	Weather—unusually hot for this time of year. A little rain would now do good, but the prospects of the crops continue fair
26	Gya, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—clear, and latterly in the day time unusually hot for the time of year. Maximum thermometer in the shade 89·8°. Prospects of khureef and rubbee are unchanged Rubbee sowings are nearly completed. Kartika dhan is being reaped and threshed. The outturn in Nowada is estimated at ten annas.
27	Shahabad. „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—rather unseasonable, being hot during day. No rain throughout the district. In Bhubboosh the rice crop saved by irrigation is being reaped. Rubbee sowings are progressing favourably. Sugarcane is improving. In Buxar the rubbee is being sown and is germinating The cultivators are taking canal water wherever available. In Sasseram the rubbee sown has germinated, but is suffering from want of rain, except in places where canal water is available. In the head quarters sub-division the canal water has saved the rice crop. Rubbee sowings are being pushed on. Public health is good.
28	Durbhunga, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The rubbee is germinating well. The rice crop on high lands appears to fall under the average Tobacco is growing well.
29	Mozufferpore „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—cool and clear. In the Sudder sub-division there is no change to report in the prospects of the rice crop The young rubbee crops are in fair condition. In the Seetamurhee sub-division the prospects of the rice crop are getting worse day by day, and there is much want of moisture for the rubbee crops. Prospects of the crops in Turganee pergunnah, outpost Belsund, are fair In the Hajeepore sub-division the prospects of dhan and rubbee crops are good Rain is wanted for the rubbee.
30	Saran „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear. No signs of rain. East wind prevailing Prospects of the rubbee crops continue favourable, but rain is much wanted to promote their growth Aghani rice that has been saved is fast ripening Sugarcane is being cut and put into the mills Indigo fields are being prepared for next year. Poppy is being sown. Prices are stationary. Public health is good
31	Chumparun. „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable, but rather warmer than usual. State and prospects of the crops are generally bad. Much rice has been cut for fodder. Trustworthy information has now been had from over a large tract in the south. The rice crop is an almost complete failure here The bhadoi was at best 6 annas, and the kodo, &c., reaped a little later, hardly better. About half the rubbee lands have been sown; and the seed that has been sown has come up badly, except in some few low irrigated places. Unless moderate rain falls soon the seedlings cannot last, nor can anything be done with the lands now fallow. Opium prospects in this tract are much worse than in 1873-74; the seed is not thought likely to germinate over more than quarter of the cultivation.

BEHAR—(Continued.)
Bhagulpore Div. 32	Monghyr, Nov. 17 „	Nil	Weather—still hot with heavy dews at night. Prospects are the same as before. An eight-anna crop on the whole is expected.
Bhagulpore Div. 33	Bhagulpore, „ 18 „	Nil	Weather—cool in the morning and evening. Clear sky. Little wind. State and prospects of the crops are excellent. Kartika rice is being cut in places.
Bhagulpore Div. 34	Purneah, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—fair. A fair outturn of the rice crop is expected. The rubbee prospects are also good. Fever is very prevalent.
Bhagulpore Div. 35	Maldah, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—fair; rather hot for the time of year. State and prospects of the crops continue to be very fair on the whole. The highland rice in Khorba and Gajole is suffering somewhat, as was anticipated, from want of rain. Fever is very prevalent. A few sporadic cases of cholera reported.
Bhagulpore Div. 36	Southal Perghs, „ 18 „	Nil	Weather—warm. The rice crop is good everywhere. The highland rice in Deoghur is better than was expected. Rain will be wanted for the rubbee.
ORISSA.
Orissa Div. 37	Cuttack, Nov 17 „	Nil	Weather—fine; rather warm for the time of year. No rain. In Jajpore and Kendrapara sub-divisions rain is wanted. Laghu crop is being cut, and the outturn is expected to be 14 annas. Rubbee crops are progressing fairly well. General health is good. Cholera is still reported from one Chukla and Kendrapara town.
Orissa Div. 38	Pooree, „ 15 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. In Khoordah rain is wanted for the high lands. The people of Khoordah are irrigating wherever they can. The laghu crop that survived the drought is being harvested. The sarad rice is in ear. Where irrigation is not possible in other parts of the district the rice plants on the higher lands are suffering. In general the rubbee, sugarcane and other miscellaneous crops are thriving. In the tracts situated between the Chilka and the sea the condition of the people is worse than before. Nearly the entire rice crop will be lost for want of rain, and the outturn of mandia will for the same reason be but scanty. Relief is being given mainly from funds contributed by private individuals. Public health is good.
Orissa Div. 39	Balasore, „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—clear and cold. Not more than a ten-anna crop is expected in most of the pergunnahs in the south of the district. Elsewhere the crops are fair.
CHOTA NAGPORE
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 16 '77	Nil	Weather—seasonable Settled fine. The wet crops are all being rapidly harvested. An average ten-anna crop is expected. Sugarcane promises well. Rubbee sowings are stopped for want of rain
41	Lohardugga, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable and rapidly getting cold. No change to report. Harvest operations are in full swing. A fair general outturn of rice is expected over most of the district. More rain would do rubbee crops good, but so far prospects are on the whole moderately favourable in the Sudder sub-division. From Palamow prospects of rubbee crops are reported as uncertain.
42	Singbhoom „ 16 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable The reaping of the kaimati paddy has now begun, and the anticipated yield for the entire district is reported to be eight annas. The cold-weather crops, as gram, wheat, pulses, and mustard, are doing well. Tussur culture is reported successful. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, „ 17 „	Nil	Weather—very cool and pleasant No signs of rain. Dhan is being harvested and is reported a good average ten-anna crop. Rain is much needed for the rubbee crops, which are not promising

N.B—The periods taken in the Statement represent roughly the distribution of rainfall most necessary to the agriculturist. The fall to the end of April may be called 'the ploughing fall,' that to the end of June 'the sowing fall.' The fall between June and August matures the aous, and is essential to the transplantation of the aman. The fall in September matures the aman, while that after September fills out the ear of the aman rice and determines the prospects of the rabbi.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

f foggy, w dew, ☾ lunar corona.

F. T. HAIG, Col., R.E.,
Joint Secy. to the Government of Bengal in the P. W. Dept., Irrigation Branch.

The 17th November 1877.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the Month of September 1877.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE, SEALDAH TERMINUS.

Report on the Traffic for the five weeks ending the 29th September 1877.

Dated Calcutta, the 6th November 1877.

From—JAMES BRANDER, Esq., Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway Company, Sealdah.

THE quantity of goods carried during the above period was maunds 14,28,518, as against maunds 10,68,695 during the same period of last year, showing an increase of maunds 3,59,823.

This increase is chiefly attributable to the increased quantities carried of the following staples, viz. grain, including rice, gunny bales, jute drums, railway materials, foreign piece-goods, seeds, twist and miscellaneous goods.

The staples showing the largest decrease are gunny bundles, hides, jute bales, salt, tobacco and turmeric.

Increases.

Grain, including rice ... ... Mds 3,84,745

This increase is owing to the large quantities still being brought for shipment to the famine districts besides cereal for export.

Gunny bales ... ... Mds. 4,513

This is owing to the increased quantity of bags forwarded for export from the Serajgunge jute-mills, but is counterbalanced by the decrease of gunny bags in bundles, which amounts to maunds 4,452.

Jute in drums ... ... Mds. 4,895

Only show a very small increase, owing to the large quantity carried during the same period of last year.

Piece-goods ... ... Mds. 9,891

This staple shows again a satisfactory increase, the demand being great on account of the Dussorah holidays.

Railway material ... ... Mds. 9,954

This increase is owing to the quantities of materials still being forwarded for the Northern Bengal State Railway.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 15,708

The quantity carried of this staple, which showed a decrease last month, has again improved satisfactorily.

Twist ... ... Mds. 2,154

This shows a satisfactory increase, chiefly attributable to the quantity brought down for export from the Dunbar Cotton Mills, Shamnuggur.

Miscellaneous goods ... ... Mds. 47,631

This continues to show a satisfactory increase chiefly of upward goods.

Decreases.

Gunny bundles 4,452

This decrease is owing to the large demand in the interior for the transport of grain to the Calcutta market.

Hides, bundles ... ... Mds. 5,619

This decrease is owing to the demand for this commodity varying very much in the market.

Jute bales ... ... Mds 66,852

This decrease is attributable partly to the backwardness of the season, but chiefly to dullness of the market in England

Salt ... ... Mds 16,799

This staple still shows a large decrease in the quantity forwarded, but I am glad to say is again improving.

	Tobacco	Turmeric.
Tobacco and Turmeric ... ... Mds	13,628	10,757

These articles show a large decrease owing to there being little or no demand in the market.

I attach the usual statement showing the increase and decrease of the principal staples.

Statement of Increases and Decreases in maundage of staples carried by the Eastern Bengal Railway Company for the five weeks ending the 29th September 1877, in comparison with that of the corresponding period of 1876.

[First Publication.]

The 23rd November 1877.—The following Regulations for the Examination of Candidates for the Civil Service of India, to be held in June and July 1878, are published for general information:—

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JULY 1878.

N.B.—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years.

1. On 25th June 1878 and following days an examination of candidates will be held in London. At this examination not fewer than candidates will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified. Of these, will be selected for the Presidency of Bengal [for the Upper Provinces and for the Lower Provinces], for that of Madras, and for that of Bombay.* Notice will hereafter be given of the days and place of examination.

2. Any person desirous of competing at this examination must produce to the Civil Service Commissioners, before the 1st of May 1878, evidence showing—

(a)—That he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty.

(b)—That his age on the 1st of January 1878 will be above seventeen years and under nineteen years. [N.B.—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the candidate may have resided.]

(c)—That he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India.†

(d)—That he is of good moral character.†

He must also pay such fee as the Secretary of State for India may prescribe.‡

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be primâ facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the candidate will, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be admitted to the examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a probationer.

4. The examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge:—

	Marks.
§ English Composition	300
‖ History of England, including a period selected by the candidate ..	300
‖ English Literature, including books selected by the candidate ...	300
Greek	600
Latin	800
French	500
German	500
Italian	400
§ Mathematics (pure and mixed)	1,000
¶ Natural Science: that is, the elements of any two of the following sciences, viz.— Chemistry, 500; Electricity and Magnetism, 300; Experimental Laws of Heat and Light, 300; Mechanical Philosophy, with outlines of Astronomy, 300.
Logic	300
Elements of Political Economy	300
 Sanskrit	500
 Arabic	500

Candidates are at liberty to name, before 1st May 1878, any or all of these branches of knowledge. No subjects are obligatory.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary, in order to secure that "a candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

---

* The number of appointments to be made, and the number in each Presidency, &c., will be announced hereafter: it will probably be about half the usual number.

† Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than the 1st April 1878.

‡ The fee for this examination will be £5, payable by means of a special stamp according to instructions which will be communicated to candidates.

§ Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction.

‖ A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work specially prepared In awarding marks for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the periods or books selected, and partly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied

¶ The examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

 The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency, such as may be expected to be reached by a Native of good education.

7. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers and by viva voce examination, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each candidate in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined will be added up, and the names of the candidates who shall have obtained a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such candidates shall be deemed to be selected candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate. A selected candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for two years, during which time they will be examined periodically, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects :—*

		Marks.
1.	Law	1,250
2.	Classical languages of India—
	Sanskrit	500
	Arabic	400
	Persian	400
3.	Vernacular languages of India (each) ...	400
4.	The History and Geography of India ...	350
5.	Political Economy	350

In these examinations, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one examination. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers and by viva voce examination, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a selected candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India.

10. Any candidate who, at any of the periodical examinations, shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

11. The selected candidates who at the final examination shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that service.

12. Applications from persons desirous to be admitted as candidates are to be addressed to the "Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, S. W.," from whom the proper form for the purpose may be obtained.

September 1877.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

(1.) Selected candidates will be permitted to choose,† according to the order in which they stand in the list resulting from the open competition, as long as a choice remains, the Presidency (and in Bengal the Division of the Presidency) to which they shall be appointed ; but this choice will be subject to a different arrangement, should the Secretary of State or Government of India deem it necessary.

(2.) The Probationers, having passed the necessary examinations, will be required to report themselves to their Government in India not later than the close of December 1881.

(3.) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the selected candidates shall be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the final examination.

(4.) An allowance of £150 a year will be given during each of the two years of their probation to all candidates who pass their probation at some University to be approved beforehand by the Secretary of State, provided such candidates shall have passed the required examinations to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected candidates.

(5.) All selected candidates will be required, after having passed the second periodical examination, to attend at the India Office for the purpose of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event of their failing to proceed to India. A surety will be required.

(6.) After passing the final examination, each candidate will be required to attend again at the India Office, with the view of entering into covenants. The stamps payable on these documents amount to £1.

* Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

† The choice must be exercised immediately after the result of the open competition is announced, on such day as may be fixed by the Civil Service Commissioners.

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

I.—Every Candidate born in England or Wales should produce a certificate from the Registrar-General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial officers. This certificate may be obtained at Somerset House or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

II.—A candidate who is a native of India must have his age certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

III.—Every other candidate not producing the certificate mentioned in Clause 1, must prove his age by statutory declaration, and should also, if possible, produce a record of birth or baptism from some official register; under which term may be included the Parochial Registers of Baptisms, the non-Parochial Registers of Baptisms and Births deposited at Somerset House under Acts of Parliament, the Register kept at the India Office of persons born in India, &c., &c. This Regulation applies—

1. To all candidates not born in England or Wales.
2. To candidates who, though born in England or Wales, cannot produce the Registrar-General's certificate.

The Civil Service Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of deciding in each case upon the sufficiency of the evidence produced, but they subjoin the following general rules for the guidance of candidates:—

(a) The declaration should specify precisely the date and place of birth, and should, if possible, be made by the father or mother of the candidate. If made by any other person, it should state the circumstances which enabled the declarant to speak to the fact. If an entry in a Bible or other family record be referred to, the Bible or other record must be produced at the time of making the declaration, and must be mentioned in the declaration as having been so produced.

(b) If the candidate was born in England or Wales, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due inquiry, no entry has been found in the books of the Registrar-General; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.

(c) If no extract from any register is produced, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due inquiry, no such record is believed to exist; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.

(d) Statutory declarations must be exactly in the form prescribed by the Act of 5 and 6 William IV., c. 62. A printed form, if required, will be supplied on application to the Civil Service Commissioners.

N. B.—Clergymen, as such, are not qualified to take declarations.

The following are the conditions of sale :—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1876-77, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1878, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 54,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for "the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His "Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests "so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, "and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall "have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of "Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government "by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three "hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to "be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the "intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

N.B.—Maps are not sold at the Office of the Surveyor-General of India, Calcutta, but applications for maps on payment should be made to Agents. This Department only issues maps, free of charge, on the Public Service. It is particularly requested that the nearest local Agent as above be first applied to for any map required on the Public Service before indenting on this Department. The cost of postage of parcels must be borne by applicants themselves, as also such incidental charges as may be incurred at their request for mounting and binding maps. The best maps are invariably supplied in lieu of those asked for, which may not be available, and lists of all newly-published maps are periodically notified in the Gazettes of India and of Local Governments.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL REPORT, BURDWAN DIVISION, FOR 1876-77.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS—No. 3261.

Calcutta, the 24th November 1877.

READ—

The General Report of the Burdwan Division for 1876-77.

THE report, which has been drawn up by the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. A. Smith, is submitted long after date, and is even now incomplete, owing to the omission of all information relating to the district of Hooghly. It is stated that the late Magistrate of Hooghly, Sir W. Herschel, after delaying his report until the eve of his departure on furlough, took away the materials with him, promising to submit it before he actually left the country. This, however, he failed to do, and the most important district in the division has therefore been ignored in the Commissioner's report. Sir W. Herschel will be called upon by Government to explain his omission.

2. The duties of mofussil inspection seem to have been properly attended to by every Magistrate in the division, except Mr. Trevor Grant of Howrah. Mr. Grant pleads sickness as his excuse for not making any tour during the year of report, but the Lieutenant-Governor cannot accept this as a sufficient apology for the entire neglect of a very important duty. If Mr. Grant was unequal to the proper and efficient performance of his work, he should have taken leave.

Weather and crops.

3. The rainfall of the year, though in most districts below that of 1875-76, was still in excess of the average. Unfortunately its distribution was not altogether seasonable. In Burdwan there was a short fall in April and May, while continued heavy showers in the latter part of the season produced heavy floods on the Bhagirathi and Adjai. In Midnapore also there were two severe inundations—one in Tumlook and the other in Ghattal—which did much damage both to houses and crops. Notwithstanding all drawbacks, however, the outturn of the harvests was in every district favourable, the rice crop being everywhere above the average, and the cold-weather crops unusually good owing to the late date at which the rains ceased.

Public health and condition of the people.

4. The public health of the division was on the whole good. The epidemic fever of Burdwan has, the Commissioner notes, entirely disappeared; and though there were here and there during the rains the usual outbreaks of malarious fever, it nowhere assumed an epidemic type. Cholera showed itself in all districts in a sporadic way, but became severe only in Cutwa in Burdwan, where special measures of relief were adopted with success. Small-pox is more prevalent in Beerbhoom than elsewhere owing to the prejudices entertained locally against vaccination. The district has now been brought within the metropolitan circle and will be systematically worked. It is satisfactory to find, from another part of the report, that the percentage of persons in Midnapore who are unprotected from small-pox has been found to be only from 10 to 20 per cent.

5. To the cultivators generally the year was one of remarkable prosperity. The full crops, attended with high prices owing to scarcity in Madras, enabled them to pay off most of their debts and to satisfy the demands of their landlords. In Burdwan the grain advances made during the famine of 1874, amounting to Rs. 2,35,000, have all been repaid save Rs. 10,000. Even in the tracts which suffered from inundation the ryots made such profits from mulberry as almost made up for any losses on rice.

Emigration.

6. Bankoora and Midnapore are the chief recruiting grounds in the division for coolies both for the tea districts and the colonies. The plentiful harvests of the year led to a considerable falling off in the numbers despatched during 1876-77—a feature common also to other districts, as the following figures will show:—

	1876-77.	1875-76.
Bankoora	1,140	2,457
Midnapore	1,292	1,885
Burdwan	2,876	4,672
Beerbhoom	834	1,109

Of the 2,876 coolies recruited in Burdwan, only 586 belonged to the district. Both the Magistrates of Bankoora and Midnapore report that the chief abuse in connection with emigration is the enticing away of women. Mr. Larminie would lay down more strict rules upon this subject, and would for the rest leave emigration free, believing that the true facts, in connection with the tea districts at any rate, are now thoroughly understood throughout that part of Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently impressed upon district officers the importance of dealing strictly with abuses connected with emigration. Proper supervision may be given without any undue interference with private enterprise, and contractors and employers must be made responsible for selecting respectable agents, and discountenancing illegality on the part of their servants.

Manufactures and mines.

7. The section of the report dealing with manufactures is defective, owing to the absence of all information from Hooghly, the principal manufacturing district. The Burdwan report, again, is couched in general terms, and does not give sufficiently precise information as to the mining and other industries of that district. The pottery works of Raneegunge are said to be "doing well," and the Bengal Iron Company's works are described as "flourishing." The coal trade of Raneegunge has been "dull." Allusion is made to a discovery of lead and gold ore in Raneegunge, the lead ore being rich and in a thick seam, while the gold is not likely to repay the working. With reference to all these matters much more detailed information should have been given in the annual district report. The reports of the other districts, with the exception perhaps of Midnapore, seem to have been equally meagre. From the abstract given by the Commissioner of Mr. Harrison's report, it appears that the outturn of indigo in Midnapore was about 1,800 maunds, equal to the produce of an average year. The quantity of silk manufactured was 3,000 maunds, valued at 24 lakhs of rupees, from which excellent profits were derived. It is interesting to note that European twist is said to have supplanted home-made thread in the local manufacture of cloth, owing to its "producing the same quantity of cloth with one-third of the quantity of material, without any difference in price." The cloth manufacture is, however, said to be declining—a fact which is of serious moment to this division, in all districts of which large numbers of weavers ply their trade. The numbers as given in the statistical account of Bengal stood thus some years back—

Bankoora	6,685
Beerbhoom	7,531
Midnapore	26,276
Hooghly and Howrah	17,049

The Lieutenant-Governor would wish to have special inquiry made as to the present condition of the trade in all districts, and to have the subject more fully treated in next year's report.

Trade.

8. The trade in rice throughout this division has during the year been enormous, owing to the high prices ruling in Calcutta. The canals carried from Midnapore 21¾ lakhs of maunds of rice and paddy, against 6½ lakhs in the year preceding: and this notwithstanding the fact that sections of the high level canal were twice closed to traffic owing to accident. The railway failed entirely to take off the supplies brought into the stations along the line, and great quantities had eventually to be carted down the Grand Trunk Road. In one month Burdwan alone sent 2½ lakhs of maunds to Calcutta. The extent of the trade was something quite unexpected and unprecedented.

State of public feeling and the public press.

9. Throughout this division, where there are so many intelligent and educated native gentlemen, the ceremony of the 1st January 1877 evoked a very gratifying display of loyalty. In Midnapore, Mr. Harrison reports that the house tax under the Road Cess Act, the Village Chowkeedaree Act, the project of compulsory payment for irrigation, and some of the provisions of the Embankment Act, are all unpopular and give rise to some discontent. In Howrah the new Municipal Act is said to give dissatisfaction to certain classes. It is hardly possible in any country to make measures involving direct taxation popular; but such a measure as the Village Chowkeedaree Act ought, if judiciously worked and supervised, to lead to no discontent worth noticing.

10. There are but few newspapers actually published in the division, the educated natives generally subscribing to some one or other of the metropolitan papers. As Mr. Harrison remarks, "the notions imbibed by them are diffused among their neighbours," and "the press of the country is unquestionably hostile in tone" to the Government, mainly (Mr. Harrison thinks) because of the mere fact of its being in form an absolute Government.

Statistical enquiries.

11. The special statistical enquiries carried on in Beerbhoom under Deputy Collector Janokenath Mozumdar have now been completed, and the report is being revised by the Collector, Mr. Grant. In Midnapore special enquiries were made into the returns from irrigated and unirrigated lands respectively. The heavy rainfall of the year prevented the accrual of any marked benefit from the canal water. It was only to be expected that when there is a full rainfall ordinary lands would produce their ordinary crop, while irrigated lands can do no more. In the majority of the experiments, however, the figures are slightly in favour of the irrigated lands.

Police and crime.

12. The conduct of the police throughout the year is as a rule favourably reported on. The Commissioner's remarks under this heading are very much to the point. Mr. Smith writes: "A police force is necessarily drawn from the people, and as the people are, so will the police be. Careful selection and training can only operate on the original material Generally, however, the native of Bengal makes a very fair policeman. He has good detective ability, and, if not physically fitted for very active exertion, is patient and persevering: in the higher grades good pay, careful supervision, and the growing moral sense of the people rendering him from day to day more trustworthy; and if in the lower ranks, where pay is small and power great, honesty at times fails; the danger is one we are bound carefully to recognise and guard against to the best of our power." The spread of education is widening the field of selection, and more attention to departmental instruction would do much to improve men now in the force. The rural police is yearly improving, and the working of the Chowkeedaree Act of 1870 is doing much to better their status and secure that regularity of pay without which they cannot be expected to be honest.

13. The criminal returns show a decrease in the number of offences, cognizable and non-cognizable, throughout the division. The police were also fairly successful in dealing with heinous crime. In Burdwan there was an improvement in the results in cases of dacoity and cognizable crime generally. In Midnapore an unusual outbreak of dacoity in the beginning of 1876 was most successfully met, almost every case being detected and 119 dacoits convicted. Dacoity appeared to have been stamped out in Hooghly, but has again showed itself in the current year. On the whole, however, it is satisfactory to note that the steady increase of crime apparent on the returns of the last few years has received a check—a fact that may perhaps be taken to indicate reviving prosperity among the lower orders as well as better working on the part of the police.

Civil justice.

14. There is a very general complaint of the delays in the civil courts in the disposal of rent suits. The ryots find themselves harassed by the procedure of the court, while the zemindars complain that they cannot recover their rents. This matter is under the consideration of Government.

Land revenue.

15. The total collections of land revenue were 98·3 per cent. of the demand (an improvement on the year preceding), and would have been much better but for the short realizations in the temporarily settled and Government estates of this division which have been recently under settlement. Of 420 estates in arrear, only 35 whole estates and three shares were brought to sale, and the prices realized were from five to six times the Government revenue. The causes of default were chiefly a desire to sell the estates to advantage, or to get rid of unprofitable properties, and disputes among shareholders.

The field operations of the Revenue Survey in Midnapore and Hooghly are completed, but there is, the Lieutenant-Governor understands, a great deal still to do in the preparation of the registers. The Officiating Commissioner has been requested to inspect carefully the survey office, and see what can be done to push on this part of the work.

Excise and other revenue laws.

16. The excise revenue of the division was Rs. 6,10,460, an increase of 8·9 per cent. on the receipts of 1875-76. In most districts, however, illicit distillation is reported to go on, and the sudder distillery system has failed to meet the requirements of the outlying thanas. This is a matter now under the special consideration of the Board. There can be no doubt that a very considerable increase of revenue from excise may fairly be expected throughout Bengal, and that any increase in consumption attendant upon this will represent simply the substitution of licit for illicit spirit

17. The stamp revenue showed a decrease of 3 7 per cent. as compared with the previous year. The decrease was common to all the districts except Burdwan and Hooghly. The Commissioner attributes the falling off to the prosperity of the people, followed by a "decline in those branches of legal business which arise from poverty." The Lieutenant-Governor fears, however, that much revenue is lost by the neglect of the civil courts to pay adequate attention to the correctness of the stamps on documents filed. This is a growing evil which legislation will shortly attempt to correct.

18. In Burdwan serious frauds on the salt revenue were discovered and punished. Refuse salt obtained in the process of making saltpetre was smuggled up from Calcutta under the name of hide salt free of duty, and then mixed with duty-paid salt or purified and sold as duty-paid salt. The Board of Revenue should see that simliar frauds are made impossible for the future.

Railways and public works.

19. Thefts of spikes from the railway continue to be very frequent in Burdwan. The Magistrate believes that these offences are generally committed by permanent-way coolies, and this impression is confirmed in the experience of other divisions. Such thefts have been put a stop to in some places by the railway authorities steadily fining the gangs of coolies double the value of all spikes or other material missing.

20. The bursting of the Lukhimpore lock on the Midnapore high level canal did much injury to the canal traffic at a time when it was most brisk. The area in Midnapore under irrigation leases fell from 70,000 acres in 1874-75 to 30,000 in 1876-77, there being no pressing demand for water owing to the heavy rainfall of the year. Mr. Harrison remarks that, had compulsory irrigation been introduced after the drought of 1873, it would have been accepted almost without a murmur. Now, however, he adds, the case is different. The Dancoon drainage scheme in Hooghly is said to have done immense benefit to the country, and the operation of apportioning the cost (Rs. 4,84,127) among the proprietors of the lands reclaimed is now going on. The Rajapore and Amptah schemes are at present in abeyance, and no progress has been made with the Jugutee and Kananuddee canal—a project of which the Collector of Burdwan expresses an unfavourable opinion.

Working of committees.

21. The road cess committees have on the whole worked well. They have had generally ample funds at their disposal, and have employed them profitably and judiciously. In Midnapore the improvement in communications is marked and steady. In Burdwan there are complaints that enough money is not spent on village roads. The committee here does not levy the maximum amount of cess, and it has therefore the remedy in its own hands. In Beerbhoom, Bankoora, and the north of Hooghly the communications are now in fair order. But in the south of Hooghly (Howrah) much work has still to be undertaken. The Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to learn that the other committees have followed the example of Hooghly and Burdwan and done away with all toll-bars on district roads.

22. The education committees in this division take much interest in their duties. Under Mr. Harrison's able guidance the Midnapore returns of primary education again show remarkable progress, the schools having increased by 468, and the pupils by 10,439, over the figures of 1875-76. There are now 3,804 pathsalas and 93,119 pupils in the division, against 2,365 schools and 64,950 pupils in the previous year. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets, however, to observe that the girls' schools in the division are less by 29 and the pupils fewer by 154 than in 1875-76. This is a discouraging result in one of the most advanced divisions of Bengal.

23. There are six first class and sixteen second class municipalities in the division. The elective system has been tried in Serampore and in Burdwan. In the latter town the Commissioners elected were of the same class as those formerly in office. In Serampore there has been a great deal of friction owing to the existence of two parties in the town. With few exceptions, these committees also have done their work fairly and intelligently.

Post-office.

24. The only report containing any information of moment relating to the post-office is that of Midnapore, where it is noted that the number of letters passing through the district office has grown from 99,878 in 1875-76 to 698,880 in 1876-77.

Conduct of zemindars, &c

25. The relations between landlord and tenant are described as amicable, except in the district of Midnapore, where the pressure of the rent-question has made itself generally felt. The Maharanee of Burdwan is mentioned with special commendation as the best proprietor in Midnapore. She has prohibited, for instance, the levy of abwabs of every kind in the Soojamoota estate belonging to her. The proprietors of the Mysadul estate and the Roy Bahoos of Jara are also said to stand well with their ryots. In Bankoora Baboo Radha Bullubh Singh of Kuchenkole, Baboo Damoodhur Singh of Maliarah, the Banerjees of Ajoodhya, and the Messrs. Gisborne are well spoken of. In Beerbhoom, Rajah Ramrunjun Chuckerbutty of Hetumpore is specially mentioned.

Character of officers.

26. The remarks of the Commissioner upon the officers under him will be communicated to the Appointment Department of this office.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

A. MACKENZIE,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE BOARD'S REPORT ON THE LAND REVENUE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LOWER PROVINCES FOR THE YEAR 1876-77.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 27th November 1877.

READ—

The Board's Report on the Land Revenue Administration of the Lower Provinces for the year 1876-77.

THE report submitted by the Board is a careful and comprehensive record of the working of this department of the administration, and the results are in general satisfactory. The prosperity of the year was marred by one great calamity, the cyclone which ravaged the south-eastern districts of Bengal on the 31st October 1876. This necessitated suspensions of land revenue to a considerable amount, and also put a stop for the time to settlement operations in the localities affected. In other respects the year has been marked by no very striking incidents. An important measure for the registration of the names and interests of landed proprietors became law during the year; but the results of it were hardly felt within the period embraced by the present report. Except in the districts devastated by the storm-wave, a good harvest was realized, and the cultivators reaped a large profit from the high price of cereals which prevailed during the latter months of the year.

2. The total number of estates on the revenue-roll during 1876-77, as compared with the preceding year, is shown in the following table:—

Class of estates.	1875-76.	1876-77.
Permanently-settled estates	140,704	132,570
Temporarily ditto	8,286	7,500
Government estates	2,514	2,432
Ryotwaree tracts	44	27
Total ...	151,552	142,529

The large decrease under class I arises from the transfer of about 10,000 holdings in Calcutta, which were previously shown as separate estates under permanent settlement, to class III, as a single Government estate. The decrease under class II is in the Rajshahye Division, and is due to the revised classification of a number of holdings in Darjeeling, which are now treated as subordinate tenures instead of distinct estates. The decrease in class IV is the result of the transfer of 21 estates in Noakholly, held for the most part under farming settlements, to class III of the table.

3. The current land revenue demand for the year, including malikana, revenue of police lands, and quit-rents of tributary mehals, amounted to Rs. 3,67,27,341, against a demand of Rs. 3,45,55,029 in 1875-76. This increase, however, was almost entirely nominal, being due to the inclusion in the demand of 1876-77 of sums excluded last year on account of their not being realizable by law within the year. Irrespective of this nominal increase, the actual increase amounted to Rs. 1,15,070, arising from re-settlements, escheats, and resumptions. The arrear demand was Rs. 17,87,823, or considerably less than half of that of last year, which was Rs. 40,52,840. The total demand of the year thus amounted to Rs. 3,85,15,164.

4. The collections of the current demand were Rs. 3,51,21,042, or 95·35 per cent., and the arrear collections amounted to Rs. 13,98,711, or 78·23 per cent. of the demand. Taking current and arrear collections together, they amounted to Rs. 3,65,19,753, or 94·81 per cent. of the total demand. The current collections were thus larger than those of the preceding year, but, owing to the larger demand, the percentage shows a decrease. In the arrear collections there is a falling off, both in the amount realized and in the percentage. In 1875-76 the total collections were 95·58 of the demand, and in 1874-75 they were 92·36 per cent.

5. The remissions granted during the year amounted to Rs. 76,117, four-fifths of the whole sum being remissions of revenue in estates belonging to Government. The classification of these remissions gives the following results:—

	Rs.
Nominal remissions	48,818
Remissions of right	18,236
Remissions of grace	9,063

Remissions of the first two classes were allowed on account of diluvion of lands and re-settlements at reduced rates. Remissions of grace were largest in the district of Pooree, where they were granted on account of the loss of crops by inundation.

6. The unrealized balances of the year amounted to Rs. 19,19,294, being 4·98 per cent. of the total demand, and exceeding the balances of the preceding year by Rs. 3,54,049. A considerable portion of this balance has since been realized, and only about Rs. 80,000 are likely to prove eventually irrecoverable. The percentage of balances on demand under each class of estates is shown in the margin, and explanatory details of the balances in each district are given in the Board's report. Briefly, it may be said that almost all the balances under class I are either on estates under the charge of the Court of Wards, or on estates which have been advertised for sale for arrears; while most of the arrears under class II either accrued from suspensions granted on account of the cyclone, or were due from estates of which the settlements are not yet finally completed.

Class I	2 80
Class II	9 73
Class III	28 71
Class IV	17 12

7. The estates in class III are partly farmed and partly held under direct management, while those in class IV are all under direct management. In the Resolution on last year's report an opinion was expressed that the realizations of revenue in Government estates might reasonably be expected to amount to 90 per cent. of the demand. It appears, however, that this standard was reached in only nine districts, the best results being attained in the Orissa Division. In nine districts the collections fell below 50 per cent., and in two of these (Noakholly and Mozufferpore) they amounted only to 21 and 20 per cent. respectively of the demand.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor is unable to accept the explanations given in the report as affording any sufficient excuse for this unsatisfactory result. It is a general plea of district officers that the realization of arrears by the certificate procedure under Act VII (B C) of 1868 is a cumbrous and dilatory process, and that successful khas management depends upon the exertions of subordinate agents, who are not always competent or energetic. But Mr. Eden is compelled to remark that the certificate process is at all events a more speedy and effective procedure than any which the law has put into the hands of ordinary proprietors, and that the punctual collection of rents under a system of direct management is one of the surest tests of that administrative ability which may be fairly looked for in a district officer. In all Government estates, whether farmed or held khas, the rents are fixed at moderate amounts, and the ryots are protected from all exactions in excess of the fixed assessment; and under these conditions the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that better results ought to be achieved than were attained in the great majority of districts during the year under review. The successful management in some few districts, in Cuttack and Balasore, in Julpigoree and Darjeeling, shows that the Government is not unreasonable in demanding a much higher general standard. If the Collector of Gya can realize 93·4 per cent. of the demand on Government estates in his district, there is no tangible reason why the percentage in Monghyr should be only 30·2. The contrast between Bogra, with 87·2 per cent. of collections, and the adjacent district of Pubna, with only 88·6 per cent., is not sufficiently explained by the statement quoted in the report that the balance in Pubna "could not be realized for unavoidable reasons." The instance of the Tooshkhalli estate in Backergunge appears to show that the alleged difficulties of direct management can be overcome by firm and judicious administration. This estate has recently been taken under direct charge; it has just been re-settled at an enhanced rental, and the ryots are well known as an excitable and somewhat turbulent body of men. Nevertheless the entire demand of the estate was realized—a result which reflects much credit on the officer in charge of the collections.

9. Including ryotwaree tracts, and estates belonging to private persons, there were altogether 8,241 estates under the direct management of the officers of Government during the year. The charges of management were moderate, amounting only to 6·3 per cent. on the collections. Of the estates not belonging to Government, the most important was the large estate of Majnamoota in Midnapore, which was taken in charge in consequence of the default of the proprietors to pay the land revenue. A special report on the management of this estate has lately been submitted by the Board, and separate orders have been recorded upon it. The management has presented unusual difficulties; but fair progress has been made with the collection of the arrears which were due when the property was taken in charge, and the apparent deficiency in the amount of current collections is explained by the fact that about one-fourth of the nominal demand is not actually due within the official year, the accounts of the estate being made up according to the Umlee year.

10. The sales of Government estates during the year consisted only of some petty holdings in Calcutta, and of a few plots of railway lands which were no longer required. Detailed proposals, however, were made in the course of the year to the Government of India for the sale of a considerable number of estates, which, from their position or their size, do not admit of being profitably retained under Government management. Since the close of the year sanction to the sale of these estates has been received.

11. The total number of settlements effected during the year was 845, of which 67 were original settlements, 340 were re-settlements, and 438 were summary settlements. The net increase of Government revenue amounted to Rs. 68,321. The most important settlement work was in the districts of Chittagong, Pooree, Midnapore, and Backergunge. In Chittagong 46 original settlements were concluded, and fair progress was made with the re-settlement of the noabad talooks. In Pooree the work consisted of the re-settlement of the important estate of Khoordah. It will take two seasons more to complete this settlement, but a large increase in the present Government revenue may be expected. In Midnapore the Settlement Officer has been employed in the assessment of the two large estates of Jellamoota and Majnamoota, which are temporarily-settled estates not the property of Government. These two settlements have been completed since the close of the year, but the ryots have not accepted the enhanced rates, and the final confirmation of the settlements is still under consideration. In Backergunge a re-settlement of the valuable estate of Tooshkali at a largely enhanced rental was successfully carried out by the Soonderbuns Commissioner, Mr. Gomess. In Lohardugga the settlement of the large confiscated estate of Burkagurh was taken in hand, but the progress made was slow, and the survey of the estate has since been transferred to a professional party.

12. On the whole, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that the settlement operations of the year have been fairly successful, and have resulted in a substantial increase of revenue without pressing inequitably upon any class of cultivators or proprietors. In Chittagong it appears that much of the land now brought under settlement had previously escaped assessment altogether. The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees with the Board in thinking that settlers, who may have laid out money upon these lands without possessing any valid title to them, should be dealt with in a liberal and conciliatory spirit. The unsatisfactory state of the law, as recently interpreted by the courts, regarding the power of a settlement officer to determine rates of rent, is noticed in the report, and has been the subject of separate correspondence. In the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion, the powers of a settlement officer to enhance rents should be just the same as the powers conferred on a proprietor under the ordinary rent law. In other words, he should not enhance except upon grounds upon which the law would allow a landlord to enhance. But rates of rent which have been fixed by a settlement officer on these principles, and approved by the superior revenue authorities, should be presumed by the civil court to be correct, until the contrary is shown in a regular suit. The Government of India have lately sanctioned the introduction of a legislative measure embodying these principles.

13. The paragraphs of the report which refer to the subjects of irrigation, drainage, and embankments will be considered by the Lieutenant-Governor in the Irrigation Branch of the Public Works Department.

14. The subordinate establishments of Sub-Deputy Collectors and Canoongoes are reported to have worked well during the year, and they were found especially useful in assisting the operations connected with the introduction of the new Land Registration Act. This measure became law in August 1876, and all proprietors were required to register their names and interests within six months from the 1st November following. The number of mutation cases was consequently much larger than usual, 5,044 cases having been decided under the old Regulation VIII of 1800, and 7,618 cases under the new Act. The effects of this measure have as yet been only very partially realized; but it is confidently hoped that the maintenance of a complete and authoritative register of all lands, with the names and shares of the actual possessors, will be a great convenience both to the Government, to the landed proprietors, and to all classes of subordinates holders and ryots.

15. The statements of proceedings under the sale laws show that, of 4,825 estates and shares which became liable to sale under Act XI of 1859, only 496, or little more than one-tenth of the whole, were actually sold, the remainder having been exempted from sale on payment of the arrears due. The only district in which sales were numerous was Chittagong, in which 1,225 estates became liable to sale, and 286 were sold. This is attributed in the report to the difficulties and losses caused both to proprietors and tenants by the cyclone. But the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the number of estates sold for arrears of revenue in Chittagong amounted to 259 in 1875-76, to 277 in 1874-75, and to 318 in 1873-74; and while he fully recognizes the difficulty of making punctual collections from a large number of petty estates, he cannot but think it unfortunate that the sales for arrears in a single district should year after year be as numerous as those in all other districts together, and he would ask the Board to consider whether some remedy cannot be applied. The interests of the revenue require that the sale law should be stringent and comprehensive, but a Collector should use a discretion in refraining from putting this machinery in motion for the recovery of arrears amounting to perhaps a few annas.

16. The sales in other districts call for no special remark, and the law appears to have been administered with leniency and consideration. The revenue demand of the estates sold was Rs. 70,548, and the purchase-money realized was Rs. 6,81,216, or an average of a little more than nine times the Government revenue. The number of estates purchased on behalf of Government was 59, with a revenue demand of Rs. 1,348. Appeals against sales were preferred in 19 cases, and in seven of these the sales were annulled. In 11 other cases the Board recommended the annulment of sales under section 26, Act XI of 1859, on the ground of hardship to the proprietors.

17. The total number of partition cases disposed of during the year was 638, against 366 in the previous year; while there was also a decrease in the number of cases instituted, so that the files of pending cases have been considerably reduced, though they still represent about two years' work. The great majority of the partition cases occurred in Behar, and five-sixths of the whole number disposed of belonged to the Patna Division. The new Partition Act (VIII B.C. of 1876) did not become law till September 1876, and its working has not yet been tested by experience. It is stated that at present it has had the effect of diminishing the number of cases instituted, as applicants for partition are now required to be recorded proprietors. But this result will, of course, be only temporary.

18. There is no doubt that in Behar generally, and especially in the districts of Mozufferpore and Durbhunga, the sub-division of property by means of the partition law is proceeding at a very rapid rate. The number of estates on the revenue roll in these two districts has trebled within the last 25 years, and in Mozufferpore alone no less than 1,531 additional estates have been formed by butwara during the last two years. In the opinion of the Collector this minute sub-division of property arises in a great measure out of disputes between shareholders connected with the practice of leasing indigo lands under the ticcadaree system; but whether this opinion is correct or not, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Board in thinking that the matter is one in which it is not desirable that the Government should attempt to control the wishes and tendencies of the people. It may be added that the difference in this respect between Behar and other parts of the Lower Provinces is perhaps more apparent than real. In the Burdwan Division there was not a single partition case during the year; but it cannot on that account be supposed that no sub-division of landed property occurred. A system of subinfeudation, no less than a system of partition, has the effect of breaking up estates, and the social and economic results of the one system do not greatly differ from those of the other. It is true that the effects of the partition system are more prominently brought to the notice of a Collector, because the revenue of each of the partitioned estates has to be separately apportioned and realized, and difficulties might arise if this were carried to an extreme. But the law has provided against this by declaring that no separate estate shall be formed with a Government demand of less than one rupee, unless the land revenue is redeemed.

19. The redemptions of land revenue extended to 74 petty estates and holdings in Calcutta, the Suburbs, and Chittagong. The total amount of revenue redeemed was Rs. 137, and redemption was permitted at an uniform rate of 25 years' purchase. The number of redemptions exceeds that of the three previous years; but the average revenue of each holding has diminished. In two cases Government lands were alienated for public purposes without payment, one of these plots being for the site of a Magdalen Home in Calcutta, and the other for a Mahomedan cemetery in the district of Moorshedabad.

20. The total area of lands acquired for public purposes during the year was 6,255 acres, for which compensation was paid to the amount of Rs. 15,18,747, besides abatements of revenue amounting to Rs. 133. Some of the lands required for relief roads and tanks were given free of cost by the owners. The compensation paid for 14 acres 13 poles of land required by the Port Trust for roads, wharves, and tramways amounted to more than two-thirds of the whole sum expended, and the high value of land in Calcutta is strikingly illustrated by the fact that these lands cost on an average more than Rs. 70,000 an acre. About three lakhs of rupees were paid for lands taken up by the Irrigation Department, principally in the district of Midnapore.

21. There were no sales of waste lands during the year, but there was an increased demand in the Dooars for leases both of tea lands and of lands intended to be brought under ordinary cultivation.

22. An increase or decrease in the number of notices of enhancement of rent or relinquishment of lands issued during the year is considered to afford some test of the relations which exist between zemindars and their ryots. In 1876-77, as compared with the previous year, the notices of enhancement decreased from 8,710 to 8,216, while relinquishment notices increased from 8,073 to 9,051. But it is evident that these figures supply no real gauge of the general condition of the question. The total number of notices is so small that the action of a single zemindar may materially affect the result; and it must also be remembered that the diminished number of notices may be a sign, not that the disputes between the parties have been arranged, but merely that the disputants are unwilling to submit their differences to the decision of the law. This would appear to be the case in the Dacca Division. In Behar, where the power of the landlords has practically been almost unlimited, it is reported that the ryots are showing a readiness to assert their rights and to resist illegal claims. It may be hoped that the recent orders for the reorganization of the putwari system in Behar will have a beneficial effect by the establishment of a trustworthy record of village accounts. Detailed rules on the subject have been lately framed by the Board, and are now under the consideration of Government.

23. On the whole, the result of the information which the Lieutenant-Governor has acquired in his visits to various parts of the Lower Provinces is that there has been little open display of animosity during the year between landlord and tenants, and it has not been necessary in any case to have recourse to the special procedure of the Agrarian Disputes Act. In some districts certainly there is every indication that the landlords and tenants who have been disputing for years are now coming to terms and making mutual concessions. The causes of dispute, however, have not been removed, and the real grievance is that the state of the law is such as practically to involve a denial of justice to either party who may attempt to put the law in motion. The zemindar who applies to the courts to obtain an enhancement of rents, or the recovery of arrears due to him—the ryot who complains of excessive demands, or of illegal distraint—finds himself hampered and eventually baffled by the technical and dilatory procedure which regulates the disposal of these classes of suits. So long as this is the case, it is to be apprehended that the differences will smoulder without being extinguished; that both parties will ordinarily remain quiescent, but that the latent animosity will from time to time break out in acts of violence and outrage. Such, in fact, has been the experience of the past year, two aggravated cases of the murder of zemindars by ryots having occurred—one in Furreedpore and the other in Midnapore. This evil can only be effectually remedied by an amendment of the law; and with this object the Lieutenant-Governor is desirous of introducing a measure to facilitate the realization of rents by a more speedy and summary procedure than now exists.

24. In the districts in which rent suits are still heard by Collectors (comprising the Orissa and Chota Nagpore Divisions and the districts of Darjeeling and Julpigoree) there was a small increase in the number of cases instituted. A special rent law for the Chota Nagpore Division will shortly be laid before the legislature.

25. The duty of inspecting Collectors' Offices is reported to have been regularly performed during the year, except in the districts of Chittagong and Purneah. But the Lieutenant-Governor observes that some explanation appears to be required of the very large increase in the number of pending cases on the files of the Collectors, as shown in Table No. XIX appended to the report. The cases remaining over from the previous year were 32,070—a number rather above the average of former years. The cases instituted during the year were greatly in excess of the average, and there was only a small increase in the number of cases disposed of, the result being that no less than 111,144 cases remained pending at the close of the year. It would seem that these heavy arrears, which occur in every division except Chota Nagpore, should have attracted the attention of Commissioners during their tours of inspection. In the Commissioners' offices the disposal of work was satisfactory, and the number of pending cases is comparatively small.

26. The transactions in sub-divisional treasuries showed a decrease both in receipts and disbursements as compared with the previous year, the figures being as follow:—

	1875-76.	1876-77.
	Rs.	Rs.
Receipts	1,51,27,827	1,30,89,157
Payments	1,17,94,137	1,16,18,939

As an addition was made to the number of sub-divisional treasuries during the year, and the working of the system is reported to have been satisfactory, it is not clear to what cause this falling off in the transactions is to be attributed, and no explanation on the subject is offered in the report. The decrease shown last year, as compared with the returns of 1874-75, was attributable to a normal reaction following the extraordinary receipts and disbursements during the period of scarcity; but this explanation does not account for the continued falling off during the year under review, the transactions of the year having been considerably below those of 1872-73. The Lieutenant-Governor would ask the Board to institute an inquiry into the matter.

27. The state of the records appears to require attention, as there are already several complaints of want of room, and additional accommodation will be required for the putwari papers which are now being filed in Orissa and Behar. The subject should have the careful consideration of the Board.

28. The Lieutenant-Governor observes with satisfaction the large number of officers noticed in the report as having deserved commendation for the efficient discharge of their duties.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. REYNOLDS,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA FOR 1876-77.

MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 23rd November 1877.

READ—

Letter No. 61MM, dated the 26th August last, from the Commissioner of the Presidency Division, submitting the Administration Report of the Municipality of the Suburbs of Calcutta for 1876-77.

Read also—

The Administration Report of the Municipality of the Suburbs of Calcutta for 1875-76, and the orders passed thereon.

THE gross income of the municipality during the year was Rs. 4,28,054, or Rs. 4,546 less than the estimate, and Rs. 6,342 less than the total receipts of the previous year. The collections of the house-rate were satisfactory, and the unrealized balance on account of the year was only Rs. 1,655 out of a total demand of Rs. 2,43,000. The assessment operations of the year resulted in an increase of Rs. 2,802 a quarter, which more than compensates for the loss of revenue from desertions and deteriorations in value during the previous year. The average rate levied in the area taken up by the assessor was Rs. 24 on each bricked house, Rs. 2-5 on each thatched house, and Rs 4 on each garden. It is explained that many of the thatched houses in the area in question are used as store-houses and for other trading purposes. The fines realized by the establishment of the Magistrate of the district should be regularly paid in to the credit of the municipality. The collections on account of house-scavengering fell short of the estimate by Rs. 13,413. The difficulties in the way of extending the system under the present law thus appear to have been underrated. The advance account showed a balance outstanding of Rs. 597 only at the close of the year. The expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 4,32,054, against an estimate of Rs. 4,82,600. A saving is shown under nearly every head. The sum of Rs. 10,443 entered as savings on account of police was disbursed after the close of the year. The Commissioner has rightly called upon the Chairman to report under what system contracts are given and stores purchased. Tenders should invariably be invited, and the grant of contracts should be made only with the approval of the Commissioners.

2. The question of the improvement of the water-supply in the suburbs has been carefully considered by the Commissioners during the year. Various projects for the construction of new, or the improvement of existing, tanks were discussed at different times, though, owing to the financial considerations involved, no particular plan was definitely adopted. While the question was in this stage, a communication was received from the Chairman of the Municipal Commissioners for Calcutta, inquiring if the Commissioners for the suburbs would desire to have the Calcutta water system extended to any part of the suburbs. This proposal has been favourably received, and the Commissioners are in correspondence with Mr. Metcalfe with the view of settling the preliminaries of the scheme. Mr. Eden will be glad to render the Commissioners every assistance should they desire to raise the necessary funds by municipal taxation. The assessment on house property in the suburbs, as the Commissioner remarks, amounts only to 7½ per cent., against an assessment of more than 15 per cent. in Calcutta.

3. The Commissioners have directed their attention to the improvement of the clusters of huts known as bustees, selecting for the first experiment the Gossain bustee immediately to the south of the Cathedral. The condition of this block, as described in the report of Drs. Chandra and French, is such as to call urgently for the interference of the Commissioners. Definite recommendations for its improvement have been made, and the owners have been called upon to give effect to them within a specified period. There are many difficulties in the way of a complete measure of reform in respect of these bustees, but the Lieutenant-Governor trusts that, with the exercise of conciliation and public spirit on both sides, the Commissioners and the proprietors will arrive at a satisfactory conclusion on a subject which is intimately connected with the general health of the suburbs. It appears from a separate report which has been received on this subject that five bustees have during the past two years been taken up for public purposes and cleared. Where this is possible, it appears to be by far the most satisfactory solution of the difficulty; and if the lands when cleared and improved are let on building leases for the erection of houses on plans approved by the Commissioner, it should be possible to carry out a steady improvement in the suburbs at a very small cost.

4. The most important point connected with the conservancy operations of the year was the gradual extension of the system of house-scavengering. The Commissioners have under the law no power of enforcing payment for work done by the municipal mehters. Fees are demanded in advance, and if they are not paid, the municipality refuse to send their mehters. Then if, as usually happens, private scavengering is omitted, the Commissioners threaten a prosecution for the privies being kept in a filthy state. In the face of these difficulties, Mr. Eden considers it very creditable that so many as 15,100 out of 40,000 houses have been brought under the system. It has been separately reported that of the remainder many are situated in thinly-peopled rural quarters to which the system is inapplicable. It appears, however, that these operations should be assisted by the direct action of the law, and the point will be borne in mind when the Act comes to be revised. There appears to be some difficulty regarding the disposal of the night-soil, and Mr. Mangles' suggestion that it should be utilized on sewage, farms, or gardens, to be taken up by the municipality, is worthy of attention. This course has been followed with advantage by more than one municipality in the Upper Provinces.

5. The registration of births was not conducted with success, the result being an average birth-rate of 15·27 only per mille. The average mortality among the different races was 51·46 per mille, or 50·12 for males and 53·36 for females. The death-rate ranged from 68·47 among Christians and 55·16 among Hindoos to 45·36 among Mahomedans and 17·54 among other races. In Calcutta the mortality among the different classes of natives is 31·3 for Hindoos and 28 for Mahomedans. These figures are quite in keeping with the respective characters of the native populations, that of Calcutta being generally migratory, while that of the suburbs is comparatively fixed. The various points in connection with the health of the suburbs have been dealt with in the Sanitary Commissioner's report.

6. Of the non-official Commissioners, Rai Jadub Chunder Ghose, Bahadoor, Syud Gholam Ali, Baboos Jagudanund Mookerjee and Umbica Churn Roy, and Mr. James Blackburn were most regular in their attendance at the deliberations of the Municipality.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

HORACE A. COCKERELL,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 24th November 1877.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Nov. 24 '77	Nil	No rain. Reaping of aman and sowing of rubbee are going on. No change in the prospects on the whole since last report.
Burdwan Div. 2	Bankoora, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—clear and cool. Aman is fast ripening. No change in the prospects of the winter crop.
Burdwan Div. 3	Beerbhoom, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—rather warm for this time of the year. No change to report in the state and prospects of the crops.
Burdwan Div. 4	Midnapore, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—rather warm, otherwise seasonable. State and prospects of the crops are fair.
Burdwan Div. 5	Hooghly, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable Harvesting of late rice has commenced. Sugarcane is being cut. Rubbee sowings are going on. Vegetables are doing well. Fever is very prevalent.
	Howrah, „ 26 „	Nil	Weather—too hot to be seasonable Rice harvest is commencing on the high lands. Taking high lands and low lands together the crop is quite up to the average in the south of the district. The northern part of the Sudder sub-division is worst off, but even there the low land crop is good.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Divn 6	24-Pergunnahs, Nov 24 '77	Nil	Weather—rather warm for the time of year. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory. The winter harvest has begun. Fever is prevalent in Busseerhat sub-division, and sporadic cases of cholera are reported from all parts of the district.
Presidency Divn 7	Nuddea, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—warm in the day, but heavy dews at night. No rain The aman crop is said to be satisfactory in all the sub-divisions except Kooshtea, where the outturn is poor. The winter crops promise well Fever is bad in Kooshtea and Bongong, and cholera is prevalent in many parts of the district.
Presidency Divn 8	Jessore, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Crops on the whole promise well. The outturn on the high lands will probably be rather short owing to insufficient rain. Fever is very prevalent throughout the district. Cholera is increasing.
Presidency Divn 9	Moorshedabad, „ 24 „	Nil	Temperature unseasonably warm. Prospects of crops continue to be as good as reported last week. Harvesting of aman is in fair progress. Prices of rice are almost steady. Cholera and fever are still prevalent in Berhampores Jungypore and Lalbagh sub-divisions. In Rampore Hât public health is goods
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn. 10	Dinagepore, „ 23 „	Nil	Rather unseasonably warm, as if bad weather was coming. State and prospect of the crops are very good. Reaping of rice crop has commenced. Ten death from cholera reported, principally in the south, during the week.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn. 11	Rajshahye, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—clear Days rather hot, but nights cold with heavy dew. In places where the winter rice crop has ripened it is being cut Rubbee crops are flourishing, but a little rain would improve them. There have been several cases of cholera in different parts of the district, and fever is still prevalent.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn. 12	Rungpore, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—dry, with a westerly wind in the afternoons. State and prospects of all kinds of crops continue to be most satisfactory. Mustard is being sown, and nearly all the tobacco has now been transplanted. Fever of the intermittent type is more prevalent than during last week. Cholera has broken out in Gobindgunge, but is diminishing in Bhowanigunge.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn. 13	Bogra, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—dry and clear, and warm for the time of year. Reaping of aman has begun, and there is every probability of a bumper harvest. Minor crops are looking well Cholera is on the increase, chiefly in the western part of the district; 859 deaths have occurred since the outbreak of this disease Fever too is prevalent.

	BENGAL.—(Continued)
	Central Districts.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 14	Pubna, Nov. 24 '77	Nil	Weather—fine, cool, and seasonable. Reaping of aman has commenced, and consequently no more rain is now required. State and prospects of winter crops appear to be good. Fever is still prevalent in the town, and cholera has appeared in many places in the mofussil.
15	Darjeeling, „ 23 „	Nil	Alternate sunshine and hazy weather, with signs of rain Heavy dew at night. The early kaimunti rice is being reaped in some places. All the crops promise a very fair outturn.
16	Julpigoree, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—somewhat too hot to be seasonable. Prospects of the winter rice are good. Transplantation of tobacco in some places is nearly complete, and in others has just commenced. Mustard and potato sowings are over. Land is being prepared for barley and wheat. Sugarcane promises well. Public health is not yet good. Fever is still prevalent in the town of Julpigoree.
	Cooch Behar, „ 22 „	Nil	Weather—fair and moderately cool. Prospects of the crops are not bad. Aman rice is in ear and promises an average outturn. Fever is prevalent in the Sudder and Mekligunge sub-divisions, but the health of the district is generally good.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Div. 17	Dacca, Nov. 24 '77	Nil	Weather—very warm for the season, but not unfavourable for crops. State and prospects of the crops are favourable. Cholera and fever are bad in Manickgunge sub-division and cholera in part of Sudder.
18	Furreedpore, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—clear, and cooler than during the previous week. Prospects of the crops continue the same as before The early kinds of aman are being cut. Moderate rain is required for the preparation of lands for the spring crops Fever is prevalent, especially at head-quarters and Goalundo. There have been numerous cases of cholera at Furreedpore, but not in an epidemic form; it seems to be now disappearing
19	Backergunge, „ 22 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable In consequence of continued drought the crops on the high lands have to a certain extent been injured, but the general outturn is expected to be fair. The new rice is coming into market in small quantities. Cholera and fever have made their appearance in the police-stations of Nulchitti, Backergunge, Gournadi, Mendigunge, Shoroopkati, and Motbaria, and a few deaths are reported therefrom.
20	Mymensingh, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—settled, but warm for the time of year. Prospects of the crops are excellent, but prices continue extraordinarily high.
21	Tipperah, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—fine, but rather warm for the time of year. Prospects of all crops are good.
Chittagong Div. 22	Chittagong, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—fine and seasonable State and prospects of the crops are very good.
23	Noakholly, „ 22 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the season. Reaping of early aman has begun on the churs and high lands. Prospects are fair. Much land was left uncultivated in Hatia. Public health is not so good as when last reported Fever and cholera cases occur.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 20 „	Nil	Weather—cool and foggy in the morning up to 8 A.M. The plough cultivators' paddy crop is now being harvested; a very poor outturn is anticipated in places where the crop was damaged by the floods in September last Mustard is being sown here and there. The gathering of cotton still continues. The ex-officio Assistant Commissioner of Cox's Bazar reports that "crops are healthy and promise a good outturn."
	Hill Tipperah, „ 21 „	Nil	Weather—still warm in the daytime. The cutting of aman crops continues; the outturn promises to be excellent.
	BEHAR.
Patna Division. 25	Patna, Nov. 24 '77	Nil	Weather—unusually hot for the time of year. State and prospects of the crops are good, but if this abnormal heat continues, rain will be wanted for the rubbee.
26	Gya, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—warm in the middle of the day and sky occasionally clouded over. Maximum thermometer in the shade 89·6°. Prospects of the crops are unchanged. Some rain is hoped for and would do much good.
27	Shahabad, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and hot. In Buxar rubbee crops have been sown and have germinated. In Bhubbooah rice is being harvested; other aghani crops are in bad condition for want of rain; rubbee sowings are about to close, and the young plants are drying in many places for want of rain. No report received from Sasseram In the head-quarters subdivision rubbee crops are still being sown, and in places where germinated are doing well from being irrigated from canal water. Health of the district is good.
28	Durbhunga, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—unusually warm for this time of the year. The rubbee has germinated well. The low lying dhan lands promise well, but the high land dhan has suffered, and the outturn will not, it is feared, be satisfactory.

	No.	District, and date of return	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
BEHAR —(Continued)
Patna Division.	29	Mozufferpore, Nov. 24 '77	Nil	Weather—warm and unseasonable. There is no change to report in the prospects of the crops.
	30	Sarun, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—bright and clear. East and west wind. No change in the prospects of the crops since last report Rabee and cotton are good; sugarcane is being cut and put into the mills Paddy that has been saved is fast ripening in some places; it is being cut Rubbee has germinated well; rain is much wanted to accelerate a healthy growth. Poppy is being put in the ground. Indigo fields are being prepared for the next year's crop
	31	Chumparun „ „	.....	Return not received.
Bhagulpore Div.	32	Monghyr, Nov. 24 „	Nil	Weather—still very hot. Prospects of the crops are unchanged.
	33	Bhagulpore, „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and hot. State and prospects of the crops are the same as last week. Cholera and fever are very prevalent.
	34	Purneah, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—fine Nights getting cold. Prospects of crops continue fair Aghani dhan is being cut. Fever is very general, and cholera is reported from two or three places.
	35	Maldah, „ 21 „	Nil	Weather—fair and rather warm Harvest of aman (coarse kind) has commenced; in some parts a bumper crop is reported, but generally a good average of 12 or 13 annas. The Aamunee is nearly ripe and promises well Fever is still very prevalent, and sporadic cases of cholera have been reported during the week
	36	Sonthal Pergns., „ 25 „	Nil	Weather—warm and occasionally cloudy. Dhan continues good; rain is wanted for the rubbee.
ORISSA.
Orissa Div.	37	Cuttack, Nov. 24 '77	Nil	Weather—fine and hot. The crops are doing well No change from last week.
	38	Pooree, „ 22 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. In Khoordah it is reported warad crops are being irrigated in several places. In other parts of the district, where irrigation is not possible, the crops on the high lands are suffering. Laghu crop which survived the drought is being harvested Sarad rice in some places is coming to ear and in others is in ear. Rubbee, sugarcane, and other miscellaneous crops are thriving. The state of the crops in the tracts situated between the Chilka and the sea is worse than in any other part of the district. Relief is being given to the people of those parts from funds contributed by private individuals. Cholera has made its appearance in the city
	39	Balasore, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—cold No rain in any part of the district, so that the cold weather crops will be retarded. The dhan crop is doing fairly well, and there is no special change to report since last week. A good deal of sickness prevails in the north of the district
CHOTA NAGPORE.
		South-West Frontier Agency
	40	Hazareebagh, Nov 23 '77	Nil	No change to report in the state and prospects of the crops.
	41	Lohardugga, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable and cold. The harvest operations are actively proceeding, and the outturn so far over most part of the district is good. Rubbee crops promise well at present.
	42	Singbhoom, „ 23 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Nothing to report about the rice crop. The cold-weather crops are doing well. The district is reported healthy
	43	Manbhoom, „ 24 „	Nil	Weather—pleasant No signs of rain. State and prospects of the crops are much the same as reported last week. Rain is much needed for the rubbee crops

The total fall from 1st January to 24th November	61·11
The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years	65·51

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the East Indian Railway for the Month of October 1877.

EAST INDIAN RAILWAY TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPORE, THE 17TH NOVEMBER 1877.

Remarks on Traffic of East Indian Railway for four weeks ending 27th October 1877.

THE approximate figures for the period are as follow —

	Coaching		Goods		Total
	Nos.	Rs	Mds	Rs.	Rs
1877	518 906	7,34,872	52,61,919	18,23 467	25,58 339
1876	455,075	6,29,841	37,68,630	17,90,646	24,26,487
Increase	63,831	93,031	14,93,189	26,811	1,31,842
Decrease .. .

In coaching traffic the principal increase was at Howrah in connection with the Doorga Poojah Holidays, and with a considerable Hajji pilgrimage for Mecca

The principal fluctuations in merchandise traffic are—

Increases

Coal	Grain and pulses	Indigo.	Tea
Fruits.	Gunny.	Jaggree.	Tobacco.
Ghee	Hides	Seeds.

Decreases

Commissariat beer	Iron	Salt	Sugar
Cotton	Foreign railway material	Saltpetre	Timber

Increases

	Mds.	Rs
Coal—Upward ..	1,57,711	49,729
Downward	1,03 346	16,366
Total	2,61,057	66,095

The upward traffic is, it will be seen, more than double that of last year; this increase is mainly in the supply to foreign railways, and the fact that the earnings from this source are nearly equal to those from the ordinary down coal traffic

The recent action of the Government of Bengal in removing from the down coal trade the tax of about 6*d* a ton towards the Hooghly floating bridge, which the coal does not use—a tax against which the coal-owners, the Railway Company, and the Chamber of Commerce have so long strenuously protested—will no doubt strengthen the local coal interest in the competition with imported coal.

The figures under this head are large, and it may be well to show them in tons avoirdupois and in approximate figures—

They then stand thus —

	1877.		1876
Total—	Tons.	Rs.	Tons	Rs.
	83,000	6,15,000	34,500	4 82,000 and in detail—

	1877.		1876
	Tons.	Rs.	Tons	Rs.
Rice	11,500	82,000	6,700	35 000
Wheat	16,500	64,500	23,000	4,16 000
Other cereals	25,000	2,40,000	2,000	12,000
Pulses	35,000	2,25,000	2,500	19,000

The salient features of this table will be seen at a glance, viz a very heavy decrease in wheat traffic, which is more than counterbalanced in point of weight carried and money earned by a large increase under pulses and the commoner cereals which form the staple food of the country.

The main causes of the double change are obvious: the long drought in the North-Western Provinces led to serious fear of scarcity in the very districts which had been so largely exporting food-grains both for transport to Europe and for consumption in Western and Southern India, when the high prices following on utter failure of crops were ruling

A rush of grain traffic to the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, and Rohilkund set in and pressed our resources hard at the very time that more than half our covered wagons were away to the westward of Jubbulpore.

Wheat was fetching a lower price in Calcutta than it was in the wheat-growing districts of the North-West, and the export stopp d, while the cheaper grains flowed back to those districts from which the heavy exports had been made under the influence of what may almost be called a panic.

Hides .. .. Mds. 18,964 Rs. 15,375

There seems to have been a scarcity of hides from Eastern Bengal; possibly the supply was affected by the very severe storm-wave which devastated Backergunge, and North-Western Provinces hides have come forward freely.

Indigo ... ... Mds. 3,070 Rs. 4,702

This is an increase which is not by any means of a satisfactory character.

The whole of it lies with stations in the North-Western Provinces, where want of rain has forced an early manufacture, but caused it to be a very small one. The prospects of Tirhoot, however, are good, and we may expect a good outturn there.

Seeds ... ... Mds. 1,19,530 Rs. 16,036

The great bulk of this increase has been in the seed traffic from Patna to the port

The seed crop has been good in that district and in the districts which feed the railway through Patna, and during the latter part of October the slackening of the demand for carriage of grain to Southern India has given this staple fuller play.

Tea .. .. Mds. 6,285 Rs. 4,068

Most of this increase is with the Darjeeling tea. Prices are high in Calcutta (some choice lots having reached Rs. 1-9 per lb at auction), and stock is being pushed forward as early as possible.

Tobacco ... ... Mds. 12,263 Rs. 4,598

The export of tobacco from Calcutta has been considerable, and with good crops in Behar and a considerable demand in the North-Western Provinces, markets (partly owing, no doubt, to the drought in Rohilkund) there has been a satisfactory advance all through this season.

DECREASES.

Cotton ... ... Mds. 18,379 Rs. 24,988

But little can be said on this subject at present; the new crop has hardly come into the market as yet.

That it is a poor one, I think, with the long drought in the cotton-growing districts, there can be little doubt, but information of any reliable character is difficult to get as yet.

Iron .. ... Mds. 14,142 Rs. 16,753

There was a large despatch in October 1876 for the Government work-shops at Roorkee, and none this year; this was the principal cause.

There was an absence of demand in the Calcutta markets, and some sales were effected at a low price for re-export to Australia.

Foreign railway materials ... Mds. 45,521 Rs. 1,00,091

The despatches last year at this time were mainly rails and other Public Works material for the State railways in Rajpootana and the Punjab and wagon-bodies and frame-work for the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway; little of this material has been required this season in comparison.

Salt ... ... Mds. 1,42,974 Rs. 32,836

There has been a large decrease in the exports from Rajpootana, on which I am not at present prepared to express an opinion.

Saltpetre .. .. Mds. 13,081 Rs. 7,296

This decrease is almost exactly the same as that shown in my September's report, and the two together just balance the increase in August.

Sugar ... ... Mds. 9,016 Rs. 3,148

This is a small decrease comparatively, the traffic being a large one; and the serious failure of the sugar crops in Rohilkund is more than sufficient to account for it, looking at the large exports thence this year.

The train mileage run during the period has been—

The merchandise earnings and weight lifted are more than doubled; wagons coming home from the Great Indian Peninsula line found grain which had originally been booked for Western and Southern India ready to take advantage of the sudden rise in prices in the North-West, and loaded on the return journey instead of returning empty to our main line.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Grain Traffic.

In continuation of my remarks under the head of grain, I may remind you of recent reports, in which I have pointed out that the prospects of next season's wheat traffic depend very largely on the Christmas rains.

Should these come as usual and replenish the wells and tanks in the wheat-growing districts which have been so seriously desiccated, the means of artificial irrigation will be available for the spring crops.

Should the Christmas rains fail, however, there will probably be serious pressure in North-Western Provinces, and little or no export grain available.

I annex the usual statement of traffic to Howrah and viâ Jubbulpore; the latter has fallen off very much with improved prospects in the Madras Presidency and the threatened scarcity in Northern India.

NOTIFICATION.

The 30th November 1877.—The following revised bye-laws, framed by the Municipal Commissioners of Berhampore at a meeting, under Section 313, Act V (B.C.) of 1876, having been confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor under Section 314 thereof, are hereby published for general information, in supersession of those published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd May 1877:—

I.—For Regulating the Disposal of Offensive Matter, Rubbish, and Dead Bodies of Animals.

1. Every person within whose premises any animal may die shall, within four hours after its death, or, if death occurs at night, within two hours after sunrise, either remove at his own expense the carcass to such place as may be set apart by the Commissioners for the reception of the carcasses of animals, or report its death to the conservancy overseer, and in such latter case shall pay to the said overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the Commissioners may determine; and in cases where the said person is not the owner of the animal, and the owner is known, the owner shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners. The overseer, when called upon, shall not neglect to remove a carcass.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

2. No person shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, any carcass, or any part of a carcass, in any place other than such place as may from time to time be appointed by the Commissioners for the reception of carcasses of animals.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

II.—For the Regulation and Management of Privies.

3. Any owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises from which offensive matter is not removed by the said owner or occupier, shall give free access to the servants of the Municipality to his house, land, or premises, for the removal of any night-soil or filth, within such hours as may have been fixed by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

4. All sweepers, other than the sweepers employed by the Municipal Commissioners, who are employed, or desire to be employed, for the removal of offensive matter from any house, or land, or premises shall register their names at the office of the Municipal Commissioners within 15 days after a public notification shall have been made in the manner prescribed by Section 365 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876 requiring such registration.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 2.

5. Every owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises from which offensive matter is removed by the said owner or occupier, shall register in the office of the Municipal Commissioners the names of the sweepers employed by him for the removal of such offensive matter within 15 days of the appointment by him of such sweeper, or in the case of any sweeper who shall be in his employ at the time when this bye-law shall come into force, within 15 days after a public notification shall have been made in the manner prescribed by Section 365 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876 requiring such registration.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 2; or in case of continuing recusancy after imposition of penalty, a daily fine not exceeding Re. 1.

6. Every sweeper employed by the owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises for the removal of offensive matter from such house, land, or premises, shall be subject to the orders and control of the Municipal Commissioners in respect of the removal and disposal of such offensive matter.

Provided that such owner or occupier shall be responsible jointly with the sweepers so employed by him for the due observance of the laws, bye-laws, and orders of the Municipal Commissioners, so far as regards the house, land, or premises owned or occupied by him.

7. Every person shall construct his privy above ground, and shall provide his privy or premises with a suitable moveable receptacle of earthenware.

Penalty for infringement after notice, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

8. Whenever it shall appear to the Municipal Commissioners that a privy is noxious or improperly constructed, it shall be lawful for them to issue a notice on the owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises in or on which such privy may be situated, directing him to fill up, close, or otherwise alter the construction of such privy as may seem to them proper; and if the orders contained in the notice be not carried out within 15 days, the Commissioners may fill up, close, or otherwise alter such privy in the manner directed in the notice, and any expense incurred in so doing shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

9. No owner or occupier of any premises in or on which any privy may be situated shall allow night-soil or filth of any kind to flow or be discharged from such privy into any drain, water-course, river, tank, hollow (or excavation or any place containing waste and stagnant water), or into any other receptacle but one of the nature described in bye-law 7.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

10. No person shall throw, deposit, or discharge any night-soil, sewage, or the contents of any drain, privy, or cesspool into any river, tank, khal, water-course, or receptacle for water, or dispose of the abovementioned kinds of offensive matter in any other way than as the Municipal Commissioners may from time to time direct.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

11. The Municipal Commissioners may direct the use of lime, coal-tar, carbolic acid, or other deodorant or disinfectant in any privy or on any premises if at any time it seem to them necessary for the preservation of public health or for the prevention of infection or spread of disease.

Provided that the Municipal Commissioners shall be bound to supply such deodorants or disinfectants at cost price, and the price shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

Penalty for not using deodorant or disinfectant so supplied, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

12. No person shall carry night-soil through the streets otherwise than in a closely covered receptacle of such description or pattern as shall be required from time to time by the Municipal Commissioners, and between such hours as the Commissioners may from time to time direct.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

III.—For Regulating Traffic in the Streets.

13. Every carriage or cart plying in the streets after one hour after sunset shall carry a light or lights, except when, in the opinion of the Magistrate, there may be sufficient moonlight to render such light or lights unnecessary.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 2.

IV.—General Bye-laws.

14. No person shall put, or cause to be put, on any house or other building any spout, or other thing intended for the conveyance and discharge of water, which shall be so placed that the water discharged therefrom shall be thrown or fall upon any public thoroughfare.

Penalty for infringement after notice, fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

15. It shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to issue a notice to the owner or occupier of any house or building on which there may already be any such spout or other thing intended for the conveyance of water as is described in bye-law 14, directing him to remove or alter such spout or other thing; and if the orders contained in the notice be not carried out within 10 days, the Commissioners may remove or alter such spout or other thing in the manner directed in the notice, and any expense incurred in so doing shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

16. No person shall construct or place over any public drain any bridge, platform, building, or structure of any kind, except by, and with the written permission of, the Municipal Commissioners, and in such manner as they shall direct; and in the case of such bridges, platforms, buildings, and structures now in existence, the Commissioners shall have power to issue a notice to the owner or occupier of any such bridges, platforms, buildings, or structures, directing such alterations as they may think proper.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10; penalty for continued infringement after notice, daily fine which may extend to Rs. 3.

17. If any house, wall, or other erection, or any part thereof, fall upon any public road or thoroughfare, or into any public drain, the owner of such house, wall, or erection, shall remove it after notice within the time prescribed by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement after notice, fine which may extend to Rs. 10; penalty for continued infringement after notice, daily fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

18. If it shall appear to the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting that any hollow or excavation in the lands or premises of any person within the limits of the Municipality is offensive or prejudicial to public health, they shall have power to serve a notice on the owner or occupier of such lands or premises to abate the nuisance, by filling up the hollows or excavation, or take such other course, not inconsistent with the provisions of the municipal laws, as to the Commissioners shall seem fit; and in the event of the occupier or owner of such land or premises refusing or omitting to comply with the requisition of the Commissioners within a reasonable time, to be set forth in the notice, they shall themselves carry out the work.

19. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial ground any corpse, or part of a corpse, in a grave constructed of masonry in such manner that the top of the coffin, or the body where no coffin is used, shall be at a less depth than five feet from the surface ground.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

20. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial ground any corpse, or part of a corpse, in a grave not constructed of masonry which shall be less than six feet deep.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

21. No person shall dig or build, or cause to be dug or built, any grave in any burial ground at a less distance than two feet from any existing grave.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

22. No grave once used shall be opened for the burial of another body without the permission of the Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

23. No one shall carry a corpse, or part of a corpse, through any public road or thoroughfare unless it be decently covered and entirely concealed from public view.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

[Second Publication.]

The 23rd November 1877.—The following Regulations for the Examination of Candidates for the Civil Service of India, to be held in June and July 1878, are published for general information:—

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JULY 1878.

N.B.—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years.

1. On 25th June 1878 and following days an examination of candidates will be held in London. At this examination not fewer than candidates will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified. Of these, will be selected for the Presidency of Bengal [for the Upper Provinces and for the Lower Provinces], for that of Madras, and for that of Bombay.* Notice will hereafter be given of the days and place of examination.

2. Any person desirous of competing at this examination must produce to the Civil Service Commissioners, before the 1st of May 1878, evidence showing—

(a)—That he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty.

(b)—That his age on the 1st of January 1878 will be above seventeen years and under nineteen years. [N.B.—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the candidate may have resided.]

(c)—That he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India.†

(d)—That he is of good moral character.†

He must also pay such fee as the Secretary of State for India may prescribe.‡

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be primâ facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the candidate will, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be admitted to the examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a probationer.

4. The examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge:—

	Marks.
§ English Composition	300
‖ History of England, including a period selected by the candidate ...	300
‖ English Literature, including books selected by the candidate ...	300
Greek	600
Latin	800
French	500
German	500
Italian	400
§ Mathematics (pure and mixed)	1,000
¶ Natural Science: that is, the elements of any two of the following sciences, viz.— Chemistry, 500; Electricity and Magnetism, 300; Experimental Laws of Heat and Light, 300; Mechanical Philosophy, with outlines of Astronomy, 300.
Logic	300
Elements of Political Economy	300
 Sanskrit	500
 Arabic	500

Candidates are at liberty to name, before 1st May 1878, any or all of these branches of knowledge. No subjects are obligatory.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary, in order to secure that "a candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

* The number of appointments to be made, and the numbers in each Presidency, &c., will be announced hereafter: it will probably be about half the usual number.

† Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than the 1st April 1878.

‡ The fee for this examination will be £5, payable by means of a special stamp according to instructions which will be communicated to candidates.

§ Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction.

‖ A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work specially prepared In awarding marks for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the periods or books selected, and partly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied.

¶ The examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

 The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency, such as may be expected to be reached by a Native of good education.

7. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers and by vivâ voce examination, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each candidate in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined will be added up, and the names of the candidates who shall have obtained a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such candidates shall be deemed to be selected candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate. A selected candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for two years, during which time they will be examined periodically, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects:—*

		Marks.
1.	Law ...	1,250
2.	Classical languages of India—
	Sanskrit ...	500
	Arabic ...	400
	Persian ...	400
3.	Vernacular languages of India (each) ...	400
4	The History and Geography of India ..	350
5.	Political Economy	350

In these examinations, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one examination. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers and by vivâ voce examination, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a selected candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India.

10. Any candidate who, at any of the periodical examinations, shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

11. The selected candidates who at the final examination shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that service.

12. Applications from persons desirous to be admitted as candidates are to be addressed to the "Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, S. W.," from whom the proper form for the purpose may be obtained.

September 1877.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements:—

(1.) Selected candidates will be permitted to choose,† according to the order in which they stand in the list resulting from the open competition, as long as a choice remains, the Presidency (and in Bengal the Division of the Presidency) to which they shall be appointed; but this choice will be subject to a different arrangement, should the Secretary of State or Government of India deem it necessary.

(2.) The Probationers, having passed the necessary examinations, will be required to report themselves to their Government in India not later than the close of December 1881.

(3.) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the selected candidates shall be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the final examination.

(4.) An allowance of £150 a year will be given during each of the two years of their probation to all candidates who pass their probation at some University to be approved beforehand by the Secretary of State, provided such candidates shall have passed the required examinations to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected candidates.

(5.) All selected candidates will be required, after having passed the second periodical examination, to attend at the India Office for the purpose of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event of their failing to proceed to India. A surety will be required.

(6.) After passing the final examination, each candidate will be required to attend again at the India Office, with the view of entering into covenants. The stamps payable on these documents amount to £1.

* Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

† This choice must be exercised immediately after the result of the open competition is announced on such day as may be fixed by the Civil Service Commissioners.

To the Secretary,
Civil Service Commission.

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

I.—Every Candidate born in England or Wales should produce a certificate from the Registrar-General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial officers. This certificate may be obtained at Somerset House or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

II.—A candidate who is a native of India must have his age certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

III —Every other candidate not producing the certificate mentioned in Clause 1, must prove his age by statutory declaration, and should also, if possible, produce a record of birth or baptism from some official register; under which term may be included the Parochial Registers of Baptisms, the non-Parochial Registers of Baptisms and Births deposited at Somerset House under Acts of Parliament, the Register kept at the India Office of persons born in India, &c., &c. This Regulation applies—

1. To all candidates not born in England or Wales.
2. To candidates who, though born in England or Wales, cannot produce the Registrar-General's certificate.

The Civil Service Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of deciding in each case upon the sufficiency of the evidence produced, but they subjoin the following general rules for the guidance of candidates:—

(a) The declaration should specify precisely the date and place of birth, and should, if possible, be made by the father or mother of the candidate. If made by any other person, it should state the circumstances which enabled the declarant to speak to the fact. If an entry in a Bible or other family record be referred to, the Bible or other record must be produced at the time of making the declaration, and must be mentioned in the declaration as having been so produced.

(b) If the candidate was born in England or Wales, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due inquiry, no entry has been found in the books of the Registrar-General; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.

(c) If no extract from any register is produced, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due inquiry, no such record is believed to exist; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.

(d) Statutory declarations must be exactly in the form prescribed by the Act of 5 and 6 William IV., c. 62. A printed form, if required, will be supplied on application to the Civil Service Commissioners.

N. B.—Clergymen, as such, are not qualified to take declarations.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 600 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1876-77, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1878, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 54,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for "the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His "Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests "so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, "and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall "have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of "Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government "by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three "hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to "be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the "intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

SPECIAL attention is invited to the recent reduction of the rates of postage chargeable on inland parcels and packets.

	Parcels (closed covers).	Packets (open covers).
	Annas.	Annas.
Not exceeding 10 tolas	.....	1
Not exceeding 40 tolas	8	2
For every additional 40 tolas or fraction thereof	4	2

Attention is also invited to the facility now offered to the sender of a registered letter to have an acknowledgment signed by the addressee sent to him if he prepays at the time of posting an extra postage fee of one anna.

A like facility for obtaining acknowledgments for parcels has now been introduced, but it only applies to parcels for which receipts are given under paragraph 14, page 4 of the Postal Guide of 1st September 1877.

STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT;
The 3rd December 1877.

A. MACKENZIE,
Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different Districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 1st December 1877.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
	BENGAL.
	Western Districts.
Burdwan Div. 1	Burdwan, Dec. 1 '77	Nil	Winter rice crop is being reaped Rubbee sowings are nearly completed. Fever is prevalent
Burdwan Div. 2	Bankoora, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—clear and bright, but warmer than is usual in this season. All the crops, especially the winter rice, which is not yet reaped, look extremely well.
Burdwan Div. 3	Beerbhoom, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—dry and warm for the time of year. The cold-weather crops are doing well. Rain would, however, be of service to them, but it would be very detrimental to the rice now being everywhere reaped.
Burdwan Div. 4	Midnapore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—warm, but cooler since 30th November. State and prospects of the crops are fair. Fever is still very prevalent, though it is apparently a little better
Burdwan Div. 5	Hooghly, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—unusually warm for the season. Harvest of late rice is going on Rubbee seedlings are doing well. Fever is very prevalent. Cholera has appeared in a sporadic form.
Burdwan Div.	Howrah, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—much too hot for the season early in the week, cooler at the end. The harvest is progressing on the high lands. No change in the prospects A great deal of fever about, especially in the north of the district.
	Central Districts.
Presidency Divs. 6	24-Pergunnahs, Dec 1 '77	Nil	Weather—fair, but unseasonably warm State and prospects of the crops are good. Sporadic cases of cholera and fever are numerous.
Presidency Divs. 7	Nuddea, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—still hot The outturn of aman rice in Kooshtea is poor. The cold-weather crops promise well. Cholera is prevalent in many parts of the district.
Presidency Divs. 8	Jessore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—unseasonably warm. Aman is being reaped; the yield in Bagirhat and Jhenidah will not be more than 10 annas. Winter crops are doing well, but some rain is looked for. Fever and cholera are prevalent.
Presidency Divs. 9	Moorshedabad, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—abnormally hot during the early part of the week, but the last two days have been cooler The aman harvest has commenced, with the prospect of an outturn generally above the average The spring crops so far promise well Cholera is prevalent in several thanas of the district and is apparently spreading. There is much fever in Berhampore.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 10	Dinagepore, Nov. 30 „	Nil	Weather—somewhat warm, with wind from the west. Rice crop is very good Reaping of barley has commenced. There have been 13 deaths from cholera against 10 deaths reported last week, principally in the southern thanas. One case at Allowakhowa fair.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 11	Rajshahye, Dec. 1 „	Nil	No rain during the week. Days are warm for this season of the year. Heavy dew at night. A little rain is wanted for rubbee crops. Reaping of rops and boro dhan continues. Fever is still prevalent, and some cases of cholera have been reported during the week
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 12	Rungpore, Nov. 30 „	Nil	The weather has become much cooler. A south-westerly wind blows all day and makes the evening cool. The state and prospects of the crops continue to be satisfactory. The harvest of the aman crop has commenced and a good outturn is expected Fever of the ordinary intermittent type is common Cholera of an epidemic character prevails in three of the four thanas of the Gaibanda sub-division.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 13	Bogra, Dec. 1 „	Nil	Weather—clear and rather warm for the time of year. Prevailing wind is from north to west. The aman crop, which is now being reaped, is a capital one The rubbee crops are looking well. New rice is selling in the interior from 30 to 35 seers for the rupee. Cholera of a bad type is still prevalent, chiefly in the eastern part of the district. There have been 1,043 fatal cases since its appearance in this district.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divs. 14	Pubna, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—clear and seasonable Reaping of aman paddy is nearly completed State and prospects of kaimunti crops are favourable. Fever is still going on as before, and cholera has appeared both in the town and mofussil.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date
	BENGAL.—(Continued.)
	Central Districts.
Rajshahye and Cooch Behar Divn. 15	Darjeeling, Nov. 30 '77	Nil	Frosty mornings, with bright weather during the early part of the day; hazy towards evening, threatening rain. The crops throughout the district are progressing favorably. The early haimunti rice is being reaped in some places.
16	Julpigoree, Dec. 1 „	Nil	Weather—pleasantly cool. Harvesting of haimunti rice is going on throughout the district. Transplantion of tobacco plants is progressing well. Public health is not yet good. Fever is still prevalent in the town of Julpigoree.
	Cooch Behar, Nov. 29 „	Nil	Weather—fair and bright. The cold weather is gradually setting in. The prospects of the crops are good. Amun rice is being reaped, and an average tenanna crop is expected. The cold-weather crops in the ground are getting on well. Transplantation of the tobacco plants has commenced. Fever is still prevalent in some parts of the district, especially in the Mekligunge subdivision. Public health is otherwise good for the season.
	Eastern Districts.
Dacca Divn. 17	Dacca, Dec 1 '77	0·08	Weather—close and hot. The rain was only local. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
18	Furreedpore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—rather hot in the day. Mornings cool. State of the crops is fair. Amun is being reaped.
19	Backergunge, Nov. 29 „	Nil	The reaping of amun has begun. Owing to the drought, the crops to a certain extent have been damaged on high lands in the sub-division of Dukhin Shabazpore. The sky appears now and then cloudy, and great apprehension is felt that grubs would be generated and damage done to the standing crops, but fortunately the clouds disappear. The markets are well supplied, and the price of rice has gone down. Cholera and fever still continue in the police stations of Nalchiti, Backergunge, Gournadi, Mendigunge, Sharupkati, Perozepore, and Matbaria, but very few cases of death are reported from those places.
20	Mymensingh, „ 30 „	0·10	Weather—fine. State and prospects of the crops are excellent.
21	Tipperah, „ 30 „	Nil	Weather—cloudy and sultry; very warm for the time of year. Prospects of all the crops are good.
Chittagong Divn. 22	Chittagong, „ 29 „	Nil	Days are still warm, nights are cool. In the south the early amun has been reaped. Prices there are very low. The crops elsewhere are very good.
23	Noakholly, „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—unusually warm. The early amun crops are being reaped. Prospects are fair. Sporadic cases of cholera occur in Ramgunge and Lukhipore.
24	Chittagong Hill Tracts, „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The gathering of paddy crop of the plough cultivators still continues. Mustard is growing well. Cotton is sold in small quantities in the local markets.
	Hill Tipperah, „ 28 „	0·22	Weather—rather warm for the time of year. Slight rain fell on the night of the 27th November. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory.
	BEHAR.
Patna Division. 25	Patna, Dec. 1 '77	Nil	Weather—hot during the early part of the week; cold during the latter part. State and prospects of the crops are favourable, but a little rain would do good.
26	Gya, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—latterly cool and clear. The signs of coming rain have disappeared. maximum thermometer in the shade 90·8°. The unusual heat of November, with consequent absence of dews at night, has not been favourable for the rubbee. The kharreef harvest has commenced, and in places the cutting of koorthi. The Nowada and Jehanabad officers estimate the outturn of the former at 12 and 4 annas respectively. It is believed that the average of the district will not be over 8 annas. The average in Jehanabad will probably not be quite so low as 4 annas.
27	Shahabad, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—cool. Rain is urgently necessary for the rubbee, except where the Sone and artificial irrigation is available.
28	Durbhunga, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—seasonably cold. The rice harvest is commencing, but nothing definite can be said as to the extent of deficiency which is apprehended in the upland rice. The rubbee crops look well. Public health is good.
29	Mozufferpore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—cold, with west wind. There is no change in the prospects of the rice crop. The rubbee crops are doing well, except in Seetamurhee sub-division where prospects are unfavourable.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.—(Continued.)
Patna Division. 30	Saran, Dec. 1 „	Nil	Weather—fair and rather warm at the beginning of the week. There has been, however, a marked change in the last two days. Prospects of the crops continue fair. Rain during the month will do much good. Prices are stationary. Public health is good.
Patna Division. 31	Champarun, „ 3 „	Nil	The latter part of the week has been much colder. No material change is to be reported in the prospects of the crops. Rain is urgently required for the rubbee, especially in the south and south-east portions of the sudder division. No rain fell throughout November, and the fall up to date has been only half the average. There will be a very large falling off in poppy sowings in consequence of want of moisture in the southern part of the district.
Bhagulpore Divn. 32	Monghyr, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—still very hot. If there be Christmas rains, an eight-anna crop may be expected, if not, the chances will be much worse.
Bhagulpore Divn. 33	Bhagulpore, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—cold, with westerly wind and clear sky. Aghani harvest has commenced. Prospects are favourable. Cholera and fever are on the decrease.
Bhagulpore Divn. 34	Purneah, „ 1 „	Nil	West wind during the day; the weather is getting colder at night. The aghani crop will be about 12 annas. In some parts of the north of the district it is very good. It is now being cut. Mustard is coming generally into flower; its prospects are good. Transplanting and weeding of tobacco are well forward. General health is very bad; fever of a bad type is prevalent, and cholera is reported from a few villages.
Bhagulpore Divn. 35	Maldah, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—unseasonably hot till the 30th November. State and prospects of the crops are satisfactory. The health of the district is very bad. Fever prevails. Cholera is increasing; 21 deaths have been reported during the week, but from so many and such widely scattered villages that aid cannot easily be afforded.
Bhagulpore Divn. 36	Santhal Pergns., „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—dry and getting colder, with a few clouds about. Rice is excellent in the low lands of Deoghur, in the Godda Damin, and in Doomka. It is not so good in the Godda zemindaries. 13 annas all round seem the proper estimate. Rain is wanted everywhere for rubbee crops. Health is good.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 37	Cuttack, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—fine and warm for the time of year. Early sarad is being reaped and coming to market. Late sarad is ripening. Rubbee is in good condition and is flowering. Cholera is prevalent in Kendrapara sub-division and some other places.
Orissa Divn. 38	Pooree, Nov. 29 „	Nil	Weather—fair; warm for the season. The state of the crops in the Khoordah sub-division is nearly the same as reported last week. In many parts of the sub-division the sarad crop is suffering for want of rain, but other winter crops are doing well. Rice is selling cheaper, owing to the sale of Government paddy throughout the sub-division. In other parts of the district the sarad rice is in ear. The laghi has been harvested and reaped in some places. Miscellaneous crops, viz. mustard, arhur, &c., are promising well. Dalua rice is being sown, and in some places the plants are being transplanted. The state of the crops on the Chilka tracts is worse than before.
Orissa Divn. 39	Balasore, „ 30 „	Nil	Weather—warm for the season. No special change to report. The harvest has commenced. A little cattle disease is reported from the district, and a few cases of cholera, and in the north, of fever.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
	South-West Frontier Agency.
40	Hazareebagh, Nov. 30'77	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Rubbee sowings have been completed. Rain would be beneficial.
41	Lohardugga, Dec. 1 „	Nil	Weather—unusually warm for the time of year. Rain seems impending. There is nothing further to report regarding the rice crops. Harvest operations are still proceeding. Rain is required for the rubbee crops.
42	Singbhoom, Nov. 30 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. The cold-weather crops are doing well. The district is healthy.
43	Manbhoom, Dec. 1 „	Nil	Very uncertain weather; one day it is cloudy and another day it is bright and hot. The cold weather can hardly be said to have set in. Another peculiarity is that even on a cloudless night no dew falls. Nothing to report from the sudder sub-division in addition to what was said last week; but from Govindpore, the sub-divisional officer reports the outturn of dhan to be not more than eight annas, and, as regards the rubbee, he says the prospects are not favourable. Rain would be a great boon just now.

Published for general information.

CALCUTTA, STATISTICAL DEPT.,

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from observations made at 6h, 10h., 16h., and 22h.; the maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard (Newman's No. 86) formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office

The hygrometric elements are obtained from tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula

The direction and movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA,
The 3rd December 1877.

Reports of Fluctuation of Traffic on the Eastern Bengal Railway for the Month of October 1877.

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY COMPANY, TRAFFIC SUPERINTENDENT'S OFFICE.

Report on the Traffic for the four weeks ending the 27th October 1877

Dated Calcutta, the 24th November 1877.

From—WILLIAM INNES, ESQ., Deputy Traffic Superintendent,
To—The Agent, Eastern Bengal Railway, Sealdah

THE quantity of goods carried during this period amounted to 8,21,840 maunds as compared with 7,05,052 maunds carried during the same period of last year, shewing an increase of 1,16,788 maunds

This increase was chiefly composed of the following staples, viz —

Bundles and bales of cotton, grain including rice, bundles and bales of hides, jute drums, piece-goods, twist and miscellaneous goods

The staples showing the largest decreases are bales of gunny, bales of jute, railway material foreign, salt, seeds, sugar, tea, tobacco and turmeric

Increases

		Bdls.	Bales
Bundles and bales, cotton	Mds.	552	1,256

The increase of the above staple is owing to the larger import of cotton from the Eastern districts, and to the increased quantity of raw material sent to the Dunbar Cotton Mills, Shamnagar, for manufacture

Grain, including rice	Mds	1,13,476

This increase is attributable to the additional quantities brought down for export before the stoppage of export to the famine districts

		Bdls	Bales
Bundles and bales of Hides	Mds	40,814	761

This increase is owing to a greater demand in the market, which fluctuates.

Jute drums	Mds.	80,804

This small increase is, I regret to say, more than counterbalanced by the decrease in bales, which is 84,804 maunds

Piece-goods	Mds	5,858

This article again shows a very satisfactory increase

Twist	Mds.	938

This shows a smaller increase than last month which is still however satisfactory, and owing to the twist manufactured at the Shamnagar mills being brought down for export

Miscellaneous goods	Mds.	16,990

The increase in these goods still continues to be satisfactory.

Decreases.

Gunny bales	Mds	3,464

This staple, which is of the Serajganj Jute Mills manufacture for export, shows a large decrease this month partly counteracted by an increase of 1,791 maunds in the quantity of bundles of gunny carried.

Jute, bales	Mds.	84,246

This is a large decrease which, with the 80,804 maunds increase of jute drums, shows an actual decrease of 3,442 of this staple owing to the depressed state of the market.

Railway material, foreign	Mds	12,955

This decrease is owing to smaller quantities of material for the Northern Bengal State Railway having been despatched

Salt	Mds	10,925

This still shows a decrease, but the quantities lately despatched continue to improve rapidly

Sugar	Mds	9,990

This shows a large decrease owing to there being little or none in the manufacturing districts to forward

		Tobacco	Turmeric.
Tobacco and turmeric	Mds.	8,783	5,973

These staples shew still a large decrease owing to there being little demand for them in the market

I attach the usual statement showing the increases and decreases of the principal staples

EASTERN BENGAL RAILWAY.

Statement shewing Increases and Decreases in maundage of staples carried over the line for the four weeks ending the 27th October 1877, as compared with the corresponding period of 1876.

NOTIFICATION.

The 30th November 1877.—The following revised bye-laws, framed by the Municipal Commissioners of Berhampore at a meeting, under Section 313, Act V (B.C.) of 1876, having been confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor under Section 314 thereof, are hereby published for general information, in supersession of those published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 23rd May 1877 :—

I.—For Regulating the Disposal of Offensive Matter, Rubbish, and Dead Bodies of Animals,

1. Every person within whose premises any animal may die shall, within four hours after its death, or, if death occurs at night, within two hours after sunrise, either remove at his own expense the carcass to such place as may be set apart by the Commissioners for the reception of the carcasses of animals, or report its death to the conservancy overseer and in such latter case shall pay to the said overseer the expense of removing the carcass at such rate as the Commissioners may determine; and in cases where the said person is not the owner of the animal, and the owner is known, the owner shall alone be responsible for the payment of such expense, and such expense shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners. The overseer, when called upon, shall not neglect to remove a carcass.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

2. No person shall deposit, or cause to be deposited, any carcass, or any part of a carcass, in any place other than such place as may from time to time be appointed by the Commissioners for the reception of carcasses of animals.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

II.—For the Regulation and Management of Privies.

3. Any owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises from which offensive matter is not removed by the said owner or occupier, shall give free access to the servants of the Municipality to his house, land, or premises, for the removal of any night-soil or filth, within such hours as may have been fixed by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

4. All sweepers, other than the sweepers employed by the Municipal Commissioners, who are employed, or desire to be employed, for the removal of offensive matter from any house, or land, or premises shall register their names at the office of the Municipal Commissioners within 15 days after a public notification shall have been made in the manner prescribed by Section 365 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876 requiring such registration.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 2.

5. Every owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises from which offensive matter is removed by the said owner or occupier, shall register in the office of the Municipal Commissioners the names of the sweepers employed by him for the removal of such offensive matter within 15 days of the appointment by him of such sweeper, or in the case of any sweeper who shall be in his employ at the time when this bye-law shall come into force, within 15 days after a public notification shall have been made in the manner prescribed by Section 365 of Act V (B.C.) of 1876 requiring such registration.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 2; or in case of continuing recusancy after imposition of penalty, a daily fine not exceeding Re. 1.

6. Every sweeper employed by the owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises for the removal of offensive matter from such house, land, or premises, shall be subject to the orders and control of the Municipal Commissioners in respect of the removal and disposal of such offensive matter.

Provided that such owner or occupier shall be responsible jointly with the sweepers so employed by him for the due observance of the laws, bye-laws, and orders of the Municipal Commissioners, so far as regards the house, land, or premises owned or occupied by him.

7. Every person shall construct his privy above ground, and shall provide his privy or premises with a suitable moveable receptacle of earthenware.

Penalty for infringement after notice, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

8. Whenever it shall appear to the Municipal Commissioners that a privy is noxious or improperly constructed, it shall be lawful for them to issue a notice on the owner or occupier of any house, land, or premises in or on which such privy may be situated, directing him to fill up, close, or otherwise alter the construction of such privy as may seem to them proper; and if the orders contained in the notice be not carried out within 15 days, the Commissioners may fill up, close, or otherwise alter such privy in the manner directed in the notice, and any expense incurred in so doing shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

9. No owner or occupier of any premises in or on which any privy may be situated shall allow night-soil or filth of any kind to flow or be discharged from such privy into any drain, water-course, river, tank, hollow (or excavation or any place containing waste and stagnant water), or into any other receptacle but one of the nature described in bye-law 7.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

10. No person shall throw, deposit, or discharge any night-soil, sewage, or the contents of any drain, privy, or cesspool into any river, tank, khal, water-course, or receptacle for water, or dispose of the abovementioned kinds of offensive matter in any other way than as the Municipal Commissioners may from time to time direct.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

11. The Municipal Commissioners may direct the use of lime, coal-tar, carbolic acid, or other deodorant or disinfectant in any privy or on any premises if at any time it seem to them necessary for the preservation of public health or for the prevention of infection or spread of disease.

Provided that the Municipal Commissioners shall be bound to supply such deodorants or disinfectants at cost price, and the price shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners.

Penalty for not using deodorant or disinfectant so supplied, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

12. No person shall carry night-soil through the streets otherwise than in a closely covered receptacle of such description or pattern as shall be required from time to time by the Municipal Commissioners, and between such hours as the Commissioners may from time to time direct.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

III.—For Regulating Traffic in the Streets.

13. Every carriage or cart plying in the streets after one hour after sunset shall carry a light or lights, except when, in the opinion of the Magistrate, there may be sufficient moonlight to render such light or lights unnecessary.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 2.

IV.—General Bye-laws.

14. No person shall put, or cause to be put, on any house or other building any spout, or other thing intended for the conveyance and discharge of water, which shall be so placed that the water discharged therefrom shall be thrown or fall upon any public thoroughfare.

Penalty for infringement after notice, fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

15. It shall be lawful for the Municipal Commissioners to issue a notice to the owner or occupier of any house or building on which there may already be any such spout or other thing intended for the conveyance of water as is described in bye-law 14, directing him to remove or alter such spout or other thing; and if the orders contained in the notice be not carried out within 10 days, the Commissioners may remove or alter such spout or other thing in the manner directed in the notice, and any expense incurred in so doing shall be recoverable as a debt due to the Commissioners

16. No person shall construct or place over any public drain any bridge, platform, building, or structure of any kind, except by, and with the written permission of, the Municipal Commissioners, and in such manner as they shall direct; and in the case of such bridges, platforms, buildings, and structures now in existence, the Commissioners shall have power to issue a notice to the owner or occupier of any such bridges, platforms, buildings, or structures, directing such alterations as they may think proper.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10; penalty for continued infringement after notice, daily fine which may extend to Rs. 3.

17. If any house, wall, or other erection, or any part thereof, fall upon any public road or thoroughfare, or into any public drain, the owner of such house, wall, or erection, shall remove it after notice within the time prescribed by the Municipal Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement after notice, fine which may extend to Rs. 10; penalty for continued infringement after notice, daily fine which may extend to Rs. 5.

18. If it shall appear to the Municipal Commissioners at a meeting that any hollow or excavation in the lands or premises of any person within the limits of the Municipality is offensive or prejudicial to public health, they shall have power to serve a notice on the owner or occupier of such lands or premises to abate the nuisance, by filling up the hollows or excavation, or take such other course, not inconsistent with the provisions of the municipal laws, as to the Commissioners shall seem fit; and in the event of the occupier or owner of such land or premises refusing or omitting to comply with the requisition of the Commissioners within a reasonable time, to be set forth in the notice, they shall themselves carry out the work.

19. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial ground any corpse, or part of a corpse, in a grave constructed of masonry in such manner that the top of the coffin, or the body where no coffin is used, shall be at a less depth than five feet from the surface ground.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

20. No person shall bury, or cause to be buried, in any burial ground any corpse, or part of a corpse, in a grave not constructed of masonry which shall be less than six feet deep.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10

21. No person shall dig or build, or cause to be dug or built, any grave in any burial ground at a less distance than two feet from any existing grave.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs 20.

22. No grave once used shall be opened for the burial of another body without the permission of the Commissioners.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 20.

23. No one shall carry a corpse, or part of a corpse, through any public road or thoroughfare unless it be decently covered and entirely concealed from public view.

Penalty for infringement, fine which may extend to Rs. 10.

The 23rd November 1877.—The following Regulations for the Examination of Candidates for the Civil Service of India, to be held in June and July 1878, are published for general information:—

EXAMINATIONS FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

REGULATIONS FOR THE OPEN COMPETITION OF JULY 1878.

N.B.—The Regulations are liable to be altered in future years.

1. On 25th June 1878 and following days an examination of candidates will be held in London. At this examination not fewer than candidates will be selected, if so many shall be found duly qualified. Of these, will be selected for the Presidency of Bengal [for the Upper Provinces and for the Lower Provinces], for that of Madras, and for that of Bombay.* Notice will hereafter be given of the days and place of examination.

2. Any person desirous of competing at this examination must produce to the Civil Service Commissioners, before the 1st of May 1878, evidence showing—

(a)—That he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty.

(b)—That his age on the 1st of January 1878 will be above seventeen years and under nineteen years. [N.B.—In the case of Natives of India this must be certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which the candidate may have resided.]

(c)—That he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India.†

(d)—That he is of good moral character.†

He must also pay such fee as the Secretary of State for India may prescribe.‡

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be primâ facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the candidate will, upon payment of the prescribed fee, be admitted to the examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service of India, and if already selected, will be removed from the position of a probationer.

4. The examination will take place only in the following branches of knowledge:—

	Marks.
§ English Composition	300
‖ History of England, including a period selected by the candidate ...	300
‖ English Literature, including books selected by the candidate ...	300
Greek	600
Latin	800
French	500
German	500
Italian	400
§ Mathematics (pure and mixed)	1,000
¶ Natural Science: that is, the elements of any two of the following sciences, viz.— Chemistry, 500; Electricity and Magnetism, 300; Experimental Laws of Heat and Light, 300; Mechanical Philosophy, with outlines of Astronomy, 300.
Logic	300
Elements of Political Economy	300
 Sanskrit	500
 Arabic	500

Candidates are at liberty to name, before 1st May 1878, any or all of these branches of knowledge. No subjects are obligatory.

5. The merit of the persons examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each branch in the preceding regulation denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it.

6. The marks assigned to candidates in each branch will be subject to such deduction as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary, in order to secure that "a candidate be allowed no credit at all for taking up a subject in which he is a mere smatterer."

---

* The number of appointments to be made, and the number in each Presidency, &c., will be announced hereafter: it will probably be about half the usual number.

† Evidence of health and character must bear date not earlier than the 1st April 1878.

‡ The fee for this examination will be £5, payable by means of a special stamp according to instructions which will be communicated to candidates.

§ Marks assigned in English Composition and Mathematics will be subject to no deduction.

‖ A considerable portion of the marks for English History and Literature will be allotted to the work specially prepared. In awarding marks for this, regard will be had partly to the extent and importance of the periods or books selected, and partly to the thoroughness with which they have been studied.

¶ The examination will range from Arithmetic, Algebra, and Elementary Geometry up to the elements of the differential and integral calculus, including the lower portions of applied Mathematics.

 The standard of marking in Sanskrit and Arabic will be determined with reference to a high degree of proficiency, such as may be expected to be reached by a Native of good education.

7. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers and by viva voce examination, as may be deemed necessary.

8. The marks obtained by each candidate in respect of each of the subjects in which he shall have been examined will be added up, and the names of the candidates who shall have obtained a greater aggregate number of marks than any of the remaining candidates will be set forth in order of merit, and such candidates shall be deemed to be selected candidates for the Civil Service of India, provided they appear to be in other respects duly qualified. Should any of the selected candidates become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled up or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate. A selected candidate declining to accept the appointment which may be offered to him will be disqualified for any subsequent competition.

9. Selected candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for two years, during which time they will be examined periodically, with a view of testing their progress in the following subjects :—*

		Marks.
1.	Law	1,250
2.	Classical languages of India—
	Sanskrit	500
	Arabic	400
	Persian	400
3.	Vernacular languages of India (each)	400
4.	The History and Geography of India	350
5.	Political Economy	350

In these examinations, as in the open competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks, and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it at any one examination. The examination will be conducted by means of printed questions and written answers and by viva voce examination, as may be deemed necessary. The last of these examinations will be held at the close of the second year of probation, and will be called the "Final Examination," at which it will be decided whether a selected candidate is qualified for the Civil Service of India.

10. Any candidate who, at any of the periodical examinations, shall appear to have wilfully neglected his studies, or to be physically incapacitated for pursuing the prescribed course of training, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

11. The selected candidates who at the final examination shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 9, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of age, health, and character, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Civil Service of India, provided they shall comply with the regulations in force at the time for that service.

12. Applications from persons desirous to be admitted as candidates are to be addressed to the "Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London, S. W.," from whom the proper form for the purpose may be obtained.

September 1877.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

(1.) Selected candidates will be permitted to choose,† according to the order in which they stand in the list resulting from the open competition, as long as a choice remains, the Presidency (and in Bengal the Division of the Presidency) to which they shall be appointed; but this choice will be subject to a different arrangement, should the Secretary of State or Government of India deem it necessary.

(2.) The Probationers, having passed the necessary examinations, will be required to report themselves to their Government in India not later than the close of December 1881.

(3.) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the selected candidates shall be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the final examination.

(4.) An allowance of £150 a year will be given during each of the two years of their probation to all candidates who pass their probation at some University to be approved beforehand by the Secretary of State, provided such candidates shall have passed the required examinations to the satisfaction of the Civil Service Commissioners, and shall have complied with such rules as may be laid down for the guidance of selected candidates.

(5.) All selected candidates will be required, after having passed the second periodical examination, to attend at the India Office for the purpose of entering into an agreement binding themselves, amongst other things, to refund in certain cases the amount of their allowance in the event of their failing to proceed to India. A surety will be required.

(6.) After passing the final examination, each candidate will be required to attend again at the India Office, with the view of entering into covenants. The stamps payable on these documents amount to £1.

* Full instructions as to the course of study to be pursued will be issued to the successful candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

† The choice must be exercised immediately after the result of the open competition is announced, on such day as may be fixed by the Civil Service Commissioners.

EVIDENCE OF AGE TO BE REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES FOR THE CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

I.—Every Candidate born in England or Wales should produce a certificate from the Registrar-General of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, or from one of his provincial officers. This certificate may be obtained at Somerset House or from the Superintendent Registrar of the district in which the birth took place.

II.—A candidate who is a native of India must have his age certified by the Government of India, or of the Presidency or Province in which he may have resided.

III.—Every other candidate not producing the certificate mentioned in Clause 1, must prove his age by statutory declaration, and should also, if possible, produce a record of birth or baptism from some official register; under which term may be included the Parochial Registers of Baptisms, the non-Parochial Registers of Baptisms and Births deposited at Somerset House under Acts of Parliament, the Register kept at the India Office of persons born in India, &c., &c. This Regulation applies—

1. To all candidates not born in England or Wales.
2. To candidates who, though born in England or Wales, cannot produce the Registrar-General's certificate.

The Civil Service Commissioners reserve to themselves the right of deciding in each case upon the sufficiency of the evidence produced, but they subjoin the following general rules for the guidance of candidates:—

(a) The declaration should specify precisely the date and place of birth, and should, if possible, be made by the father or mother of the candidate. If made by any other person, it should state the circumstances which enabled the declarant to speak to the fact. If an entry in a Bible or other family record be referred to, the Bible or other record must be produced at the time of making the declaration, and must be mentioned in the declaration as having been so produced.

(b) If the candidate was born in England or Wales, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due inquiry, no entry has been found in the books of the Registrar-General; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.

(c) If no extract from any register is produced, the declaration must contain a statement that, after due inquiry, no such record is believed to exist; or a separate declaration must be made to that effect.

(d) Statutory declarations must be exactly in the form prescribed by the Act of 5 and 6 William IV, c. 62. A printed form, if required, will be supplied on application to the Civil Service Commissioners.

N. B.—Clergymen, as such, are not qualified to take declarations.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The Opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The Opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by Clause 12 of these Conditions of Sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room, and before the lot is registered in the sale book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal Receipts, or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 4 o'clock in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale: or on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts, or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the last-mentioned condition, if remaining unredeemed at 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

7.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of Opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before 4 o'clock of the fifth day following the day of sale, will be afterwards accepted.

8.—The Opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 4 o'clock of the fifteenth day from the day of sale; and in case any lots of such Opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the 5th Condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the Opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit, and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the Opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale.

9.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of Opium after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

10.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present Conditions will be received in this Office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

11.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall, on demand, tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these Conditions.

12.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings, designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained, and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 600 specified in the second of these Conditions.

13.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same agency Opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the Opium to complete the said twenty-five.

14.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the Opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

15.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1 certificate of the Opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such Opium.

16.—The public are hereby informed that, in providing the investment of the Behar and Benares Opium for the year 1876-77, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of Opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at Behar and Benares, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken for the purpose of comparison from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

17.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the Opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of Opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the Opium for shipment.

18.—It is hereby further notified that under the 6th Article of the Convention between Great Britain and France, dated the 7th March 1815, quoted below, the agents in India of the French Government, or persons duly appointed by them, are entitled to demand that out of the quantities of Behar and Benares Opium declared as above for sale at the twelve sales of the year 1878, there shall be delivered to them, at the average of the particular sale or sales to which the Opium so applied for may belong, a quantity not exceeding in the aggregate 300 chests, and the Agents of the French Government must make requisition specifying the quantity of Opium required by them at any particular sale, within thirty days from the advertisement of such intended sale, provided however that the Agents of the French Government may make such requisition for the whole quantity within thirty days from the publication of this notification. If the Agent of the French Government shall not make the requisition for Opium within the time above mentioned, the entire quantity of about 54,000 chests of Behar and Benares, as above estimated, will be brought to sale in the usual manner; and if they shall make application for a quantity of Opium to be delivered to them out of the quantity advertised for sale at each or any of the twelve sales above mentioned, but shall not pay for it within the prescribed period of payment, the Government of Bengal reserves to itself the right of disposing of the Opium which the French Authorities may so fail to pay for, either by increasing the quantity reserved at the sale next ensuing after the date fixed for payment, or by selling such Opium, or any portion of it at any subsequent monthly sale in addition to the quantity which in this advertisement is approximately mentioned as the quantity to be sold at such sale; or by selling such Opium at a sale to be held expressly for the purpose.

Article of the Convention above referred to.

Article VI.—"With regard to the trade in Opium, it is agreed between the high contracting parties that at each of the periodical sales of that article there shall be reserved for "the French Government, and delivered upon requisition duly made by the Agents of His "Most Christian Majesty, or by the persons duly appointed by them, the number of chests "so applied for, provided that such supply shall not exceed three hundred chests in each year, "and the price for the same shall be determined by the average rate at which Opium shall "have been sold at every such periodical sale, it being understood that if the quantity of "Opium applied for at any one time shall not be taken on account of the French Government "by the Agents of His Most Christian Majesty within the usual period of delivery, the quantity so applied for shall nevertheless be considered as so much in reduction of the three "hundred chests hereinbefore mentioned. The requisitions for Opium, as aforesaid, are to "be addressed to the Governor-General at Calcutta within thirty days after notice of the "intended sales shall have been published in the Government Gazette."

NUDDEA COLLECTORATE, the 26th October 1877. C. C. STEVENS, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale, to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of Cuttack, will be put up to sale at the Cuttack Collectorate on the 14th December 1877, corresponding with the 1st Pous 1285 Umli.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

(1.) The purchaser of each estate will be considered as the proprietor of that estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, the only right reserved by Government being the right of revising the jumma at the conclusion of the term of the present settlement and on the expiration of all future settlements. If on resettlement he should refuse to engage, he will be entitled to malikana. The estate will be sold, subject up to the year 1897 A.D. to the Government revenue against it, to the highest bidder above the upset price.

(2.) The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

(3.) If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

(4.) If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled, the sum deposited being forfeited to Government, and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.
